Wage Formula Takes Effect; Price Freeze Eased

RED DEFENSES CRUMBLE

Liberalizing Amendments Recommended

Johnston Orders 10% Lid On Boosts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston tonight ordered the 10 per cent "catch up" wage formula into effect at once and asked the Wage Stabilization Board to approve promptly seven amendments further liberalizing the wage ceiling.

Johnston told a news conference he "hoped" his action would bring the board's three labor members, who have walked out, back to the board, but AFL President William Green already had discounted the possibility.

The formula, designed to replace the present wage freeze, provides that pay increases shall be limited to 10 per cent above the levels of Jan. 15, 1950.

It was approved by public and industry members of the wage board.

Johnston said he believed the formula and the changes suggested provide "a fair and equitable solution" of the wage problem during mobilization.

Amendments Proposed

The chief amendments proposed provide that wage "escalator clauses" — both cost-of-living increases and so-called productivity pay boosts— be recognized if contracts providing for them were signed on or before Jan. 25 of this year.

Johnston also recommended that the value of welfare and pension plans be exempted from the 10 per cent ceiling, and that the board consider whether other "fringe" benefits be similarly eliminated.

He announced that WSB Chairman Cyrus S. Ching has called the wage board together tomorrow.

Johnston said he expected the board to take action immediately at least on the escalator clauses. Several hundred thousand auto workers are entitled to increases March 1 under cost-of-living sliding-scale contracts, and walkouts have been feared if the pay checks are not fattened.

"No Deals" Made

But Johnston emphasized that he has "made no deals with anyone—either labor, industry or public members—as to what their course of action should be."

He said he hoped the board would always operate as a three-part body, with equal representation from labor, industry and the public.

The three labor members of the nine-man board resigned Feb. 15 in protest against the wage formula. They sent resignations to President Truman, who has not accepted them. The formula against which they dissented—but which now becomes law—permits any worker who has not received a pay increase totaling 10 per cent since Jan. 15, 1950, to bargain for a pay boost bringing him up to that limit.

Auriol Retains Pleven Cabinet

PARIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Premier Rene Pleven's three-party government offered to resign tonight because it won by only a narrow margin a vote of confidence on the French election law issue, but President Vincent Auriol refused to let it step out of office.

The National Assembly voted 243 to 216 to consider the Pleven Cabinet's plan for revision of the French electoral system, a question on which Pleven had decided his government would stand or fall.

An outright majority of the Assembly is 311, but the government's 243 was legally enough to permit it to remain in office.

Nevertheless, Pleven's cabinet decided at a special meeting he called immediately that it would resign. The Premier then called upon the President with the offer to step out.

Auriol urged Pleven to continue his government's efforts to revise the election laws and the Assembly was reconvened to begin consideration of the government plan.

No Lives Lost As Plane Crashes And Burns

This is the still flaming wreckage of a Mid-Continent Airlines plane which crashed at Tulsa, Okla., yesterday with 33 persons aboard but with no loss of life. Only three persons were injured, two severely enough to be hospitalized. The two-engined craft, en route from Minneapolis to Houston, had just taken off, witnesses said, when an engine failed. The ship fell from low height and caught fire. Passengers and crew left calmly through a rear door.

History Of Mink Coat Is Traced By RFC Probers

Paid For By Lawyer Representing Furrier

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Senators traced the history of a $9,540 mink coat today in their investigation of alleged political influence in RFC lending. They discovered:

1—The coat belongs to Mrs. E. Merl Young, a White House stenographer.

2—It came from the stock of Gunther-Jaeckel, a New York firm of furriers which applied for a $175,000 RFC loan but didn't get it.

3—It was paid for initially by Joseph H. Rosenbaum, a Washington lawyer who represented the furriers when they obtained tentative approval of their loan application April 3, 1950.

This set of circumstances, related in testimony before the Senate Banking Subcommittee, caused Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) to state that the transaction appeared to be "part of a widespread pattern of activities" linking the names of Rosenbaum and Mrs. Young's husband around the fringes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Both men have been mentioned frequently in the inquiry as wielders of influence in negotiations for big government loans.

Testifying alternately today, they described how Rosenbaum had done Young a whole series of handsome favors in other financial deals.

Asking what he called "brutal questions," Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) inquired of Rosenbaum whether he expected Young to steer clients to the Rosenbaum firm and then use his political influence in their behalf.

The lawyer said nothing like that was involved.

Fulbright suggested it would be "highly immoral" if Young didn't do something to recompense Rosenbaum.

And Douglas, toting up figures mentioned in the testimony, said it appeared that Young had increased his liabilities by around $80,000 in the last year, not counting the mortgage of his home.

Young assured him they all are "well secured."

Originally Young swore that he bought his wife's coat—a natural royal pastel mink—himself because he felt he could afford it. He acknowledged today, however, that he borrowed the money from Rosenbaum.

Truman ,Marshall Appeal To Nation To Back Red Cross

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) —President Truman and Defense Secretary George C. Marshall appealed to the nation tonight for funds to put the Red Cross on a wartime footing.

"The American Red Cross has to be prepared to meet any eventuality in the event of armed attack on this country," the President said.

And Secretary Marshall, asserting that the Red Cross seldom if ever faced a greater test than today, declared:

"America will be a better America, a stronger America—if it rallies to the support of the Red Cross in this critical hour."

They spoke on a radio and television program, broadcast by all four networks, opening the Red Cross 1951 campaign for funds.

Amendment May Influence Truman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The new constitutional amendment may be a stumbling block for President Truman if he decides to try for another term in the White House.

Mr. Truman himself says: "It doesn't affect me."

But there is a strong feeling in both political parties here that the President is wrong—and that the new law could have a powerful influence on the next presidential election. And one senator suggested that perhaps it might influence Mr. Truman to try for his old Senate seat rather than the presidency.

Legally, Mr. Truman is free to enter the presidential race again if he chooses. The 22nd Amendment—now ratified by the necessary 36 states—exempts him while providing that no other president in the future can be elected for more than two terms.

But GOP lawmakers raise the point that Mr. Truman should be bound by the spirit of the amendment. They say ratification by 36 states is a clear signal the voters don't want their presidents to hold office for more than two terms.

Some Democrats privately agree with the Republican viewpoint. Others contend the voters would back Mr. Truman on the basis of his domestic and foreign policies just as they did President Roosevelt in his third and fourth terms.

Vandenberg Suffers Setback In Illness

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 27 (AP) — Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) has suffered a setback in his convalescence from a long illness that will delay his plans to return to Washington.

Vandenberg's personal physician and longtime friend, Dr. A. B. Smith, said today, "the Senator's condition is not as favorable as it has been because of unforeseen developments in the past two or three days."

Vandenberg has been resting at his home since his release from Butterworth Hospital here Jan. 10. He had undergone tests in connection with complications after a lung operation in the fall of 1949.

Roof Falls, Killing 11

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 27 (AP)—The roof of an old church at Sandota collapsed yesterday, killing 11 school girls and injuring 11 others.

Hoover Warns U. S. Risks Land War If It Sends GIs To Europe

Ex-President Insists Air-Sea Power Only Hope For Europe's Defense Now

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Former President Hoover said today the plan to send four American divisions to Europe "will most likely lead" to a land war with "utmost jeopardy" to the United States.

Hoover insisted that air and sea power is the only hope for Europe's defense this time; that Russia could pound across the continent to the English Channel in 20 days.

Testifying in the Senate hearing on the hotly-debated issue of sending American foot soldiers to join a North Atlantic Treaty force to guard against Russian attack, the former President said it might take 125 divisions to defend Western Europe on the ground.

"You Can't Do Everything"

Agreeing that it would be "pretty hard on the United States" if Russia overran Europe, Hoover counseled:

"But you can't do everything. You have got to decide what you can do. x x x I can see no hope of an adequate stopping of Russia by land armies at the present moment."

He pleaded this course:

"There is only one real salvation for Europe at the present moment. That is to build up the air and naval power of the United States and Britain so as to overwhelm Russia in case of attack."

Hoover agreed when it was suggested the U. S. has an obligation to Western Europe, but he denied contentions that this country needs Europe in order to survive. "This country can be protected," he said.

Wherry Urges Air Power

Shortly before Hoover appeared, Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, testified that air power, rather than land troops, was Europe's best defense and deterrent to war.

With the Republican Party's big guns split wide open over the troops issue, Wherry bitterly assailed the stand taken by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Both Dewey and Stassen have urged defeat of a resolution by Wherry. The gist of this is that, until Congress sets a policy, the administration should not go through with its plan to send four divisions to join two others on the continent under command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who heads the Allied defense force.

Marshall Urges 18-Year Draft

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (INS) — Defense Secretary Marshall hinted tonight that the armed forces may have to be raised to four million men and charged that failure to draft 18-year-olds would block attainment of this goal.

At the same time, Sen. Morse (R) Ore., accused the military of "wasting manpower" and said he will seek an armed forces ceiling of three million, 100 thousand men. Congress removed ceilings on the size of the armed forces last summer.

An armed forces of four million men would be 538,000 above the 3,462,000 which the Defense Department currently plans to build up to by next July 1 or earlier.

Marshall and Gen. Omar N. Bradley declared in letters to the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee that they oppose the move to set the draft limit at 18 and one-half years instead of 18.

The Defense Secretary said "we would be 245,000 below the minimum (draft) pool ....if the military establishment has to go to four million men."

Auto Inspection Measure Passed By Maryland House Of Delegates

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — All Maryland motorists would have to take their cars to garages and have them inspected at least twice a year, under a bill passed today by the House of Delegates.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

It would take the place of a dead-letter automobile inspection law that has not been invoked since Pearl Harbor.

There was no discussion preceding the 96-18 house vote.

Under the proposal:

1—Each owner of a motor vehicle would have to have it looked over at a private garage designated as an official inspection station every spring and fall.

2—If mechanical defects that would make the vehicle unsafe to operate were discovered. they would have to be corrected before the car could be driven again.

3—After the inspection, a sticker costing a dime would be fixed to the windshield.

4—The motorist would have to pay 50 cents for the inspection, itself.

The half - dollar would go to the inspection station and the dime to a fund for the promotion of highway safety.

The House also approved and sent along to the Senate legislation to make a basic change in the method of preparing the annual state budget.

As it stands now the monies that the various departments collect for their own use (such as student fees at the University of Maryland) appear only as flat figures in the appropriations bill.

The legislature cannot touch these special funds.

The bill passed by the House today provided that any department having left-over special funds at the end of a fiscal year cannot spend them (as is done in some cases under the present setup) but must hold them until the next Legislature approves their expenditure.

Allied Troops Seize 8 Miles Of Vital Road

ROK Marines Stage Raid On West Coast

TOKYO, Wednesday, Feb. 28 (AP)—U. S. Seventh and Second Division infantrymen today probed deeper into Central Korea's soggy mountains after taking eight miles of a vital east-west highway.

The main objective was to find and kill Reds withdrawing after their east flank defenses were crushed Tuesday. A secondary objective was to win control of the road which bisects the peninsula from Kangnung on the east to Seoul on the west.

On the long-quiet western front, an Allied patrol Tuesday night crossed the Han River and fought its way into the suburbs of Red-held Seoul. It later withdrew.

South Korean sources today disclosed a commando-type raid Sunday by the Republic's marines on the west coast within five miles of the 38th parallel.

The marines stormed ashore from naval vessels near Ongjin, 90 miles west and slightly north of Seoul. It is on a peninsula which juts down from North Korea.

Korean sources at Pusan said the raiders killed a Communist brigade commander and 20 other Red officers. They also captured enemy equipment and documents before returning to their ships.

The main weight of a 100,000-man Allied drive, aimed at shoving more than 110,000 Chinese and North Koreans out of South Korea, pressed on the central front.

Seventh Division tanks and troops Tuesday crumpled North Korean defenses north of Pangnim and sent the Reds fleeing into wild, uncharted mountains.

It was west of Pangnim that the troops seized eight miles of the vital east-west highway. It winds west for 28 miles from Pangnim to the highway hub of Hoengsong.

U. S. Seventh and Second Division soldiers seized dominating hills north of the highway. Men of the Second won hill No. 825, after beating of five North Korean counter-attacks in three hours.

The U. S. First Marine Division, holding high ground around war-wrecked Hoengsong, said Chinese north of the highway junction appeared to be withdrawing north.

Marine patrols patroled the area without contacting the enemy. Hoengsong itself was a "no man's land."

La Prensa Employes Battle Way To Work; Publication Held Up

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 27 (AP) — A police judge's order tonight held up publication of the newspaper La Prensa after loyal employes had fought their way back to work at the cost of one dead and 15 injured.

Police Judge Roberto Durrieu ordered the 400 workers who had managed to enter the La Prensa plant this afternoon after street battles with gangs of gunmen and sluggers to go to a nearby police station. It was said they were summoned for investigation into the death of the one victim.

They were escorted out of the plant by police in groups of 50.

La Prensa, a frequent critic of President Juan D. Peron's government, has been closed down for 33 days because of a boycott by the pro-government news venders' union, supported by a sympathy strike of the pro-government printers' union.

EPU Imports Cut Off By West Germany

BONN, Germany, Feb. 27 (AP) — West Germany, her European Payments Union credits nearly exhausted, today suspended nearly all imports from participants in the union until possible stricter import regulations are drawn up.

Economic experts here unofficially described the announcement as a virtual "declaration of German bankruptcy" and predicted early repercussions throughout the German foreign trade structure.

With imports thus held to a comparative trickle, experts will survey the position to see what can be slashed from import schedules to save critically low foreign exchange.

Reds Reportedly Plan To Open Big Push Within Month

TOKYO, Wednesday, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Chinese and North Korean Reds are planning to launch an offensive within a month with 300,000 troops, a highly-reliable source said today.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported yesterday from the field, however, that the Chinese Reds appered to have postponed the drive, probably because of heavy losses.

The source said the Reds are believed to have 33 divisions now moving into attack positions in Central and Western Korea.

Ths huge force probably will be reinforced by elements of the Third Chinese Field Army from Northeastern Korea.

Printer Tells Election Probe Of Ride, Threats

Baltimorean Accuses Agent For McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — A Baltimore printer, testifying in the Senate investigation of the 1950 Maryland election, said today he was "taken for a ride" by three men who "threatened to put me through a McCarthy investigation."

He identified one of them as Don Surine, who is an investigator for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and the other as Ewell Moore and George Nilles.

William H. Fedder, the printer, said for hours the men tried to recover from him a letter he said he received from Sen. Butler (R-Md) guaranteeing payment of about $12,000.

Fedder said the money was owed him by Butler headquarters for printing bills and distributing about 500,000 copies of a tabloid, "From The Record." This attacked Millard Tydings, then U. S. Senator and Butler's opponent. Butler defeated Tydings, long-time Democrat, in the election.

Tydings has said the law prohibits sensatorial candidates from contributing more than $2,500 of their personal funds. The letter, he said, verified a "breach of the law" and "was to be recaptured at all hazards." Butler replied that Tydings was resorting to "reckless and unjustified attacks on me."

Tydings has charged that the tabloid was printed at the Washington Times-Herald and that its attack upon his record was a "tissue of lies." He has suggested that if his charges prove to be true that those responsible be prosecuted.

Fedder said the ride, lasting several hours until 6 a. m., Nov. 6, the day before election, was an attempt to recover the letter he said Butler had written guaranteeing the campaign expenses. Fedder said he never gave up the letter but did sign a statement written by Surine which said all bills were paid, although he said thousands of dollars were due him.

The Baltimore printer testified he later was refused payment by Cornelius P. Mundy, Butler headquarters treasurer, when he presented a bill. But he said he finally was paid in full on Dec. 26, after he told his story to Tydings.

Man Kills Cousin On Rockville Street

ROCKVILLE, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — Cas W. Overby, 30, was shot and killed late today on a busy street here and police said his cousin, Louis D. Fultz, 33, had admitted the shooting and would be charged with murder.

County Police Chief Charles M. Orme said Fultz, father of seven children, admitted killing Overby "for fooling around with my wife." Orme said Fultz was captured at the scene of the slaying.

'Margin-Type' Order Affects 200,000 Items

Clothing, Furniture Covered By Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The government today unfroze the retail prices of clothing, furniture, rugs, lamps, drygoods and household textiles, and clamped a new freeze on the retailer's "margin" between what he pays and what he receives.

Many price increases are due to result, as retailers pass to their customers price rises already made by wholesalers.

Officials also say they expect some price cuts. Price Director Michael V. DiSalle told reporters, "My guess is that the rollbacks will be greater than the roll-forwards"—but he admitted that this view is not shared by all his aides.

233,000 Companies Affected

DiSalle's Office of Price Stabilization, in 34,000 carefully chosen words, issued the first of a series of "margin-type" orders designed to put price controls on a "fairer and more workable" basis than could be expected from the freeze of Jan. 25.

The action affects about 233,000 retail companies. It covers an estimated 200,000 different items of merchandise.

These retailers must get on the new basis no later than March 29. They must mark their goods with selling prices by July 1.

DiSalle announced: "The basic objective of this regulation is to establish typical pre-Korean mark-up practices at retail."

But the percentage of margins, or mark-ups, was not rolled back to a pre-Korean date.

Priority System For Repairs

This was the second major move taken today on the controls front. In the other, the National Production Authority set up a system under which businessmen, farmers, public and private institutions and others can use a priority rating to get limited supplies of scarce goods for maintenance, repair and operations. The order does not apply to materials going into end products.

This is what this second order means:

The shoe repair shop on the corner, the filling station next door, the saloon down the block (if it's a legal one), the farmer or any business enterprise may all use a priority rating to obtain supplies to keep themselves in good repair and operating.

So also may any agency of the federal, state or local government, or any public or private institution. This includes schools, libraries, hospitals, churches, clubs and welfare establishments.

Collazo Identified By Man He Shot

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — White House Officer Donald Birdzell, cane in hand, limped across the courtroom today and identified Oscar Collazo as the man who shot him down during an attempt to assassinate President Truman.

Collazo, charged with murder in the death of another White House guard, showed no emotion when Birdzell, asked if he recognized the man who shot him without warning, replied:

"He's sitting right there behind the defense attorney."

Nor did he appear to notice when Birdzell, limping from wounds in both knees, came across and laid his hand on Collazo's shoulder, so there would be no mistake in identifying the man he said shot him.

The government, as expected, demanded that Collazo, 37-year-old member of the Puerto Rican Nationalist Party, die in the electric chair for the death of White House Guard Leslie Coffelt.

37 Prisoners, Protesting "Brutality," Slash Heels

ANGOLA, La., Feb. 27 (AP) — Heel-cutting by prisoners protesting "brutality" spread at Louisiana's state penitentiary here today.

The prison doctor reported six more convicts slashed their heel tendons last night and this morning bringing the total self-inflicted injury cases to 37.

The prisoners have temporarily crippled themselves by slicing tendon with razor blades thereby losing control of foot extension and flexibility.

Dr. I. F. Littell, prison physician, said the six new cases told him the "same tale" as the original 31 who told reporters Sunday they were "fed up with brutality and beatings."

Prison officials and Gov. Earl K. Long have denied the alleged brutality. "Nothing to it," Gov. Long said.

The heel cutting is not expected to have any permanent effect on the victims, the prison physician said. Doctor Littell said the tendons were brought together with sutures and the wounds sewed up. A half cast encased the victim's lower leg to keep the injured foot extended.

Truman Urges Legislators Wipe Out Penny Post Card

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — President Truman today strongly urged Congress to wipe out the penny postal card, an American institution for 79 years.

The President said citizens should pay two cents each to mail the four billion cards that pour through the post office every year.

This was one of five major steps to hike postal rates recommended by Mr. Truman in a special message to the lawmakers. Altogether, his proposals would boost postal fees by $287,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning in July.

The other four steps urged in the message:

1. At least doubling rates on second-class mail (newspapers and magazines.)
2. Raising the postage on third-class mail (mostly circulars and advertising matter) from one cent to two cents.
3. An additional $105,000,000 annually from parcel post, under a new rate schedule now being considered by the Interstate Commerce Commission.
4. An increase of $29,000,000 for such services as special delivery, registered mail, postal insurance, C.O.D. mail, etc.

Washington Countians Try To Stir Interest In Planned Harpers Ferry Monument

By HARRY WARNER, Jr.

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Washington County residents are trying to whip up state-wide interest in the proposed Harpers Ferry national monument.

State Sen. D. Kenneth McLaughlin has introduced a bill in the General Assembly to authorize the Board of Public Works to acquire Maryland property near Harpers Ferry for the national monument.

This would amount to 705 acres, says Mrs. Frank W. Mish, Jr., the Washington County Historical Society's representative on a citizen's committee for the project. It would cost about $40,000.

West Virginia's Legislature already is considering a bill covering almost as much land in that state. However, the estimated cost of the West Virginia portion is $350,000.

Mrs. Mish explains that Maryland's contribution would be much cheaper, because the monument area in Washington county would cover marginal land, only a small amount of which is used for farming now. The West Virginia share includes a housing development and commercial properties.

The Harpers Ferry national monument idea has been suffering from a couple of general misapprehensions.

It has no direct connection with the proposed parkway along the route of the old C. & O. Canal. The parkway would extend from Washington to Cumberland.

The national monument would cover only land around Harpers Ferry, where history has been made ever since 1725. Many Civil War roads and breastworks are still in existence.

The second difficulty concerns its name. Henry T. McDonald, chairman of the monument committee, explains that no monument will be erected. The title was chosen because "monument" is a technical term of the National Park Service, referring to an area notable for scenic and geological formations plus historic interest.

The National Park Service has already promised to take over the land, if Maryland and West Virginia purchase it, and develop it immediately.

McDonald estimates that 40,000,000 people could reach the site by 24 hours or less of driving. Mrs. Mish points out that it would tie in later with a proposed new scenic-historic road that would run from Gettysburg through Antietam and Harpers Ferry, connecting with the Skyline Drive.

Harpers Ferry residents themselves favor the idea, because their town has declined sadly since the Civil War, owing to loss of industry and change in travel routes. They figure that increased tourist trade would help the town where John Brown began his famous effort to free the slaves.

More than 13 million telephone calls are made in New York City every day.

If there is one thing the Russians have learned to admire in us it is our tremendous production capacity.

If the government can force employers to collect taxes . . . it won't be long until everybody in the country is an unpaid tax collector.

FBI Chief Calls On All Americans To Mount Guard

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover called on all Americans today to mount guard on the nation's internal security, but warned against "witch hunts."

He said the country's enemies are stirring and every loyal citizen has a share of responsibility in protecting the United States against spying and sabotage.

Hoover issued his call in a statement on national security prepared for the Associated Press at its request.

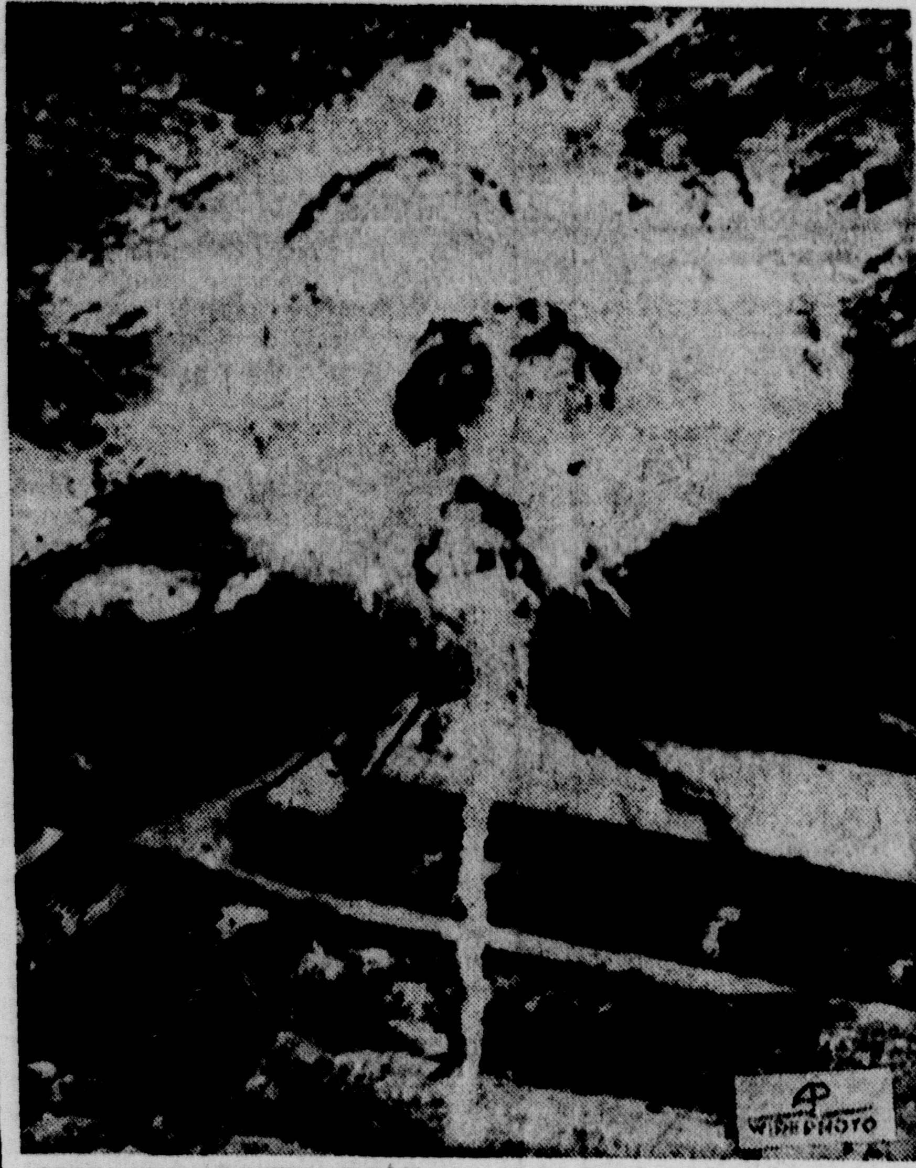
"As our mobilization program becomes a reality, we must expect that those who would like to weaken America will move into action," he said. "The Communist Party has become more and more an underground organization."

The head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said the public should be alert to report directly to the FBI all information relating to:

1. Allegations of espionage, sabotage or subversive activities.
2. Foreign submarine landings.
3. Suspicious parachute landings.
4. Possession and distribution of foreign inspired propaganda.
5. Theft or unauthorized possession or purchase of large quantities of firearms, ammunition or explosives, or short-wave transmitters and receivers.
6. Poisoning of public water supplies.
7. Chartering of airplanes for flights over restricted areas.
8. Fires and explosions of an unusual nature affecting any phase of the defense program.
9. Suspicious individuals loitering near restricted areas.
10. Possession of radioactive materials.

59 On New Casualty List

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Defense Department today added 59 identified casualties to the Korean war list. Casualty report No. 237 named 34 killed and dead of wounds, 23 wounded, one dead from injuries received in an accident and one injured.



OBJECTIVE—DESTRUCTION—A napalm bomb bursts and spreads over an enemy supply building somewhere in Korea. Bomb delivery was made with the compliments of the crew of a B-26 of the U. S. Far East Air Forces.

Warren Would Send GIs Wherever Needed

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 27 (AP) — Gov Earl Warren entered the Great Debate today — on the side of sending American troops wherever they are needed to roll back aggression.

The 1948 Republican vice presidential candidate, at a press conference, placed himself directly opposite Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and former President Hoover.

He outlined his position this way: Congress should determine the broad objectives and the overall issue.

The actual disposition of troops — how many and where they go — should be left to our military leaders.

Philadelphia Area Joneses Celebrate

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27 (AP) — Jones is the name, sir.

Nearly 1,000 Joneses crowded into the Lit Brothers department store restaurant today to celebrate "Jones Day."

There were little Joneses and big ones, fat ones and skinny ones, Joneses with blonde hair and Joneses without any hair at all. And there were wounded soldiers and sailors, patients at the Army and Navy hospitals in the area—all named Jones.

The celebration ended with a party for the Army and Navy veterans.

Sub For Veteran Bonus Offered

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Several potential legislative hot potatoes came in with a batch of new measures introduced in the General Assembly today.

Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) sponsored a proposal to lift the real estate tax from the first $5,000 of a war veteran's property for the next ten years.

He offered it as a substitute for a pending measure to allow the electorate to decide whether Maryland veterans of the world wars should be given bonuses ranging from $10 to $500, depending on type and length of service.

Phipps has held that tax relief would provide "more benefit than money" from a bonus.

Consolidation of the tax administration of Maryland into a single agency—a "Department of Revenue"—is proposed in new Senate bill based on recommendations of the State Tax Survey Commission.

It would abolish the State Tax Commission and set up a tax court to review protests now heard by the commission. The proposed department of Revenue would take over most of the functions of the comptroller's office.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Wednesday, Feb. 28 (AP)—The U. S. liner America sailed for New York early today after an eight-day delay for engine repairs.

169,544 Czech Reds "Purged"

PRAGUE, Czechslovakia, Feb. 27 (AP) — The Czechslovak Communist Party punctuated its charges of Titoism against Dr. Vlado Clementis and four other former party leaders today with the disclosure that 169,544 party members have been ousted since Sept. 1 in a continuing purge.

The membership of 2,025,318 has been cut 8.4 per cent in this biggest housecleaning since the Communists won power in Czechoslovakia three years ago. Examinations of 52,466 members and candidates are still in progress.

The details were disclosed with publication of a report that Deputy Secretary-General Josef Frank gave the Communist Party Central Committee here last Thursday. Frank said the test had resulted in the exposure of Mrs. Marie Svermova and Otto Sling—two who are held with Clementis—and other "agents of the class enemy."

As a result of it also, he said, thousands of Communist officials in district and regional secretariats were shifted around or fired because they had not done their jobs right.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Feb. 27 (AP)—Dr. Henry Louis Smith, pioneer in psychological warfare and the use of the X-ray, died at his home here today. He was 91.

Butler Lists $27,100 More In Contributions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — A supplemental report, listing an additional $27,100 in campaign contributions and a half dozen expense items, was filed with the Senate today by Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md).

In two previous reports, Butler had listed contributions of $55,813 and expenditures of $63,402.

The law requires candidates for the Senate to report campaign donations and certain types of expenditures.

Truck Weight Limit Reduction Advocated

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — The Maryland Truck Weight Commission says the state's highways can't carry heavy trucks and it wants the legal weight limit reduced.

In a report to the General Assembly today, the commission said that back in 1941 the law should not have been eased, boosting the axle load limit from 18,000 to 22,500 pounds.

Scandal In Sports

The New York state law on bribing athletes dates from 1921 and was prompted by the "Black Sox" 1919 World Series scandal uncovered in September, 1920. Some Chicago American players confessed to taking bribes to "throw" the series to Cincinnati. They, some of their teammates, and certain gamblers were indicted in Illinois for conspiracy, but a jury rendered a verdict of acquittal in 1921.

The New York law of 1921 applied at first only to professional sports—baseball, hockey, boxing, horse racing. It was extended to amateur sports in 1945, as a result of the Brooklyn College basketball scandal of that year. Five of the players confessed to accepting bribes from gamblers, but suffered no penalty except expulsion from the college (one was not even enrolled as a student). One of the bribe-givers was sentenced to jail for a year, another for a slightly longer term.

After the 1919 World Series scandal, professional baseball appointed a "czar" in the person of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. He himself created something of a scandal by holding on to his federal judgeship for a period after taking the baseball job. Professional football has a "commissioner," as has the Middle West football conference, operating under a faculties committee.

Horse racing has no "czar" although each track is supposed to follow every other on barring or suspending jockeys, owners, and trainers. Discussion of a "czar" for racing has been stimulated by current disclosures before the Kefauver (D., Tenn.) special Senate committee on interstate ramifications of crime.

The former general manager of the Bowie, Md., race track testified that he had allowed his office, in fact his own telephone, to be used for placing "come-back" money. This is money bet just before a race by a book-makers' agent on a certain horse so as to minimize loss to the "bookies" if that particular horse should win. The witness insisted that most tracks afford special facilities for "come-back" betting.

The former Bowie manager defended his practice also by pointing out that it increased state revenues. All states with racing take a percentage of betting at the tracks. New York state receives annually about $20,000,000 as its share of race-track bets, New York City approximately $11,500,000, Saratoga County almost $1,000,000, Nassau County almost $3,000,000.

In January, 1950, Mayor O'Dwyer of New York proposed that New York state legalize betting on horses off the tracks and on basketball, hockey, football, other sports. He argued that legalization would take gambling away from racketeers. Gov. Dewey called the proposal "shocking, indecent, immoral."

Just as it is difficult to enforce laws against betting on races outside of tracks while states sanction betting at the tracks and get revenue therefrom, it may be more difficult to keep college athletics "pure" while colleges derive a profit from them. City College of New York reports that it gained enough from Madison Square Garden basketball last year to pay not only for expenses but also for some expense of football and other sports. Ohio State took in $1,112,000 from its five home football games last year.

Cynicism toward honesty in college athletics is inevitable also when the colleges themselves frankly subsidize players classified as "amateurs." More than 40 years ago Woodrow Wilson of Princeton University commented: "The side shows are detracting from the main tent."

Assassination Attempts

Ten women and two men compose the jury that is hearing the murder trial of Oscar Collazo, Puerto Rican Nationalist, in the District of Columbia this week.

The murder was that of Leslie Coffelt, White House policeman on duty when Collazo and his associate, Griselio Torresola, rushed the Blair House last November 1 in an attempt to assassinate President Truman. Torresola was killed outright.

Collazo declared that he and his associate were not Communists, but simply wanted to avenge the President's "enslavement" of Puerto Rico. Sympathy with communism also had been denied by Joseph Zangara, who in February, 1933, fired at President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt at Miami, Fla. But Zangara professed a deep hatred of "all capitalists."

The shots at FDR went wide and wounded others in the Roosevelt automobile. Among them was Mayor Cermak of Chicago, who died 19 days after being shot. Zangara pleaded guilty to a murder charge and was electrocuted two weeks after Cermak's death. He had been found legally sane.

The assassin of President Garfield in 1881, a disappointed office-seeker who was hanged, was at least unbalanced. The young anarchist who fatally wounded President McKinley in 1901 also was executed for murder. The man who shot at former President Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, wounding him slightly, proved legally insane.

Assassination attempts on heads of states usually produce restrictive legislation and policies. The murder of Lincoln meant more rigor for the South in the Reconstruction era; the assassination of McKinley led to stricter anti-anarchist laws; and the attempt on Truman last November squashed any sentiment that may have existed in Congress for loosening the McCarran anti-Communist and anti-subversives act of 1950.

Pope Pius' Birthday

His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, celebrates his 75th birthday on Friday. It was on his birthday 12 years ago, March 2, 1939, that he was elected successor to Pius XI.

As His Holiness reaches his 75th year, the College of Cardinals, numbering 70 at its full strength, has been reduced by deaths to 51. Eighteen of the 51 are Italians, seven are Latin Americans, five are French, four are in the United States, two are in Spain, Portugal, Germany each. The other nationalities represented, each by one Cardinal, are British, Canadian, Australian, Chinese, Hungarian, Dutch, Polish, Austrian, Belgian, Syrian, Armenian.

A consistory to create new cardinals has been delayed by unsettled international conditions. A consistory for this purpose was delayed also by World War II, and when one was finally held in 1946, no less than 32 new cardinals were there created, a record number.

It is not unlikely that the next pope will come from among the newly created cardinals at the next consistory. For centuries every new pope has been chosen from the Italian cardinalate, and all the present Italian cardinals except one are now over 65. When Pius XI was elected Pope in 1922 he had been a cardinal for less than a year.

Relief Of Angina With Khellin

NEARLY TWO YEARS ago we reported on khellin; at that time it was found to be beneficial in treating angina pectoris and other blood vessel disorders. Since then additional reports have appeared. The compound is not a world-beater but it is doing a fine job.

The product is an old Egyptian remedy that was accidentally revived several years ago by a group of Egyptian scientists. One of their helpers who was a semi-invalid because of angina pectoris decided to try this old fashioned remedy. On the seventh day he "passed some sand and a calculus (stone)." He felt better and shortly thereafter became so spry that the laboratory heads were amazed at the change that had taken place. The worker credited his improvement to the fact that the kidney stones had been eliminated. The scientists knew that he had heart trouble and began to ask questions; they discovered it was the khellin that was making a new man of him.

The material now comes in a more refined state. In the original experiment in Egypt it was used on 250 patients with angina pectoris. Distinct improvement occurred in 140, moderate improvement in 85, and no effect in 25. Here in the United States the substance also has been subjected to the acid test by many of our clinics and physicians. In Boston, for example, khellin was tried on 53 cases of angina pectoris, all of whom had been suffering for periods ranging from two months to 15 years. Some of the afflicted individuals had as many as 150 episodes of this nature a week. The majority had been using nitroglycerin and other vasodilating drugs to control or relieve the tight sensation in the chest.

The results of this study were somewhat similar to those obtained by the Egyptians. About 60 per cent of the group showed improvement inasmuch as they were able to get around with less difficulty. Many victims stated they used less nitroglycerin than before; in others, pain was not as severe. Many could walk farther before chest distress caused them to stand still.

Although khellin is proving itself to be capable of dilating the blood vessels, it has many of the bad features common to products of this nature. Three out of five users develop uncomfortable reactions such as nausea, dizziness, or loss of appetite. These symptoms usually are not severe and do not alter the efficacy of the drug but should they become unbearable the remedy must be discontinued. Within a few days thereafter appetite returns and lightheadedness disappears.

In the treatment of angina pectoris, nitroglycerin is never discarded even though other remedies are being used. This drug relieves the acute attack within a moment. The other products have a more "staying" effect and are of greater value, therefore, in the long run. They act more as a preventive and it is in this category that khellin falls.

CLEAN EARS

J. W. writes: Is there any special ear hygiene that should be practiced in the same ways as we practice oral hygiene?

REPLY

The ears should be kept clean with soap and water but you should never put anything smaller than your elbow into the opening. The wax serves as a lubricant and also to cleanse the ear canal. If it hardens and plugs the canal, ear noises and deafness ensue.

OLD SALT

L. P. writes: I feel like Lot's wife because my tongue has little bumps on it that secrete a salty taste. This causes dryness and saltiness of the lips. I had an enlargement of a salivary gland about a year ago and the swelling has never gone down. Could this be responsible for the salty sensation?

REPLY

This is possible although there are various causes for a salty taste in the mouth. Bleeding gums, inflammation, and dissimilar metals in the teeth are other possibilities.

• — • — •

BOYS AND DOLLS

M. D. writes: Is it wrong to give a three-year-old boy a doll to play with? My son is very destructive with toy cars and other gadgets but he takes great care of dolls. He is a real boy but my husband thinks that playing with dolls will make him a sissy.

REPLY

At this age, many boys prefer dolls. But with children, preferences change and two weeks from now he might like something else. Many boys and girls have a favorite doll or teddy bear that they drag around with them day and night. It may not be pretty and sometimes lacks an arm or leg but remains their pet. It has not been determined at what age boys give up dolls.

Staff May Have To Write Emergency Column In Pearson's Absence; Newsmen Have Obligation To Public; Must Act As Government-Watchdogs

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Drew Pearson, departing for a news survey of gathering European war clouds left the following in structions for his staff:

TO THE STAFF:

I shall be traveling in Europe and countries adjacent to the iron curtain for the next two or three weeks. During that time you may have to write an occasional emergency column in case I get too far away from a cable office or the going gets tough.

In writing such columns please bear in mind the following:

Don't hesitate to admit an error. Double and triple check in order to avoid errors, but if you find you are wrong, say so. It is only fair to the man you have wronged, in addition to which the public will respect you for being fair.

If you are sure you are right, however, stick to your guns and if necessary we will battle it out.

Never bear grudges. If a President or a senator calls you a name, don't call one back. Because he is puerile or small is no reason for you to sink to his level. Write facts; don't go in for name-calling. Any scrivener can fill a column with abuse. Epithets can be culled from any dollar dictionary, but it takes good journalism to ferret out graft or the backstage doing of diplomats or the income-tax cheaters—and then make what you say stand up in court.

Smoke-Filled Rooms

Remember that it is part of your job to right some of the news-wrongs of the capital. The big newspaper chains can be ruthless, their newsmen in a hurry. It is your job to probe deeper than the handout or the official statement. You are to pick up where the spot-news men, rushing for the telephone or grabbing for the headline, leave off. Frequently the best part of the story is after the spot-news cream has been skimmed.

Remember also that ever since politicians became politicans, the thing the public was not supposed to know has taken place in the private lobbies and the smoke-filled rooms. Yet what is hidden from the public is usually what the public is most entitled to know about, and the job of a good newspaperman to report.

Remember that in our system of government by checks and balances, it is your job to help in the checking. Government is so intricate and detailed today that Congress no longer can do all the checking. Furthermore, congressmen themselves have to be checked. Most congressmen are honest and reasonably conscientious, but it is your job to smoke out the Parnell Thomases, the Andy Mays and the "Doc" Brehms, and report the facts about them—even if it means a tough battle.

Faith in Government

However, it is also important to remember that the government is neither all good nor all bad. There are bureaucrats who are woefully inefficient, and bureaucrats who are a credit to mankind. It is your job to discriminate.

Government is only as good as the men in it. And since men are human, they are subject to all the frailties that make up mankind—laziness, inefficiency, greed, graft, temptation.

But they are also subject to great effort, sacrifice, inspiration.

It is your job as a newspaperman to spur the lazy, watch the weak, expose the corrupt. You must be the eyes, ears and nose of the American people. Yes, the nose, too, is important. For not matter how much stench you may be exposed to, never lose your sense of smell.

But likewise remember that there are scores of underpaid government servants dedicated to the cause of good government whom the public never hears of. It is your job to encourage them. It is also your job to let the public know that these men are working for them.

For the public must never lose confidence in its government. Should it ever take seriously the scoldings of some of my competitors and lose confidence in our form of government, then the principle we are fighting for would be no more.

Defend Little Fellow

Remember also that it's the little fellow who usually gets kicked around. It's the little businessman, the G.I., the guy in the lower-bracket incomes who needs a friend. He has a few friends in high places, no big politicians to pull wires, no one to speak for him on interlocking boards of directors. He has only the American public's strong sense of right and wrong to back him—and it's your job to spell out those rights and wrongs so the public can know what cooks.

This applies to minority groups as well as little people. Sometimes these groups, such as the Negroes or a minority religion, need a little more encouragement than the folks who are doing all right anyway.

Finally, remember that though the world moves slowly toward its two great goals — peace and the brotherhood of man—it is your job when possible to help accelerate the pace.

Sometimes it is better not to report a delicate diplomatic negotiation. Sometimes the cause of peace is best served by sacrificing a news story until a difficult diplomatic hurdle is over.

But if the diplomats fumble, if they betray their trust, then it is your job to be ruthless in exposing that betrayal. You must be their watchdog. You must let them know what the publicity penalty is — if they fail.

Finally, when you write anything, remember that the fewer words you say it in, the better.

These are the goals of the Washington Merry-Go-Round which I have not lived up to. Perhaps you can.

The "Savers" Are Paying The Price Of Inflation

By MARK SULLIVAN

AFTER the three labor members of the Wage Stabilization Board had resigned in protest against a ceiling proposed to be put upon wages; after the United Labor Policy Committee had protested threateningly against policies of Defense Mobilizer Wilson generally; and after four high labor leaders had called on President Truman to express their protest—after these events and accompanying controversy, a brief statement was given out by the President's Press Secretary. It read:

"The President . . . assured them that the Administration was trying to work out the problem in a manner equitable for everyone without special privilege for any group."

"Without special privilege for any group" is familiar as a phrase though less so as a fact. What glaringly calls for attention just now, however, is a group which not only has no special privilege but even lacks a simple and fundamental right. This group is the savers, there are ten of millions of them, who have put their savings into life insurance, U. S. Savings Bonds, savings banks and similar institutions. Between government's treatment of these and its treatment of two other groups, labor and farmers, the contrast is an indictment of government itself. To labor the Wage Stabilization Board promises a ceiling higher than the present wage level and labor truculently demands still more. To farmers the Defense Production Act gives protection and immunity. It forbids the Price Stabilization Agency to put a ceiling on any farm crop that is now selling below the parity price which the Department of Agriculture fixes; in effect farmers are given assurance of higher prices.

Has Familiar Nature

The sum of the condition is: for labor and farmers, more; for the savers, sacrifice. The nature of the sacrifice has been made familiar by experience. The saver puts a dollar into savings but when he gets it back later, 10 years in the case of U. S. Savings Bonds, for example, it is no longer a dollar in purchasing power. The dollar that he saved 10 years ago was, in effect, some four pounds of bacon. The dollar he gets back the present year is in effect less than two pounds of bacon. And so, with negligible variations, as to practically all forms of food, clothing and manufactured goods.

This is the concrete picture of what goes by several names—reduction in purchasing power of the dollar, rise in cost of living, inflation. It was to stop this that the control agencies now much in the public eye were set up. While they have put ceilings on the prices of many goods, they have as to others encountered contention and complexity and have postponed the dates for imposing ceilings. One agency head has said that two important kinds of goods, clothing and food, will continue to rise for several months. Nevertheless the purpose of the control agencies continues and so apparently does their determination. We had all better hope they succeed and help them to.

Reds Want Economic Strike

The interest of the country as a whole in having inflation checked is second only to its concern about war. If indeed it is second at all, for one of the means by which Russian communism hopes to overcome us is through economic collapse of the kind that would result from inflation if it becomes extreme. And in this supreme national interest, if the people as a whole are to be looked upon as groups, the one group that should be the last to be called upon for sacrifice is the savers, they, more than any other detachable group, have paid the price of inflation. Over a period of 10 years they have seen every dollar of their savings fall in purchasing power to what was formerly 60 cents. During the brief period of eight months past they have seen the fall grow in quantity and momentum.

Again, if the people are to be looked upon as groups, two that are fair to be looked to for sacrifice are labor and farmers. So far as it is possible to separate temporary beneficiaries of an early stage of inflation from victims of it, labor and farmers have been beneficiaries. Within the past six years there have been five rounds of wage raises in industry. Within the same period agriculture as an industry has had the highest national income in history, and some of the increase has been due to a government policy, price support of farm crops.

For protecting the savers against further sacrifice through continuation of inflation and of reduction in the purchasing power of the dollar, the government has a special reason. The government needs to make large borrowings from the savers through the sale of bonds to them, and the savers will lend with more readiness and satisfaction if they know it is a government policy to stabilize the purchasing power of their saved dollars.

RFC Directors Should Be Protected From Pressure

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 — "Political pull"—the same unadulterated variety that has plagued the temples of government since ancient days— seems to have come up for trial in the Senate's investigation of the affairs of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Having exposed the influence which various persons in the executive branch of the government are alleged to have exercised in persuading the directors of the RFC to appprove applications of loans, the spotlight has been turned by President Truman on members of Congress themselves, by pointing to several hundred letters written from time to time to the RFC presumably urging approval of loans in behalf of constituents of the congressmen.

Where billions of dollars of government money are to be loaned, it is not surprising that there will be pressure. Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, chairman of the Senate committee investigating the RFC, says he has not uncovered anything "illegal," either. But the Arkansas Senator says that things which are "improper," though not illegal, are nevertheless subject to condemnation if standards of good conduct are to be set.

People Could Judge

Two wrongs never make a right. The fact that the Senate committee uncovered some improper activities on the part of executive agency employes does not immunize them from blame just because some members of Congress may have also exerted pressure.

All the documents in the case should be exposed to view — not only letters which members of Congress have written but all communications, oral and written, between the White House and the RFC. The country would have an opportunity to judge for itself where the line between improper and proper relationships is to be drawn.

Thus, a member of Congress gets a letter from a constituent who has filed an application for a business loan, and he is likely to be asked to "say a good word" or to identify the constituent or even furnish some information as to reliability and character. These are natural happenings, but the RFC directors should not, of course, be influenced by that "good word," even though they know the congressman may have to say it to keep on the right side of his constituent. Many a member of Congress, confronted with that kind of situation, has said the "good word" and then made it clear immediately afterwards that the business in hand should be handled by the government agency on its merits.

The real trouble, as alert-minded Senator Fulbright has pointed out, is that the directors of the RFC are the ones who should be able to resist pressure and influence. If, however, they are tools of the Democratic Administration and subject to the political urgings of persons connected with the Democratic National Committee, then some way will have to be found to prescribe by law that such approaches are as unlawful as it would be to attempt to influence a judge in our federal courts.

Mr. Fulbright seems to think that capable men can be found with sufficient integrity to file letters from congressmen and to turn a deaf ear to the White House aides who, too, may be under pressure sometimes to say a "good word."

Basically the RFC is supposed to be an "independent agency" and not a part of the executive department or the White House but a creature of Congress, as are all the other independent boards and agencies. Unfortunately, the drift has been away from this concept, and one of the first acts that helped to break it down was the letter written by the late President Roosevelt, early in his first administration, when he fired William Humphreys, a member of the Federal Trade Commission, because the latter's mind "didn't go along with" that of Mr. Roosevelt. The Supreme Court of the United States ruled that this was unwarranted interference with the power of Congress to specify by law the grounds for removal and to insist that removals be made only on the grounds specified. But nevertheless, under both New Deal and Fair deal practice, the tendency has been to usurp authority over the acts of these independent agencies and consider their officers as the chief executive would consider appointees in bureaus in an executive department.

If the RFC is to be retained — and Senator Fulbright himself says that a lending agency is needed, especially to approve loans that must be made in connection with risks inherent in the expansion of plants for defense purpose only — then some reform in the attitude toward the RFC of everbody concerned is imperative. It can be done by writing safeguards into the law to protect RFC directors from attempts to exert improper influence upon them.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Hede Massing

THE PROBLEM of the former Communist intrigues all sorts of people. Some, like Bernard Devoto, wonder why we should believe them. They were wrong once, may they not be wrong again? They changed once, might they not change again?

My own experience since 1917 shows that it is next to impossible to get at the heart of Communist organization and activities without the assistance of renegade Communists. Even students who have devoted themselves to the problem, no matter how assiduously, for decades, find that there are missing links, unexplained details, curious personal relationships, without which even academic analysis becomes hopeless.

So we come to the question of Hede Massing's forthcoming book, entitled "This Deception." Hede Massing is the former wife of Gerhart Eisler, who represented the Third International in the United States and was the most powerful Communist in this country for a period. Eisler escaped from the United States on the Polish ship "Batory" under scandalous circumstances.

Mrs. Massing wrote a book on her experiences, which Farrar, Straus and Young accepted. The type was set. The book was ready for publication. Then Mrs. Massing was told that this firm desired that a chapter relating to Laurence Duggan be omitted. Otherwise, the book would not be published.

It would seem that Roger W. Straus, Jr., of the publishing firm became "morally" concerned with the elimination of the Duggan chapter out of regard for Duggan's widow and children. It is a point of fine sentimentality.

Laurence Duggan was a member of the State Department group that came out of Harvard and the Institute of Pacific Relations which some have held responsible for our errors in Asia. He was also a very close friend and protege of Sumner Welles. And he either committed suicide or was pushed out of a window.

According to Mrs. Hede Massing, Laurence Duggan offered his services to her and she handed him over to another group. This is either an important historic fact or a libel. In fact, Farrar, Straus and Young have not contended that they want the chapter suppressed because of libel but rather because of the moral issue of protecting Duggan's widow and orphans.

Morris Ernst has written a foreword to this book in which he said:

"It explicitly touches on a very sensitive spot in the culture of our nation. Why do people join the Communist party? . . . I know of no one who has told before so clearly the reasons why people do things like this, how they fool people, use them innocently. . . I wish that all our legislators, officials and public leaders would read this volume."

So Mrs. Massing refused to suppress the chapter and the book will be published on March 14 by Duell, Sloan and Pearce, to whom the rights and plates were transferred.

I can understand Straus's sentiments. The little boys who played with treason, with betrayal of their

Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

Luke 7:45 (K.J.V.).
Read Luke 11:37-52.

There are any number of ways of being lost. The old terminology, the "way of salvation," may not fit our age. Indeed, the words "salvation" and "lost" are given little place in the language of the present-day generation. But though the words have slipped from use, men's condition has not changed. The world is full of powerless, inadequate, frustrated lives. And when that is their condition they are lost—lost in the thicket of life.

Men such as Simon, in the "upper brackets" have found new ways of being lost. They need to be saved from the little meannesses which war against the spirit of good will, the selfish desires which prevent life from expanding into broad sympathies. They need salvation from the belief that the world is a meaningless accident and that they themselves are merely the product of physical forces. The world is the Father's, and one's life must be found to be a unifying force, not an anarchy fighting and biting its way through life. Life is not things. It is quality of mind and heart.

Let Us Pray: Merciful Father keep us from thinking of ourselves as self-made men. May our lives be linked with all men because they are linked with thee. Amen.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Sideglances at celebrities:

A recent issue of "Vilagossag," a Commie sheet published in Budapest, carried this note under a heading which read, "American Sports Morals!"—

"A tall usher wearing a motley uniform opens the door to the drunken Yankees before one of the New York restaurants. He is Jesse Owens, the former Olympic champion runner who brought home a golden medal for the U. S. A.

"The country of businessmen proved grateful: After his return he was given a chance to run with greyhounds, racehorses and Australian kangaroos, to make a living. The last stage of his career: He is janitor and usher in a saloon."

The truth—Jesse is public relations counsel and executive director in charge of sportswear and sales for a Chicago clothing firm.

In his arrestingly ingenious autobiography, "Never Leave Well Enough Alone," (Simon & Schuster) Industrial Designer Raymond Loewy tells us (among many other interesting things) how to make a fast $50,000.

In the fall of 1940, the fabulous George Washington Hill, head of the American Tobacco Company and later the prototype of the bluster-merchant in Frederic Wakeman's "The Hucksters," walked into Loewy's New York office, took off his coat and thumbed his embroidered suspenders.

He pushed back his battered felt hat, whose brim was pierced by an assortment of trout-fishing hooks and flies, and said:

"My friend Albert Lasker tells me that you don't like the Lucky Strike package. He also tells me that you think you could design a better one. I don't believe it. . . Do you really believe you could improve it?"

"I bet I could," Loewy said.

"Bet what?"

"Fifty thousand dollars."

Hill looked out the window for a time, then picked up a memo pad and wrote: "Lucky Strike package—$20,000 retainer. If we use result, $30,000 more. G. W. H."

"When will you be ready?" Hill demanded.

"Oh, I don't know," said the equally fabled Loewy. "Some nice spring morning I will feel like designing the package and you'll have it in a matter of hours."

The spring morning arrived, and, in a short time, so did the sample package. Hill came over, took a searching look at it, tried his hand at changing it, then gave up; said, "All right, Loewy, you do it," and gave him the rest of the 50 grand.

Before Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission could okay the detonation of the first A-bomb on that Nevada testing grounds, these are some of the things he had to do:

Inform the governor of the state, plus the state's two U. S. senators and single congressman; confer with the chairman of the board of county commissioners in each of the four counties whose land makes up or borders on the testing grounds. Alert the chief medical officers in those counties, the U. S. Public Health Service and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

He then had to sit down with the Secretary of Interior, and state highway police whose job it would be to set up roadblocks and otherwise channel traffic away from the scheduled explosions. He also had to straighten out things with officials of the Wool Growers Association and the Cattlemen's Association, because of the grazing lands involved and the chance of radioactive contamination. And had to closet himself with the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, and, of course, get the President's consent to release the test bombs from the stockpile.

Only when all these things were done could he give the nod of the head that caused the button to be pushed that sent the impulses which touched off the stupendous fireworks.

Security officers, in extensive checkups, failed to find a single case of a leak in the information, though hundreds or even thousands must have known of the tests in advance.

Local Players Win In Penn Tournament

Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edward T. Jones, of the Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club, finished first in Section A, in the South Western Penna Tournament, held at the White Swan Hotel, Uniontown, Pa., over the past weekend. The team composed of George Ward and Dr. Paul Castelle finished third in Section B.

The local members were competing against Life Masters from Cleveland, Youngstown, Pittsburgh and Wheeling in the open pairs session, composed of 70 pairs.

Albert D. Heacox local president, announces that both of these teams will receive 3 to 5 Master Points for their playing.

In the finals Sunday night, playing a field of 52 pairs for the championship the Ward-Castelle team finished eighth and the Jones team, among the first 20 teams.

S. Russ Minter and H. Cassaway Shores, Keyser, W. Va., also qualified for the finals in the open pairs, making an excellent showing, Mr. Heacox reports. The other local players competed in the round also.

Mr. Heacox said last night that several of the traveling Life Masters, who attend sectional tournaments, have definitely signified their intentions to come to Cumberland for the Western Maryland Sectional tournament being held at the Cumland Country Club, April 14-15.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON.

SKETCHY jottings on today's memo pad read like this—if I can ever read my own notes: Memo to me—On Bill Pawley—the new advisor to Acheson indicates Administration's first attempt to houseclean in the State Dept. . . . Pawley, self-made businessman . . . Expert on Far East where he made millions dealing with Chinese . . . Typical, straight-thinking American businessman whose decisions are invariably based on that good old American horse sense which has too often been belittled by the long-haired, crack pot theorists. They used to give advice from their lofty pinko clouds.

Memo To Me—On Edda Ciano—Mussolini's eldest daughter not at High Mass celebrated on seventh anniversary of shooting of Count Ciano other day . . . Mass celebrated in Rome's Church of St. Theresa. All family of the late Minister of Foreign Affairs present—except widow Edda . . . Be interesting find out what Edda's doing with her life these days.

• — • — •

On Mrs. Dean Acheson—Looked very trim when she sat back of the senators . . . At hearing on sending troops to Europe . . . Had on earrings and a little fur piece . . . Some kind of brooch at neck . . . Alice Roosevelt Longworth, perpetual hearing visitor also in "audience" . . . Neither Princess Alice nor Mrs. Dean realized their yawns got televised . . . Old Texas Tawm Connolly sure needed a haircut.

• — • — •

On Dick Harless—Check if he's permanently back . . . The former representative from Arizona has been working on the Hill . . . Maybe for Atlantic Union, whatever that is.

• — • — •

Memo To Me—On Coals to Newcastle—Walter Florell, the Mad Hatter, reversed usual procedure by showing his hats at the George V in Paris.

• — • — •

On Bessie Gasque—Former congresswoman from South Carolina . . . Now Mrs. Elizabeth Van Exam . . . She's visiting her daughter here, Mrs. Ernest Becker . . . Bessie Gasque ran for Congress back in 1938 . . . Was elected with only four dissenting votes . . . Became only congresswoman ever elected by such overwhelming majority.

On Lincoln's Letter to Mrs. Bixby—Must listen to new record put out by Women's Division of GOP National Committee—One side, Lincoln's Gettysburg address; other side his letter to Mrs. Bixby of Massachusetts, who lost three sons . . . At the time Lincoln had been told Mrs. Bixby had lost five!

Memo To Me—On Marcantonio's return to D. C. . . . Bestow a Gold Star on that courtroom wit who piped up at the trial wherein Marcantonio, John Abt, and other lawyers for the Communist party appeared in a suit against the Subversive Activities Controls Board, and the Attorney General . . . Remember John Abt? . . . He's former lawyer and U. S. Dept. of Agriture, was identified by Lee Pressman as Communist before Congressional Committee on un-American Activities . . . When Abt stumbled over a Latin term in trial the other day, he apologized to the Court that his Latin was very bad . . . A spectator stage-whispered, "Wonder how his Russian is?"

• — • — •

Memo To Me—On "The Dewey Look"—Before appearing on a recent television program, Dewey announced he would wear a dark blue suit . . . Was told by an old hand that grey would show up better . . . The stubborn Dewey stood firm. "I intend to wear a blue suit." The veteran interviewer stood his ground, too. "A grey suit would be better—I am going to wear grey."

Night of the program Dewey showed up in a grey suit, and the other fellow had on blue! Each convinced other to switch! . . . Men are so fickle about clothes!

• — • — •

Memo To Me—On the late Mr. Justice Frank Murphy . . . Card issued for March the sixth at 10 o'clock in the morning . . . There will be a meeting of the Bar of the U. S. Supreme Court "to take appropriate action in memory of Frank Murphy."

Memo To Me—On Labor . . . Squeeze a line in the column that whenever anyone dials Executive 2420, the operators drawl out, "This is Labor!" . . . Sounds funny. . . Most agencies just say "State Department" or "Interior" or "Agriculture" . . . Saying "This is Labor" sounds like they're complaining about their work!

Tempted to combat daily frictions with rudeness? Danger lies ahead! A penalty always must be paid!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

ON EVERY long non-stop flight an aviator knows that he will reach the "point of no return". This is when he has burned up more than half of his fuel supply and can not return to his point of departure, so he must therefore continue on to the destination ahead.

There is a point of no return that can be reached in human relationships, too. Those who set their course by rudeness and get too far off base are sure to reach it. They are the people who are always seeking new friends; always seeking new jobs. Through their discourteous practices, they burn out the welcome at any home base that they establish. Their field of operation becomes increasingly limited and soon they find themselves utterly alone in a crowded world.

Immature or Fusty?

In the danger zone is the woman you hear say, in describing her encounter with a salesgirl, "I sure gave that girl a piece of my mind. She was snippy when she waited on me, but I slammed it right back at her."

If the teller of the tale is young, you are immediately aware that she is showing the immaturity she hates to admit; if she is adult, she is revealing the fustiness of an age she constantly tries to hide. No goal can ever be achieved through rudeness. Even a well-deserved reprimand (above all) must be thoughtful and considerate. Those who choose rudeness as a weapon for resolving the frictions of business or social life inevitably are the ones who feel the points of its thorns.

Safe on Home Side

When ever you are tempted to set people in their hypothetical place, ask yourself what is to be gained thereby. Generally, the answer will be nothing. You risk the respect of any person who knows of the encounter (and your self respect) when you return rudeness with rudeness. All you accomplish is the ruining of the dispositions involved.

It may require courage and patience to gain dominion over the impulse to strike out verbally against another's stupidity or lack of consideration. But when you feel any provocation, remember courtesy is the only reliable direction finder that can keep you safe on the home-side of the "point of no return."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The death of Frank Phillips in Atlantic City last August ended the success story of one of the most colorful figures in American industry. Phillips began his career as a barber in Creston, Iowa. He had seen a tonsorial artist wearing beautiful striped pants when he was a boy, and then and there resolved to have a pair like them for himself.

In a few years he owned all the barber shops in the county, and had married the leading banker's daughter. Then he started digging for oil in Oklahoma, and brought in eighty gushers in succession! With his first million he had all the pipes, faucets, and door knobs in his house changed to solid gold. He lived to see his Phillips Petroleum Company become one of the greatest oil producing, refining, and distribution units in the world.

Phillips had a bluff, hearty sense of humor, and supplied his friend Will Rogers with some of his original sallies. Typical was his explanation for a slew of bandages on his face one morning when he entered the Petroleum Club in Dallas. "In memory of my misspent youth, I let one of the boys at the barber school shave me for his final examination—and did he flunk!"

Spiritual, Moral Values Important, Teachers Told

Renewed emphasis on spiritual and moral values in every school subject and every phase of school life has been listed as its main responsibility by the American Association of School Administrators which last week closed its annual convention at Atlantic City.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, county superintendent of schools and a member of the A.A.S.A. Advisory Council for more than five years; Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools; and Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, represented the Allegany County Board of Education.

Approximately 16,000 educators attended the five-day convention, Dr. Kopp said, and added that Kenneth Overholzer, superintendent of schools at Denver, Colo., was named president.

Problems to which scores of speeches were devoted and given major emphasis were summarized in a press conference held by A.A.S.A. officials. They included:

1. Swelling enrollments. Soaring birth rates are expected to bring an attendance in 1960 that will be 8,000,000 more than are now enrolled.

2. Lack of buildings to house more children. School construction already lags far behind enrollment increases.

3. Teacher shortages are likely to become worse as men and women enter the services, or are attracted to war industries by higher rates of pay.

4. Lack of money to serve fast-growing enrollments and offset the rapid increase in costs. The national budget is drying up state and local sources of school support.

5. Attacks on schools spearheaded by groups and individuals unfriendly to public education who are seizing on the unsettled times to undermine public confidence in school boards and administrators.

6. Personal attacks on school administrators seem to be standard strategy of many groups who would cut local school expenditures. A flight from the superintendency by professionally trained men and women as a result of such attacks could be the signal for the capture of schools by political "yes-men."

7. The United States Office of Education must be freed from the political peonage under which it now labors. A national board of education should be established immediately as an independent agency with a professional educator as its executive officer and be composed of lay citizens appointed by the President with long overlapping terms.

Among the major responsibilities of the schools as summarized by A.A.S.A. officials are the following:

1. Renewed emphasis on spiritual and moral values in every school subject and every phase of school life.

2. More emphasis on values of American citizenship. "Schools dare not damn democracy with faint praise."

3. More attention to the role of the United States in the United Nations.

4. Exchange of public school teachers with the other free nations must be greatly stepped up.

5. Pupils of sufficient maturity must be safeguarded against enemy propaganda by learning what the techniques are and how to detect them.

6. Education for health and physical education will need to be stepped up and school-health services strengthened.

7. Schools need to stress the teaching of thrift and assist in providing wholesome recreation since youth may again be earning more money than it knows how to handle wisely as war industries expand.

8. Children "on the loose" may become social casualties. Working parents and especially working mothers in war industry may again make necessary the provision of extended day-care centers and nursery schools.

9. Training of war production workers may again be necessary if the "not-so-cold" war extends as long as now predicted.

10. Since this is a war for survival, the schools must stress more than ever before the care and wise usage of America's vast natural resources.

11. Schools are concerned for the morale and safety of pupils in event of enemy raids. Instruction must be pointed at avoiding hysteria about the A-bomb.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

County Board To Buy Lemmert Check Signer

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday passed a resolution authorizing the use of a "check-signer" in order to speed up the administrative functions of the board.

It was pointed out that the volume of checks to be signed at the session of the board have increased greatly during the last few years.

The machine is insured against unauthorized use and is constructed with adequate safeguards against such unauthorized use. Keys are held by Commissioner William H. Lemmert, board president, and James G. Stevenson, board clerk.

No checks are drawn except on the days the board meets and before they are authorized they must be passed by the entire board of commissioners. The county treasurer, Frederick C. Dreyer, will continue to sign the checks by hand.

Liquor Board To Hear Complaints Of Violations

Two Frostburg establishments, one a club and the other a cocktail lounge, have been cited by the Allegany County Liquor Control Board to appear Tuesday, March 6, at 10 a. m. for questioning on complaints.

The board took this action at its meeting yesterday "in view of complaints being received of disorder and possible violations of the liquor law" at these places.

The establishments cited were the Century Athletic Club, 9 Mechanic Street, and the Camellia Room, 70 East Main Street.

The orders to appear at the court house were sent to John C. Davis, license holder at the Camellia Room, and Harry Frost, president of the club.

In other board action yesterday, John Booth, who possesses a tavern selling beer and light wine license for his place on Parkersburg Road, Eckhart, was warned concerning having whisky on his premises.

The board ordered Booth to appear after an investigator of the Alcoholic Beverage Tax Division of the Office of the Maryland Comptroller of the Treasury reported a violation.

The investigator, according to the board reported one full and one empty whisky bottle were found behind the bar. The full bottle, the investigator informed the board, had a spout in the top.

Booth stated that his wife had been running his place around the time of the violation while he was working on a truck. He denied having knowledge of the whisky behind the bar.

The board warned Booth and clarified the stipulation of the law which says that no whisky may be kept in a tavern that does not have a license to sell it.

The members told him that in the event a second violation is reported his license will be either suspended or revoked.

The Old Second Guesser

By JOHN N. WHEELER

The Old Campaigner, Thought Fast

THE other night General Ike shoved off on a momentous mission, sailing on the Cunard White Star British liner, Queen Elizabeth, for Europe and a date with destiny. Maybe he doesn't want to be President, although there has been some talk on the matter, but, if the voyager had been either Theodore Roosevelt or F.D.R., he would have been abroad a ship flying the American flag even though he had to ride a ferryboat. They were the two old masters of politics.

Possibly General Eisenhower's mind was so occupied with other matters, he didn't look up the schedules of the U. S. merchant marine, but I did and found there were quite a few boats going around the date of his departure. All this reminds me of two or three anecdotes which reflect the alertness of old campaigners.

In 1912, Theodore Roosevelt was running on the Bull Moose ticket against Woodrow Wilson and William Taft and arrived in Milwaukee on October 14, to make a speech. He was entering his car in front of the Hotel Gilpatrick about 8 p. m. on his way to the auditorium when a man rushed up and fired at close range. The bullet would have killed this great figure then and there except for the Roosevelt luck. It hit the thick manuscript which was stuffed in his breast pocket. Had it been a short speech, he would not have lived to make it.

At first this fiery leader insisted he had not been shot until someone discovered a hole in his heavy overcoat. To show his quick thinking determination here are some remarks made just after he had been wounded.

"I will deliver this speech or die," he declared to one of his aides and added to Elbert Martin, hisc bodyguard, "Don't hurt him. Bring him to me." He meant John Schrank, the assassin.

Turning to friends, he said,

"But it takes more than a bullet to kill a Bull Moose."

As he faced the crowd, he began,

"It's true. I'm going to ask you to be very quiet, and please excuse me from making you a very long speech. I'll do the best I can, but you see there is a bullet in my body, although it's nothing. I'm not hurt badly."

He went on for 50 minutes. When he finished, exhausted, there were three or four ambulances waiting. He wasn't too weak to ask where these came from and to pick the one representing a Catholic hospital, realizing that vote was important. This indomitable soul survived, but not to become President again, for, running as an independent, the great American made a fine race, although beaten by Wilson.

Bruce Barton was a friend and admirer of Calvin Coolidge and quoted a remark of his the other day made when he was President. Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes reported to him the then glamorous Queen of Rumania was going to visit this country.

"That's all right," replied Mr. Coolidge, "so long as you make it clear she is to pay her own way." It was a typical remark of this Yankee which was widely published and made a great hit with the citizenry.

When Clare Boothe Luce was running for Congress in Connecticut, she went to Danbury one summer evening to make a speech and forgot if anyone showed up in that hamlet without a hat, he or she might expect to have a white feather pinned on him or her. Some friend must have nudged her, but too late for the beautiful blonde was already at the table reserved for the orators. When she arose, she smiled her best smile and said,

"I know I should have worn a hat. I'm not short of them. In fact, I have at least 25, and, whenever I get down in the dumps, I buy another. After I told my husband this the other day, he replied,

"'I've been wondering where you got them. Now I know.'"

This quick crack brought a laugh and saved the situation. Danbury is the big hat center.

Finally when the master campaigner of them all, F.D.R., decided to run for a fourth term, there was much talk his health wouldn't stand it which turned out to be true. He was to make several outdoor speeches in New York late in the fall, and it poured chilling raw rain all day. Mr. Roosevelt went through with his schedule, although more robust supporters quit. He rode throughout in an open car and got soaking wet, but convinced the country he was well enough to take it. No matter what you think of them, all Roosevelts have guts.

Of course, the behind-the-hand gossip was his doctor prescribed an old fashioned cocktail when he finished his tour to ward off the cold and pneumonia, and FDR. did not take a homeopathic dose, which showed somewhat when he started his speech at the Waldorf that evening. It was later officially explained his voice was a little thick, because his bridgework had slipped.

Public Affairs Group Urges Enabling Bill

City Officials Would Have Added Powers

At a meeting of the Public Affairs Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce held on Monday afternoon, the file of bills introduced in the Maryland Legislature affecting Cumberland and Allegany County was reviewed.

Perhaps the most important subject discussed was that of "Home Rule." On several occasions previously, the Chamber had advocated that Cumberland be given the opportunity to relieve the Legislature from the responsibility of the City's legislative functions. Much of the time of our delegation, and the Legislature, is spent on local bills covering unimportant minor matters which could very easily be handled by our city officials.

They are elected to govern Cumberland and they meet at least once a week for that purpose; whereas, the Legislature meets only once in odd years for a period of ninety days to consider the general program of the State; and, in even years, to consider the budget and emergency matters only.

Burden Placed On City

Under the present arrangement, we find our legislators frequently making certain expenditures mandatory on the part of the Mayor and City Council, assuming no responsibility whatever for imposing the taxes required to meet these expenditures. This places a burden upon the City Government which it cannot escape.

The committee, therefore, emphatically recommends to the board of directors that its previous position on Home Rule be restated and emphasized, and that the "Enabling Bill" providing for complete home rule for Cumberland, be passed.

The committee also strongly felt that the introduction of bills by members of the Legislature, involving expenditures of funds without providing the means of raising such funds, should be discontinued.

Bill 183 Cited

Senate Bill 183, which authorizes the State to purchase land to be used in conjunction with the old C. & O. Canal right-of-way for the development of the parkway from the District of Columbia to Cumberland was also reviewed.

It was pointed out that the development of this project is not to be undertaken so long as the present emergency exists but the committee believed that it would be wise to encourage this legislation so that preliminary studies can be made and the State and Federal Governments be in position to proceed with the development when conditions warrant it.

Driver Acquitted

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — Robert N. Davis, 25, from Kitzmiller, Md., was acquitted today of manslaughter charges growing out of the highway death of his brother.

Judge Joseph D. Mish returned the verdict in Circuit Court.

Davis was the driver of a car which smashed into the rear end of a parked tractor-trailer truck last Christmas Eve near Hancock, Md.

His brother, 38-year-old Arthur Davis, was killed outright. Robert Davis was injured. The car was demolished.

State Trooper Richard E. Garvey testified the car hit the big truck with such force that the truck was pushed two feet forward.

Bullets Fly At Preston Mines

KINGWOOD, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP) — Disturbances in the non-union coal fields of Preston County centered today around the prowling about of 40 carloads of pickets and the shooting up of a power shovel.

Sheriff J. H. Benson said several rifle bullets struck the power shovel at a non-union operation near Bruceton. The shovel was damaged slightly.

Otherwise, things were quiet in the area which has been the scene of more overt strife between pickets and non-union miners during the past month.

However, Magistrate F. W. Pritt ordered 18 men, including a United Mine Workers Representative, held yesterday for grand jury action on charges they stoned a bus transporting non-union miners to work.

Included among them was UMW Representative Joe Serdich of Grant Town.

Warrants have been issued for three others, but they had not been taken into custody today.

Deaths

WILLIAM P. SPRIGGS

William Percy Spriggs, 56, retired Western Maryland Railway conductor, died early Monday night at his home in Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley.

Born December 2, 1894, in Davis, W. Va., he was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. John Spriggs.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Jessie May Spriggs; a son, Robert Spriggs, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Carl Fisher, this city.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. by Rev. O. Afton Linger, pastor of First Baptist Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

A service will be conducted at the Stein Funeral Home tonight at 8:15 o'clock by William McKaig Lodge 440, Brotherhood Of Railroad Trainmen, of which Mr. Spriggs was a member.

MRS. MABEL MEHRBAUGH

A funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at Stein's Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Mabel Mehrbaugh who died at her home, 1028 Bedford Street, last Saturday. Rev. Kenneth Groves, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church, was in charge. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Chester Wilson, Alban C. Thompson, Milton Bortz, Edward Nies, Eugene Blake, and Donald Bowman.

Fire Chiefs To Plan For Area Defense

Fire chiefs of this area will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Public Safety Building to continue work on Civil Defense plans for the area.

Acting Fire Chief R. Paul Reid said officials of volunteer fire companies from Allegany County and nearby West Virginia are slated to attend.

A number of conferences have been held here in recent weeks to map definite plans for fire protection of the area.

Local Tavern Owner Has Beer License Suspended

The operator of a Front Street tavern had his beer license suspended for ten days after a hearing before the Allegany County Liquor Control Board yesterday in the Court House.

Joseph F. "Freddy" Carnell, 240 Williams Street, had been ordered to appear to show cause why his license should not be suspended or revoked for allowing a minor to loiter in his place, the Friendly Tavern.

Carnell was summoned following his conviction last month in Police Court for the violation of the city ordinance governing minors in establishments where alcoholic beverages are sold.

Officers C. W. Thompson and Robert L. Gilpin testified in the lengthy hearing yesterday morning that they nabbed Carnell after they found a 17-year-old local boy in his tavern.

In Police Court Carnell was fined $100. A man, who stated to police that he had given the boy a drink of whisky, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

Harold E. Naughton, attorney for Carnell, pointed out to the board the defendant was a spastic paralytic and was not physically able to eject anyone from his place.

Carnell testified he saw the boy seated in a booth with the man and had asked him to leave. The youth, who, according to police, possesses a criminal record, flatly told the proprietor to mind his own business.

Shortly afterward, Carnell stated the police came in and arrested all three of them.

Naughton explained that Carnell has been a spastic paralytic since birth. He added that the defendant had used his savings to invest in the Friendly Tavern. Naughton, in his closing statement, pointed out that Carnell has not been arrested in his ten years of operating the tavern.

The board, in announcing the suspension said that the evidence pointed to the fact that there was a minor in the tavern. However, the board added that it was meting out the lightest possible sentence.

Resident Locked Out

Firemen from Central Station No. 1 were summoned Sunday morning to the home of Mrs. Rudolph F. Kompanek, 560 Fayette Street. She had locked herself out so one of the firemen climbed to the second story entered through a window and opened the front door.

Ellerslie May Get Proposed Lumber Mill

The need for legislation providing for tax exemption to encourage new industry was discussed yesterday at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

William R. Carscaden, attorney for owners of an old pottery plant at Ellerslie and Pittsburgh interests, appeared before the board to inquire as to the possibility of obtaining a tax exemption on machinery and tool for a proposed lumber mill in that community.

He said the Pittsburgh men interested in starting a small industry in Ellerslie wanted to know if a tax exemption on their machinery and tools were possible.

Carscaden explained that 15 men would be employed to start the mill and that maximum employment would be about 50. The entire project is in the formative stage, he emphasized.

Members of the county board said they would have their attorney, Gorman E. Getty, check into the law pertaining to the tax exemption proposal and would give their answer March 6.

Meanwhile, the possibility of having legislation introduced by the Allegany county delegation to the legislature providing for tax exemption for limited period to attract new industries to this county was discussed.

It was pointed out many states have legislation for tax exemptions and it is in these areas which new industry is locating. Pennsylvania, South and North Carolina were among states mentioned.

Driver Freed Under Bond

Bond of $500 was posted Monday night for the release of Thomas Whitacre, Jr., 21, Vindex, who faces a manslaughter charge resulting from the death of a companion in a traffic accident near Swanton over the weekend.

Committed to Garrett County Jail in Oakland following the mishap, Whitacre appeared before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch Monday afternoon. Unable to post collateral, he was incarcerated again until about 8 p.m. No date for trial has been set.

State Police said Whitacre was driving the car which hit a utility pole Saturday night and fatally injured William F. Stewart, 32, also of Vindex.

Increase In Volunteer Fire Company Funds Is Refused

The request of 19 volunteer fire companies for a $200 increase each was turned down by the Allegany Board of Commissioners yesterday.

Joseph Wenrich, a representative of the fire companies, was informed that the board understood the need for more funds for the companies, but that the probable expense to the county under the proposed civilian defense setup will be heavy.

Wenrich said that the volunteer fire companies will be a major part of the civilian defense program and the recommendations of the City of Cumberland Fire Department is for each company to get 1,500 feet of fire hose and 15 portable pumps for distribution in the immediate areas of industries.

Under this setup the county and incorporated municipalities will bear part of the cost. It is expected that the federal and state governments will provide funds for the program under a matching fund system.

Using this method the volunteer fire companies would obtain needed equipment and the matching fund program would result in a big saving to the county and municipalities.

If the county should pay $200 to each fire company the total would be $3,800, but if this sum were used on a matching fund basis with the money to be furnished by the federal and state government the prospect is that three times that much would be available.

The county funds already appropriated for the 19 companies may only be used to buy new equipment and for the repair of fire trucks and buildings. Other funds expended by fire companies must be raised from other sources.

Fort Hill, LaSalle Win; CCNY Star Admits Taking Bribes

Ridgeley High Beaten 58-55 By Sentinels

Score Tied 17 Times, Hilltoppers Eke Out 19th Win Of Season

A scrappy Ridgeley team extended Fort Hill's Sentinels last night before bowing to Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team by the score of 58-55 in a fast and exciting battle on the Ridgeley court before Ridgeley's largest crowd of the season—543 paying patrons.

The score was tied 17 times in this thriller and Fort Hill finally sewed it up in the closing minutes with three quick goals after the count had reached 51-50 in the Hilltoppers' favor.

Ridgeley held a slight edge in the first half of the battle — leading 8-7 at the quarter and 29-25 in intermission but Fort Hill came back in the third stanza to grab the long end of a 47-44 count.

Ridgeley, still in the running for West Virginia Region No. 4 title, has won 12 games and lost 11. Fort Hill, contender for Maryland's Class "A" title, has won 19 and lost 2.

Fort Hill scored 22 goals in 85 shots and hooped 14 of 21 charity tosses. Ridgeley scored on 19 of 74 tries from the field and sank 17 of 28 free throws.

Carl Hartman of Ridgeley led the scoring procession with 20 points. Lynn Beightol of Fort Hill was runner-up with 19. Ridgeley's Abe had 18 and Schley Lyons of the Sentinels helped himself to 14 points.

Two players were ejected on personal fouls — Glen Wilson going out in the 3rd period while Albert Decker made his exit in the final stanza. Lineups:

Stadium Inn Defeats Frostburg K-C, 2-1

Stadium Inn, Frostburg, tied the Century Club for the runner-up spot in the Men's National Shuffleboard League of Allegany County, by scoring a 2-1 victory over the Frostburg Knights of Columbus last night.

Century and Stadium have 11-4 records and are two full games back of the pace-setting Cumberland K. of C.

Gracie of Stadium Inn and E. Jackson of the K. of C. tied for high point honors with 21 each.

Two Browns Sign

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 27 (AP) — The signing of two more players was announced as the St. Louis Browns headed westward today to open their spring training at Burbank, Calif.

The latest to come to terms with the club arep itcher Duane Pillette, who won three and lost five last season, and second baseman George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss.

Pete Reilly, 61, Pilot Of Boxing Champions, Dies

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — Pete Reilly, 61, well known prize fight manager, died today at his home in Brooklyn.

Reilly was one of the most colorful figures in boxing and was especially known as a practical joker at training camps. He managed Jack Delaney, who won the light heavyweight title in 1926; and four featherweight champions, Bat Battalino, Freddie Miller, Andrew Routis and Pete Scalza. He also was associated with the late Joe Jacobs in managing Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion.

Recent fighters he has handled include Roman Alvarez and Billy Murphy.

Lloyd Marshall Knocked Out By Cockell In 1st

Turpin Also Scores KO In London Match

LONDON, Feb. 27 (INS) — Randolph Turpin, British middleweight champion, won the European title tonight with a 48-second knockout over Luc Van Dam, Dutch champion, in Harringay Stadium.

Turpin immediately challenged Sugar Ray Robinson to a bout for the world's title now held by Robinson. Van Dam was one of Robinson's knockout victims on the American's recent visit to Europe.

This was Turpin's sixth straight knockout. In his last fight he scored a 45-second kayo over Eduardo Lopez of Spain. In that instance a short hook to the jaw turned the trick. A series of rights and lefts accounted for Van Dam tonight.

Don Cockell, British light heavyweight, flattened the veteran American, Lloyd Marshall of Cleveland, in 35 second of the first round.

Cockell and Marshall met once before when Marshall was disqualified for a low blow.

Johnson Signs Pact, Berra And Byrne Out

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 27 (AP) — Billy Johnson, third baseman, has signed his 1951 contract with the New York Yankees and will fly from his home at Augusta, Ga., to the team's spring training camp here.

It is said unofficially his contract calls for an estimated $15,000 for the year.

Signing of Johnson leaves only two of the regulars still unsigned. They are Yogi Berra, catcher, who is still in his St. Louis, Mo., home, and Tom Byrne, left handed pitcher,of Wake Forest, N. C.

Wake Forest Wins

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Wake Forest College baseball team, representing the United States, piled up ten runs in the first inning and coasted to a 29-3 victory over Argentina today in the Pan-American Games.

It was the first international baseball game ever played in this country. The Argentines fielded an inexperienced squad that didn't have a chance against the Americans.

LaSalle Hits Season High At Paw Paw

Rolls Up 76-58 Win, Ackerman Scores 33

Paced by Paul Ackerman who netted 33 points on fourteen field goals and 5-6 fouls, LaSalle High School's Explorers trounced the Paw Paw High School Mountaineers last night at Paw Paw, W. Va., by the score of 76-58.

The victory was the 11th against 10 losses for Coach Art Slocum's quint which rolled up its highest total of the season in sweeping the series with the Morgan countains. LaSalle defeated Paw Paw here, 43-26.

Ackerman's point total was the highest credited to a LaSalle player in a single game this season. Doug Connally heaved in 14 tallies and Jim Moran collected an even dozen.

Perry Rockwell and Donald Largent were Paw Paw's chief point getters with 21 and 17. Largent had eight baskets and Rockwell seven.

The teams battled to a 13-13 draw in the first period then La Salle stepped away to a 35-29 lead at halftime and held the long end of a 54-44 score in the third period.

Twenty-seven personal fouls were called on Paw Paw and 19 on La-Salle. Largent, Miller and Robey of the home team were ejected on personal fouls.

Paw Paw concluded its first season under Coach Robert Hartman with a 10-10 record. Lineups:

Charley Keller Signs Contract

Keeps Pinch Hitter Role With Detroit

FREDERICK, Md., Feb. 27 (AP)—Charley Keller announced today he has signed a 1951 contract to continue his pinch hitting chores for the Detroit Tigers.

The long-time Yankee star declined to reveal the financial arrangements. Only a few days ago he had said he was thinking about giving up baseball.

Keller said he will leave Thursday for the Tiger training camp at Lakeland, Fla.

The one-time University of Maryland star is heading into his twelfth year of major league baseball. His massive arms and shoulders made him a slugging star for the Yankees in ten of these seasons. A back injury and the resulting operation started him on the decline four years ago. He is now 34.

Keller signed with the Tigers last year after being released by the Yankees and was Detroit's No. 1 pinch hitter. He wound up with a .300-plus batting average, although playing only infrequently until the latter part of the season.

Keller was born near here and lives in Frederick during the winter.

Pennsy Lawmakers Want Pari-Mutuels

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 27 (AP) — A trio of Philadelphia lawmakers opened a fight in the General Assembly today to legalize horse race betting in Pennsylvania.

The trio, Reps. Frank Costa, Cornelius J. Loftus and John R. McCormack, all Republicans, introduced a bill last night establishing race tracks and authorizing pari-mutuel betting in the Keystone State.

Byrnes Turns Donor • • • Can I Go Now, Coach?

By C. V. BURNS

Johnny Byrnes, the Eckhart grocer, and mainstay of Cumberland Colts' baseball teams for eight seasons, notes the time the Dobbins played in Scottdale, Pa., and the merchants of the mill town had offered a flock of prizes to the player who made the first hit, first extra base hit, first home run, etc. The donors of the prizes failed to designate whether players of both teams were eligible.

Cumberland batted first and Byrnes was the first player to hit. In fact, Johnny belted a home run and that entitled him to prizes for the first hit, first extra base hit and first home run.

It was an embarrassing moment for the home club when it came to distributing the prizes.

Byrnes was asked whom he thought was entitled to the awards and he replied:

"The players of the home team, of course."

They were very much relieved when Johnny disqualified himself.

Byrnes recalls that the player who earned a couple of those prizes was Jimmy O'Connor whose dad died last week in Pittsburgh. Jimmy first played at Wheeling and later joined Scottdale. His father was an official of the Wheeling team in 1925.

Alvin "Bo" McMillin, the new head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles football team, is a gifted a story teller and one of his favorite yarns concerns the time his Indiana team continually messed up a spinner play. "Bo" made them run it through so often in a tireless search for perfection that the entire squad was exhausted, particularly one Negro halfback. The exasperated McMillin gathered the boys around him.

"We'll practice this play," he roared, "until you're all black in the face."

Up spoke the Negro, who asked: "Can I go now, coach?"

Two years ago the South Atlantic Association (AAU) boxing championships were held here and three local mittmen, Earl Smith, 118; Jim Folk, 135, and Randall "Skeets" Starkey, 160, qualified for the nationals in Boston where they were stopped.

This year's S. A. A. meet is set for March 14, 21 and 28 at the Baltimore Coliseum but we doubt if there will be any entries from this section. because there were not more than a half dozen local boys available when the sport did a fadeout here last November.

Everett High School's basketball team figured in a game that had a riotous ending the other night at Bellwood, Pa., and Coach Claude Larimer of the Bedford county team blames "incompetent officials" for all the trouble.

The contest between Everett and Bellwood-Antis came to an abrupt end nine seconds before the final whistle when Bellwood fans surged on the floor to take part in a scrap then in progress between several members of the opposing teams.

In the third period Dillin of Bellwood and Bertram of Everett was tossed out of the game for fighting, according to Larimer. Then Hoffer of Bellwood and Shoemaker of Everett began "roughing it up." Hoffer hit Shoemaker and floored him. No fouls were called and Tewell jumped on Hoffer. Then the spectators poured on the floor.

Larimer called the Everett players from the floor for their own safety but three Everett boys already had been hit.

"The game's outcome is secondary," Larimer explained. "We're protesting the fact that the fans invaded the playing floor and beat up our players. It is the responsibility of the home management to police the spectators."

Hogan Says Layne Got $3,000 For Fixing Three Cage Games

Payoff Includes $500 Bonus; Two Remaining Games Are Cancelled

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said today that another of City College of New York's championship basketball stars admitted taking part in the fixed games.

He is Floyd G. Layne, the 10th metropolitan star or former player to be questioned about collegiate sports' greatest scandal.

The purported confession came shortly after CCNY quit basketball for the rest of the season, its officials discouraged and disgusted with the spreading scandal.

Hogan said Layne admitted taking part in the fix of three games for which he received $2,500 in bribes and $500 in "bonuses."

The district attorney said Layne was mixed up with three other CCNY stars in a bribery setup bankrolled by jeweler Salvatore T. Sollazzo.

Sollazzo hitherto has been regarded as the brains behind the entire scandal.

However, Hogan said during the day he has evidence that at least one other fixer—whom he did not identify—was working behind the scenes of big-time basketball.

Layne tried hard to resist the lure of easy gambling money, Hogan said, before he finally gave in and joined his teammates in the three fixes.

Names Games Fixed

The district attorney said the fixed games were with Missouri Dec. 9, Arizona Dec. 28 and the Boston College game Jan. 11.

These were the same three games which three of Layne's CCNY teammates are said to have admitted fixing.

Hogan said Layne never was paid off for the Boston College game but did not explain why.

In addition to the fixed games, Hogan said Layne got a $250 bonus for CCNY games with Washington State Dec. 14 and St. John's Jan. 2.

The district attorney said Layne was not required to do any fixing in these games. The money was to "sweeten" Layne and the other bribed players for future sellouts, Hogan said.

The 22-year-old Layne, a negro from the Bronx, is a CCNY junior and has played basketball for two seasons.

Layne is the fourth of CCNY's "Cinderella" stars drawn into the fixing scandal.

He and the others boosted CCNY into the top rung in both the National Invitation and the N. C. A. A. tourneys last year — a dual victory never before accomplished. The feat earned the "Cinderella" title for CCNY.

Miller Bribed In 1948

Layne was called to the district attorney's office about 24 hours after Natie Miller, one-time Long Island University star was called on the carpet. Miller admitted late last night that he was bribed in 1948, authorities said.

CCNY became the second of three schools in the big scandal to suspend cage activity for the rest of the season.

LIU called off the rest of its games last week and said it was quitting all intercollegiate activity. However, authorities later said this decision might be reconsidered.

The other school involved, New York University, did not cancel any games. But one of its two remaining games was washed out by CCNY's decision to quit. The other, with Fordham at the 69th Regiment Armory here Saturday, is still on.

As the district attorney's office brought in 10 more detectives to dig into the mess, President Harry N. Wright of CCNY said in a statement:

Calls Off Two Games

"In view of the more recent developments and the further disclosures by the district attorney, it is felt that the college no longer should continue to meet its scheduled obligations in the present atmosphere of uncertainty and suspicion."

CCNY had two scheduled games left — including a March 6 clash at Madison Square Garden with NYU, its traditional intra-city rival. The other Thursday night was with Manhattan College, also at the Garden.

The two CCNY games were the only major ones left at the Garden this season. The LIU-Valparaiso match originally planned as part of a March 1 doubleheader, was cancelled.

Despite "fix" revelations—costing CCNY the services of three of the four involved stars — the school played last week and beat Lafayette 67-48. Layne starred in that game as high scorer with 20 points.

Miller was accused of taking $1,500 in bribes to fix two Madison Square Garden games involving LIU in 1948. LIU lost both — one to Bowling Green and the other to Western Kentucky.

Altoona And Spas Play Here Sunday

Coach William V. Keegan last night announced that the Cumberland Spas will play hosts to the Altoona Flyers here Sunday night at 9 o'clock in an All-American Basketball League game.

Keegan expressed some doubt about Saturday night's game being played in Altoona because the Flyers have advised him they can't get the Jaffa Mosque floor for the contest.

Only four more league games remain on the Spas' schedule—two with Altoona and two with Beaver Falls.

Erie is scheduled to play in Wheeling tonight.

The Rice Institute Owls do not have one varsity quarterback returning for the 1951 football season.

Carl Hartman Sets Four All-Time PVC Scoring Records

Ridgeley Ace Posts Average Of 29 Points

Scores 348 Markers, Makes 29 Baskets, 62 Points In Game

Carl Hartman

Carl Hartman, sharpshooting forward of the Ridgeley High School Blackhawks, hung up four all-time scoring records in the Potomac Valley Conference this season.

Hartman amassed a grand total of 348 points in 12 games for the amazing average of 29 points per game and on February 20 in a game against the West Virginia Deaf School, the Hawks' shooting wizard racked up 29 field goals and 62 points for two additional records.

George Fisher, center of Moorefield's unbeaten conference champions, and winner of the scoring title in 1950, finished in the runner-up spot this year with 332 points for 17 contests. His average was exceptionally high at 19.5 points per game.

Bob Petry of Romney was the third player to finish with better than 300 points.

He garnered 307 markers in 16 games for an average of 18.8.

Carroll Michael of Petersburg led the scoring early in the campaign but finished up in fourth place with 291 points.

Longshots Score And Return $731 In Daily Double

95 Persons Collect On Hialeah Winners

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP) — A couple of longshots figured in today's daily double payoff of $731.20 at Hialeah Park, and it was good news for a total of 95 ticketholders who landed on the lucky combination of 7 and 10.

It was started by Fred W. Hooper's Royal Stream in the opening dash for maiden 2-year-olds, and molded in the second by Mrs. S. G. Steckler's Fanborough.

Royal Stream, ridden by Shelby Clark, got home first by four lengths, beating Trick Pilot, the 4 to 5 shot, with ease. Third in the field of 14 youngsters was Charl's Man, a field horse. Time for the three furlongs was .33 2/2. Royal Stream paid $42.10 straight.

Fanborough, making his second start of the winter, led virtually all the way under Joe Culmone, completing the six panels in 1.12 4/5 and paying $28.90. Sky Blue was second and Peraldahyde third. Twelve 3-year-olds competed.

Another upset came when J. M. Seider's Bundlrab, $24.40, won the third by a head from Zuzie B. She was ridden by Apprentice Charles Campbell. Bosmond took third from seven other cheap routers.

Mrs. H. Mart's Gray Marabout, dropping down in company, led from end to end under Bobby Martin in the fourth, a six-furlong jaunt that drew twelve starters. He paid $8.80, beating Signal Code by a length. Swordstown, the choice, was a driving third. The time was 1.12.

Cabrelli To Coach Washington's Ends

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Larry Cabrelli, who played and helped Earle (Greasy) Neale coach the Philadelphia Eagles to four eastern and two league titles in the National Football League, has officially signed and checked in as the Washington Redskins' end coach.

The former Colgate end, who was one of the NFL's finest defensive wingmen in his playing career from 1941 through 1948, is the second end coach in Tribe history. The only other they have ever had was former Notre Dame and Redskins star Wayne Millner.

Except during Millner's time, the staff has been restricted to three men—a head coach, a backfield coach and a line coach.

Draft Boards List Sixteen

Sixteen Allegany county men will report March 12 in Martinsburg, W. Va., for induction into the Armed Forces.

Frostburg Draft Board No. 30 will send ten:

Billy D. Pearce, John R. Martin, Gerald E. Rankin, Kenneth M. Kenner and Harold E. Wilt, all of Westernport; Joseph W. Weimer, Mt. Savage; Earl P. Stewart, Lonaconing; Norman D. Filsinger and Robert W. Wright, Eckhart, and James B. Martin, Clarysville.

Leaving from Board No. 29 here will be Olin Calvin Moody, Route 6, Homewood Addition; John Russell Grabenstein, Jr., Route 5, Winchester Road; Earl Kenneth Potts, Route 6, Roberts Place; Albert Joseph Lawler, 214 Fayette Street; Charles Ernest Easton, Riverdale, and Robert Franklin Ogilvie, 524 Fairmont Avenue.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator of Cumberland boards, said the contingent will depart at 5:55 a. m. at Queen City Station. The Frostburg group will meet at the Gunter Hotel there for the trip to this city.

Twenty-five registrants of Board No. 27 and a physician will report March 5 in Martinsburg for pre-induction physical examinations. Four inductees will accompany them.

Packaged white cake mix may be baked fresh in a loaf pan and served hot, as you would a cottage pudding, with a sweet sauce. You can melt currant jelly and use it for the sauce, if you like, or you can use chocolate sauce.

FOUR ATTRACTIVE CO-EDS, these candidates for queen of the 20th annual Middlebury College Winter Carnival and national invitation skiing competition, at Middlebury, Vt., will give the judges a difficult time picking winner. They are (rear, l. to r.): Margaret Curry, Armonk, N. Y., and Marilyn Murphy, Waban, Mass. In front: Carol L. Heinze, Swarthmore, Pa., and Mary Hench, Rochester, Minn. (International)

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27 (INS)—Next summer seems a long time ahead to plan a motion picture. Yet, summer will be upon us before we know it. When it comes Van Johnson will be given the lead in "When In Rome," a comedy Clarence Brown will produce and direct for M-G-M after he finishes "Angels In The Outfield" with Paul Douglas.

Van Johnson

"When In Rome"—now being written by Charles Schnee, is about a priest en route to Rome who has his clerical vestments stolen by a gangster. The unhappy father, robbed of his identification and his clothes, has a difficult time proving his identity.

There won't be any Broadway play acting for Franchot Tone—this season, at any rate. Franchot and Barbara Payton are in Hollywood after he bowed out of "Let Me Hear That Melody," under the advice of his physician. The medico warned Tone he must take at least a two-month rest before he attempts anything as strenuous as a New York play, so Melvyn Douglas steps into Franchot's shoes.

There are also other rumors flying about which give another side to this picture. Franchot, who promised Barbara a chance at Broadway when she trouped the straw-hat circuit with him last summer in "The Second Man," fell at odds with the producers when they refused to cast her as his leading lady. She was willing to bow out, but he refused to be separated from her.

C. B. De Mille, between a moving camera crane and an onrushing jeep, had to jump for his life when the driver of the jeep failed to see the veteran director in his path for a scene in "Greatest Show On Earth."

Knowing him for many years, I can say that had C. B. broken his neck instead of his right shoulder, he would have finished his work.

Several years ago, when he had a bad accident on the set, an ambulance was sent for him. De Mille got in and completed the day's work from the cot, giving his directions through the glass window.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Winthrop Rockefeller's interest in Actress Gretchen North is the real McCoy. He flew from Venezuela last week to be near her in New York.

Kay Buckley is in Mexico City to end her scant four-week marriage to J. Arthur Warner in the divorce courts. She isn't listening to his annulment talk.

Far from retiring from the night spots—Nicky Hilton was with Gloria De Haven at the Cafe Gala.

Uncle Sam gets Vic Damone right after he completes his four-week P. A. in Boston. Vic's in New York spending all the time he can with his mother.

David Selznick, lunching with Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna at Hillcrest, reviving talk that there's something in the air for Jennifer Jones with the boys.

Lili St. Cyr, in her bubble bath, drew a good weekend crowd to Ciro's. Bob Taylor, just back from New York, was with the Sam Marxes. At the next table, Ava Gardner with the Joe Kaufmans—and Howard Hawks showed up with his new find (his heart, too, maybe?) pretty Dee Hartford.

Also spotted among the "bubbling" ringsiders—Marilyn Maxwell and Doug Whitney.

Due to a bad long distance connection from New York the tip that June Havco is replacing Celeste Holm in "Affairs of State" did not come from June, herself. June's still in Malibu.

In No. 1 spot on the fan mail list at Warners is Doris Day.

Didn't I say it would be nothing flate before Steve Cochran followed Ginger Rogers to La Quinta? He leaves this week.

Irene Dunne and Dr. Griffin and Loretta Young and Tom Lewis had the Turf Club table right above me. First time I've seen those two belles at the races.

Also saw Doris and Jules Stein, Joseph Schenck, Walter Wanger, Louis B. Mayer, Bill Goetz, Sam Goldwyn and Frances in various stages of winning or losing.

Linda Darnell and Charlie Feldman stopping by Bublichki for dinner before going on to a preview.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Insurance Company Shows Rapid Growth

Ray F. Hamner, district manager of the Cumberland branch office of the Home Beneficial Life Insurance Company said yesterday that the company annual report shows exceptional growth during 1950.

He added that W. E. Wiltshire, president of the Richmond, Va. firm announced after a recent Board of Directors meeting that at the close of the year insurance in force amounted to $402,086,419, an increase of over $34 million for 1950.

During the past year the Home Beneficial has paid over $5 million to living policyowners and beneficiaries of policyowners who died during the year.

Joseph F. Tippen Wins Promotion At Amcelle

It was announced yesterday that Mr. Joseph F. Tippen of 703 Louisiana Avenue has been promoted to supervisor in the twisting department at Amcelle. He will fill the vacancy created by promotion of Robert D. Peebles to head of the coning department as a replacement for William T. Stearn, who was transferred to the Corporation's new plant at Cali, Colombia, South America.

Tippen was employed at Amcelle in December, 1929, and has served in various departments of the Textile Section. His most recent assignment was Shift Supervisor in the Twisting Department.

Keyser Chamber Will Hear Talk On Promotion

Lowry Will Speak At Event Tonight

KEYSER, W. Va. — T. Warner Lowry, manager for the Potomac Light & Power Company, in Keyser, and chairman of the Industrial Promotion Committee of the Keyser, - Mineral County, Chamber of Commerce, will deliver the principal talk at the chamber's annual membership dinner-meeting this evening.

Election of officers for the year beginning April 1, will be conducted, and in addition the "Kick-off" for the new member contest will be staged.

The dinner-meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows Temple on North Mineral Street, beginning at 6:15 p. m., with Ralph O. Martin master of ceremonies. Fred Davis, president, will have charge of the business meeting.

Lowry, will point out the industrial promotion activities of the chamber in the past year. As chairman of the committee, he has been very active compiling information concerning Mineral county's advantages and endeavoring, at all times, to develop prospects for new industry to locate here.

Three members will be elected to the board of directors of the chamber at the business session. Chester J. Compton, membership chairman, pointed out that the membership will be short and snappy. The contest will get under way following tonight's gathering and the expiration date is Thursday, March 8. The captains were recently appointed and their co-workers will be the present members, divided into two groups. Six prizes will be awarded. They are now on display in the show windows of Markwood's Furniture Store, on North Main Street.

C. Arnold Ludwick, Jr., and Roy Davidson are captains of the teams that will be named from the two membership groups tonight.

The contest for queen will be held Friday night in the Somerset High School auditorium. Miss Reich, who is 16 years old, will give a musical reading as her talent number. After graduation from high school she plans to enter the University of Pittsburgh. The Maple Festival will be held in Meyersdale April 13 and 14.

State Senators In West Virginia Debate Salaries

CHARLESTON, W. Va., 27 (AP)—The Senate got off its dignity today to engage in a free-for-all political debate over raising the salaries of department heads of state government.

Harry E. Moats, Republican lawyer from Harrisville, waded into the thick of the fray with an unsuccessful move to delay consideration of 20 pay raise bills, saying:

"We are losing school teachers in West Virginia, but I haven't heard of losing any department heads."

All of the 20 salary measures ultimately were passed by the senate.

Moats charged that more than half the members of the Legislature are working for the state, and some of the other half have relatives on the state payrolls.

"Many of these men have liquor contracts with the state," Moats asserted, and declared the Democrats are "tearing down the democratic system of government in West Virginia" by their actions.

Moats also criticized Governor Patteson for making a personal appearance before a Senate committee to urge approval of the soda pop tax to finance the proposed four-year medical school.

Chairman Hardesty (D-Marion) of the finance committee, before which group Patteson appeared and which late yesterday voted out the tax measure, criticized what he regarded as the lack of good taste in dragging in the Governor's name "over the matter of department heads' salaries."

Frostburg Red Cross Workers Will Meet

FROSTBURG—Red Cross workers will meet Thursday, 7:30 p. m., in Firemen's Hall, Water Street, to receive supplies for the annual drive which is to begin March 5, to raise $1,500.00 in the Frostburg area.

Mrs. N. Fred Stallings, Beall Lane, is chairman of the drive and the zone captains are Mrs. Harrison Givens, Mrs. John Nolan, Mrs. Charles N. Hill, Mrs. Alfred Fritz, Mrs. Martin Hartig, Mrs. Arthur Roe, Mrs. Amer Suter and Mrs. Ida Belle Gordon.

Frostburg Personals

Mr and Mrs. Kenneth H. Grose and son, Washington, Pa., were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Green, 30 Steyer Street.

Nick Caton, of Finzel, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, suffering from a heart condition.

Jack Doran, a surgical patient in Miners Hospital, is reported in fair condition.

Mrs. William D. Elliott, of Route 1, Frostburg, is home from Allegany Hospital, Cumberland.

Mrs. John Johnson and son, 31 Hill Street; Mrs. Donald Blank and daughter, Wellersburg, Pa.; Mrs. John Hersick and daughter, Klondyke; Mrs. Woodrow Crowe and son, Finzel, Garrett County; Mrs. Paul Wolford and son, Frostburg, and Mrs. Roy McKenzie and son, Lonaconing, are home from Miners Hospital.

Captain Winebrenner, who has been in the army 14 years, was recently promoted to the rank of captain. He is a native of Slabtown, near Mt. Savage. His wife is the former Miss Eleanor Brinkman, of Cumberland.

Dump Afire Twice

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Tri-Towns Fire Company of Piedmont and Potomac Fire Company of Westernport answered two fire alarms at the garbage disposal dump two miles east of Piedmont yesterday afternoon.

Gun Club Hears Delegate Kelley On Conservation

Westernport Group Awards Prizes

WESTERNPORT—Estel C. Kelley, member of the House of Delegates from Allegany county, told the 200 members and guests who attended the annual smoker of the Upper Potomac Rod and Gun Club there are too many hunting regulations.

Kelley, former Westernport resident, who now lives in Cumberland, told the group Sunday at the Bloomington Fire Hall, that he thought the State of Maryland should lease some of its land for citizens to construct cabins. The state would derive some revenue from the presently unused property in that way.

Joseph Minke, regional game warden, who introduced Delegate Kelley, said that he hoped the Savage River Dam would be developed for recreational as well as industrial uses.

Membership prizes for those enrolling the most members were presented by Clyde Michael, club president. Two were given by the club and the other by business firms of the Tri-Towns area, Keyser, W. Va. and Cumberland.

First prize of $25 was awarded to Albert Miller, Westernport, who enrolled 88 members. Other prize winners included Melvin Whitfield, 62 members; Cleve Linkswiler, 51 members; Charles Price, Bloomington, 45 members; Ernest Wilson, 43 members; Harry Foreman, 37 members; Francis Humes, 29 members; Clyde Michael, 28 members, Harley Wilson 20 members. Minke was also presented with a prize.

Michaels introduced the other officers of the club. They are Albert Miller, first vice president; Cleve Linkswiler, second vice president; Richard Kline, secretary, and Melvin Whitfield, treasurer.

Following the program a luncheon was served and music was provided by Barry's Swingtettes of Eckhart.

Midland Pupils Plan Assembly

MIDLAND—Second and fourth grade pupils and music groups under direction of Mrs. W. Marshall Fatkin and Mrs. Earl Smith will present the monthly assembly program for Midland Elementary School this afternoon.

The program will open with choral readings by the second graders. Then the second grade rhythm band will present several selections. Each number is written in a form which is considered the first step toward two-part singing.

The instrumental class under direction of Harry Malcom will play "Abide With Me."

Finally, Mrs. Smith's piano pupils will present a number of compositions. Pupils taking part include Jean Miller, Charlotte Durst, Wanda Hitchins, Joyce Wilson, Faye Zacco, Rodney Johnson, Jean Howard, Bobby Kight, Phyllis Harclerode and Brenda Shearer.

Young Girls Club Meets In Lonaconing

LONACONING—The Young Girls club met at the home of Catherine Stephen on Monday evening.

Judy Marshall was elected president; Peggy Stakem, vice president; Rae Ann Eichhorn, secretary; Catherine Stephen, treasurer; and Virginia Ritchie, recreation chairman.

Others present were Donna Pase, Harriet Ann Haran, Norma Ritchie, Ruth Fisher and Brenda Ravenscroft. Games were played and refreshments served.

Tri-Towns Briefs

The Board of Review of the Tri-Towns District Scouters will meet tonight at 7 o' clock, at the Odd Fellow's Hall, Okey Michael, chairman, states.

A public ham supper sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Luke School will be served at the recreation hall of Piedmont Trinity Methodist Church, Thursday, March 8, from 5 to 7 p. m.

Mrs. C. E. Hickerson, Hammond Street, Westernport, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pentz, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Shrine Will Meet

Tri-State Deaths

H. M. SCHOPPERT

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Harry Marshal Schoppert, 75, formerly of here, died Saturday evening at his home in Chillicothe, Ohio.

A native of Piedmont, Mr. Schoppert was a son of the late N. W. and Annie Simmons Schoppert. He was employed at the Luke Plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company for a number of years. He moved to Chillicothe about 20 years ago, where he worked for a paper manufacturing plant there. He retired three years ago.

Mr. Schoppert belonged to the Methodist Church there. His wife died two years ago.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Wright, Chillicothe, Ohio; Mrs. Zonna Bittinger, Hamilton, Ohio, and another married daughter in California; three sons, Marshall Schoppert and Louie Schoppert, both of here, and Harry Schoppert, of Chillicothe; two sisters, Mrs. W. W. Long, Keyser, W. Va. and Miss Alta Schoppert, Keyser; also five brothers Ernest Schoppert, Hastings, Pa.; Joseph Schoppert, Keyser; Oscar Schoppert, Cumberland; Claude Schoppert, Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Corry Schoppert of Piedmont.

Funeral services were held in Chillicothe, Tuesday afternoon with burial there.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Schoppert, and Louis Schoppert of here; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schoppert, Keyser, and Oscar Schoppert and daughter, Mrs. Verna Hicks, Cumberland, attended the funeral service.

ARTHUR R. LOEBER

WELLERSBURG, Pa. — Arthur Richard Loeber, 25, son of Arthur and Leone (Meyers) Loeber, died yesterday morning at his home here.

He was born October 26, 1925, in Cumberland, and was a pitcher for the Wellersburg softball team.

Survivors include a brother, Pfc. Charles Spriggs, Oceanside, Calif., and two sisters, Helen Loeber, at home, and Mrs. Nina Barncord, Corriganville, Md.

The body is at the Zeigler Funeral Home, Hyndman, where rites will be held Friday at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. Frederick Oberkircher, pastor of Hyndman Reformed Church, officiating. Burial will take place in Cook's Cemetery near Wellersburg.

JOHN W. ROSE

OAKLAND — Services were held last Wednesday for John William Rose, 48, Friendsville, who died February 18 in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. Interment was in Addison, Pa., Cemetery.

Mr. Rose was born November 16, 1902, in North Braddock, Pa., a son of Russell Bernard Rose, Friendsville, and the late Agnes (Kennedy) Rose. He was a member of the Pennsylvania National Guard and for the past 30 years had worked for the Sterling Steel Company, Braddock, Pa.

Besides his father, widow and a daughter, he leaves four brothers, Kenneth Rose, Swissvale, Pa.; Daniel Rose, Washington, Pa.; James Rose, Chicago, and E. M. Rose, Meadsville, Pa.

Rev. W. E. Wade and Rev. Howard R. Hall had charge of the rites.

JUDITH K. TURNEY

OAKLAND — Judith K. Turney, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Turney, Mt. Lake Park, who died February 18 at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, was buried in Oakland Cemetery. Rev. Randall Prince officiated.

Born August 1, 1950, she also is survived by a brother, Gary Turney, and one sister, Sharon Grace Turney, at home, and her grandparents, F. J. Turney, Mt. Lake Park, and Mrs. Gertrude E. Hacker, Haywood, W. Va.

Keyser Firemen Open Minstrel

KEYSER, W. Va. — The ticket committee for the Keyser Volunteer Firemen sponsoring the 1951 Minstrels this year, reports the ticket sale has been encouraging and a big turnout is expected at the opening tonight of the two night stand in the auditorium of Keyser High School.

Nat Dantzic, former professional minstrel man, director of the minstrels, has been drilling the various acts into final form and today announced that the various groups and individuals who will have parts in the production, have been working hard and will please the spectators at the performance each night. The show will be presented tonight and Thursday, starting each evening at 8:15.

There are a number of black faced comedians, song and dance numbers, and several specialties.

12 More Mineral Youths Drafted

KEYSER, W. Va.—Twelve additional draftees from Mineral County will be inducted into the armed services on March 15, according to an announcement made yesterday by Mrs. Eileen Stafford, chief clerk of Draft Board No. 36. The young men will leave for Martinsburg and will be assigned to their reception center following induction.

The contingent is composed of Walter Floyd Ours, Robert Theodore Kane, Floyd Howard Bowman, Norman Ward Layton, William Richard Stewart and William Elwood Riggleman, all of Keyser; Kenneth Eugene Doll, Clarksburg, formerly of Keyser; William Edward Devers, New Creek; Luther William Clay, Piedmont; Charles Messmore Luffey, Elk Garden; Gordon Ray Smith, Burlington, and Luther Earl Ashenfelter, Wiley Ford.

Church Group To Show Films

WESTERNPORT — On Sunday and Monday March 4 and 5 two films and slides will be shown at Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, Rev. Robert E. Cassell, said yesterday.

On Sunday at the Sunday School session beginning at 9:45 a. m., "The Book for the World of Tomorrow" will be shown. This film shows the place of the Holy Bible in the world of yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

Monday, March 5 at 8 p. m. the Young Adult Class of the Sunday School will entertain the members of Mt. Calvary and all other interested persons of the Tri - Towns for one hour at the church.

Colored slides on a project of the United Lutheran Church in Hawaii will be shown by Pastor Cassell and also a forty minute color film about the entire route of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Methodist Youth To Hold Meeting

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—A Planning Meeting for Methodist Youth of the Moorefield District will be held at the Keyser Grace Church Saturday, March 3 at 2 p. m. according to Rev. Joe Dryfield, District Director of Youth Work.

Officers from the five subdistricts of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and Dr. Ross Linger, District Superintendent will be present for this meeting. Plans will be completed for the District Spring Institute for youth and youth workers to be held in Keyser Grace Church May 4—5.

Plans for the district camping program will also be made at this meeting. Miss Nancy Belle Kemphfer of Keyser is assisting in the local registration and assignment for the meeting.

Westernport's Former Mayor Dies At His Home

Wm. Ravenscroft Had Been Ill Year

William C. Ravenscroft, 73, former mayor of Westernport, died yesterday at his home, 308 Spruce Street Westernport, after an illness of over a year.

Born December 3, 1877, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ravenscroft. He learned the painting trade at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Shops at Piedmont and in October, 1945, completed 53 years service with the railroad while working at Keyser, W. Va.

He was elected to three two-year terms to the Westernport council and upon the death of Mayor Edward S. Moran he was named mayor by the council July 14, 1948. He served until March, 1950.

Mr. Ravenscroft was a past master of Hiram Lodge, No. 103, A. F. and A. Masons; a member of Bethlehem Chapter No. 14, Order of Eastern Star; Philos Lodge No. 91, IOOF; and an honorary member of the Tri-Towns Rotary Club.

His wife is the former Elizabeth Kalbaugh, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kalbaugh of Mt. Savage. They observed their 50th wedding anniversary December 24, 1949.

Besides Mrs. Ravenscroft, he is survived by a son, Clyde Ellsworth Ravenscroft, Detroit; a daughter Mrs. Bruce Montgomery, Keyser; two sisters, Miss Anna Ravenscroft, Westernport, and Mrs. Samuel A. Carr, Rockville, Md.; a brother, Norris Ravenscroft, Westernport; eight grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

The body is at the home.

St. Peter's Alumni Plans Party Tonight

WESTERNPORT — The Alumni Association of St. Peter's High School will sponsor a public card party tonight beginning at 8:30 o'clock at Jake's Place. Bridge, canasta, 500 and setback will be played. Refreshments will be served.

The ticket committee is comprised of Mrs. Joseph McGreevy, Miss Agnes Laughlin, Mrs. Jerome Laffey, Miss Anna Louise Gleeson, Mrs. Frank Woy, Mrs. Richard Woy, Mrs. Harold Fredlock, Mrs. George Ord, Mrs. Rose Welsh, Miss Helen Pendergast, Mrs. Thomas Moran, Miss Christine Welsh and Miss Myrtis Maybury.

Ensemble Will Play After Dinner At Piedmont Church

PIEDMONT ,W. Va.—A program will be presented at a public dinner in the recreation hall of Trinity Methodist Church, Friday evening by the Woodwind and Brass Ensemble.

Musical numbers will be presented following the dinner. The ensemble includes Arthur Kaufman, pianist; Rosamond Jones, marimba soloist; Leonard Gronowsky, clarinet soloist, and William Warren, trombonist and clarinetist. They all have symphonic backgrounds and wide experience in their arts. They have toured the middle west appearing at many colleges and schools.

Their program will include Frank Black's arrangements of the Second Hungarian Rhapsody, gypsy airs and popular numbers.

Proceeds from the affair will be used for necessary repairs to the educational part of the church and for the decoration of the recreation hall. The entertainment is free to those who attend the dinner.

The ensemble will give a concert at Bruce High School, Westernport, on the same afternoon.

A similiar dinner was held last year when the program given by the Ambassador Quartet supplied by the Antrim Bureau.

The committee in charge of the dinner includes John W. Fisher, Vernon L. Frye, Rev. O. Clarence Mitchell and Roylin P. Seaber.

The royal antelope of West Africa is supposed to be the smallest of all cud-chewing animals; it is only a foot high.

Dual Killer Under Guard

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — Charged with the murder of his two elderly brothers and the wounding of two other relatives Saturday night, Jesse Vandevander, about 62, is in a hospital in Harrisonburg, Va. under police guard.

Hospital authorities yesterday said that Vandevander is in "only fair" condition. An attempt on his own life failed after he blasted away with a shotgun to climax a day of bitter quarreling at the family's farm near Cherry Grove, W. Va. He has two rifle bullet wounds in the chest.

State Trooper R. E. Schnell said that Vandevander admitted the shooting, saying the other members of the family had been "picking on me for a long time."

The trooper quoted Vandevander as saying he "lost his head" and blasted away, killing Jacob, a blind brother, and Wayne Vandevander, both in their early sixties.

Virgil Vandevander, 25-year-old nephew of the accused murderer, is reported "improving" at Rockingham Memorial Hospital, Harrisonburg, authorities said. He suffered wounds of the right shoulder and right leg.

Also hospitalized is a woman said to be Jesse's sister, Betty Alice Bennett, about 50, who suffered bullet wounds in the left arm. Amputation of the arm below the elbow was necessary yesterday, hospital attaches reported.

Church Group Will Sponsor Revival

HYNDMAN — The Palto Alto Evangelical United Brethren Church will hold revival services March 4 through March 18. Guest speakers will be ministers from other churches in the area.

Mrs. Sadie Triplett, evangelist from Cumberland, will speak March 4, 5 and 6. Rev. Charles Raley, pastor of the church, is in charge of arrangements.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Love Begins At Forty

LAST summer the intellectual hierarchy at the Columbia Broadcasting System announced triumphantly that they had absconded with one more NBC star, namely Harold Peary who had been "The Great Gildersleeve" on NBC since the year two. Mr. Peary, said CBS, had been signed to a seven-year contract and would create a new show and a new character for that network.

John Crosby

It must have seemed like a bright idea at the time. Events have proved it to be an unqualified disaster both for the network and Mr. Peary. Seven years of the "Harold Peary Show!" I don't even think radio will last that long, much less that program.

•—•—•

The "Harold Peary Show," (CBS 9 p.m., EST Wednesdays), to get down to cases, is a half hour pullulation of middle-aged adolescence. It is laid, an apt word for it, in the fictional small town of Melrose Springs where love among the middle-aged germinates like orchids along the Amazon. Even on "The Great Gildersleeve," Mr. Peary had grave difficulties coping with the opposite sex. The very sight of a g—l set him to giggling and, in general, behaving like a 13-year-old. But, as Gildie, at least he had a few outside interests.

As Honest Harold in his new show, the girls occupy all his time. And, in spite of the fact that he has held hands with an awful lot of babies now, he doesn't seem to be getting any better at it. He still comes apart at the seams at the sight of a pretty face. The dialogue which ensues during these erotic seizures defies description. So I'll describe it anyway.

"Im coming over to see you, Theodora."

"Oh, goodie-woodie!"

Or: "Pucker up, Florabelle."

"I'm puckered."

"I'm tuckered. Let's go home."

These passionate utterances, you ought to be warned, are accompanied by such mewing and lowing and gurgling that you may get the idea you're in a barnyard rather than someone's parlor. All the girls have flowery names like that—Florabelle, Theodora, Evalina. A couple of others are named Tempest and Sunshine, for God's sake. All I can say is that these babes, who are constantly being overtaken by paroxysms of giggling, richly deserve those handles. They generally refer to Honest Harold, you'll be interested to know, as "teddy bear," "tootsie roll" and other forms of endearment too obscene to be printed in a family newspaper.

Love runs rampant even among the old folks on this show. Honest Harold's mother, who belongs to the Sunny Side of Seventy Club, had a brief fling not so long ago with Zeke Rivers, another Sunny Side member. They sat around the parlor making eyes at one another and gorging themselves on peanut brittle. (Take it easy on that peanut brittle, mama. That stuff will kill you if you're not careful.)

No review of the Peary show would be complete without some mention of the Peary laugh, a national phenomenon almost as awe-inspiring as Yellowstone National park. Mr. Peary can laugh in three octaves with such intensity, flexibility and volume that in my vicinity we use the program as a moose call. CBS is so proud of this curious accomplishment that it staged a national laugh contest in 177 cities.

I don't know who won it and I don't care. On "The Great Gildersleeve," the laughter assignment was handled exclusively by Mr. Peary. But on the new show, everyone helps out. Honest Harold's two friends, Doc Yancey and Pete, are both equipped with fruity chuckles and, as mentioned earlier, the girls have almost incessant fits of giggling. In the rare intervals, when the cast isn't chortling, the studio audience is guffawing, sometimes happily drowning out some of that regrettable dialogue. (Didn't succeed in drowning out: "The twosome was gruesome," though. Wish it had.)

When Honest Harold isn't chasing girls, you're likely to discover him playing with his BB gun or his model planes. A case of arrested development all along the line, I guess. I don't know who the Peary show is aimed at, exactly. Not me certainly. Conceivably it is means to inform and instruct the older folks in small towns.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

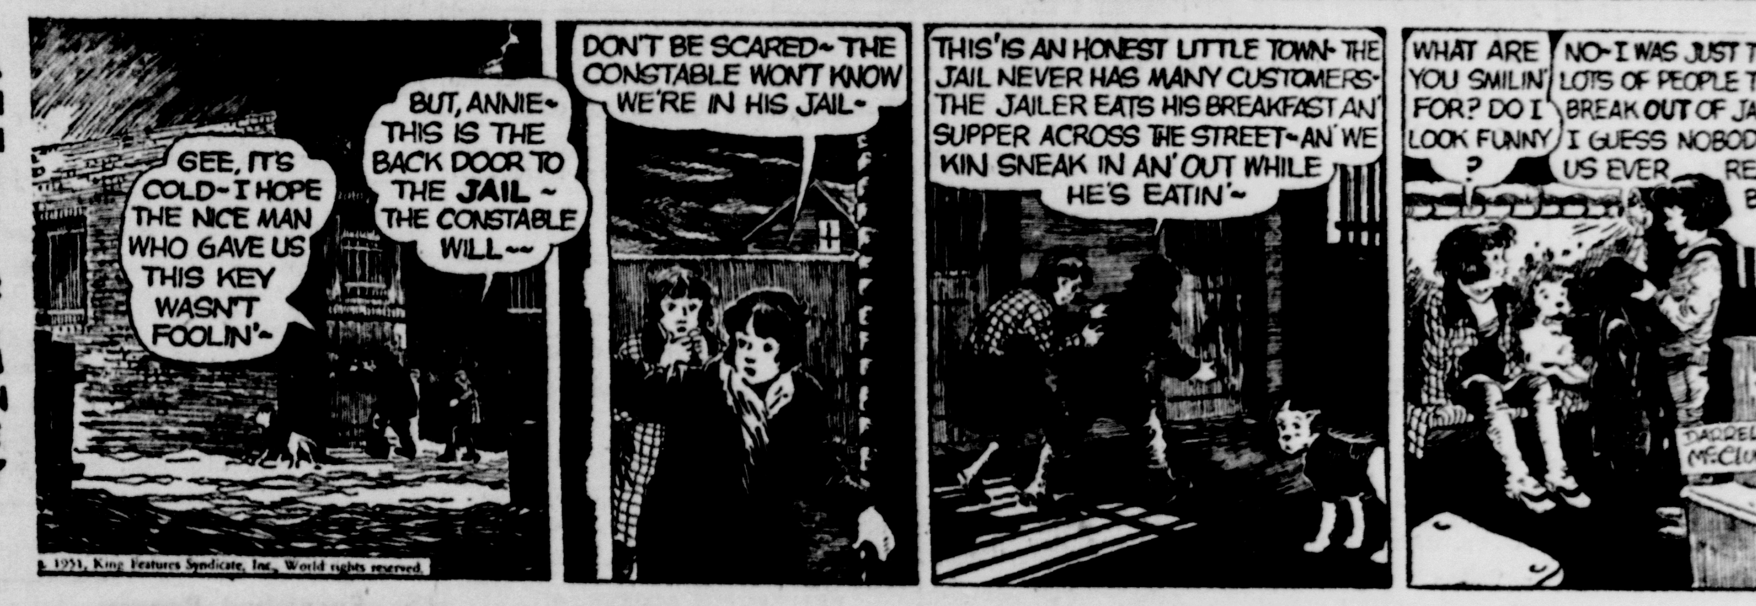
ANNIE ROONEY



GEE, IT'S COLD~I HOPE THE NICE MAN WHO GAVE US THIS KEY WASN'T FOOLIN'~
BUT, ANNIE~ THIS IS THE BACK DOOR TO THE JAIL~ THE CONSTABLE WILL~~
DON'T BE SCARED~ THE CONSTABLE WON'T KNOW WE'RE IN HIS JAIL~
THIS IS AN HONEST LITTLE TOWN~ THE JAIL NEVER HAS MANY CUSTOMERS~ THE JAILER EATS HIS BREAKFAST AN' SUPPER ACROSS THE STREET~ AN' WE KIN SNEAK IN AN' OUT WHILE HE'S EATIN'~
WHAT ARE YOU SMILIN' FOR? DO I LOOK FUNNY?
NO~ I WAS JUST THINKIN' LOTS OF PEOPLE TRY TO BREAK OUT OF JAIL, BUT I GUESS NOBODY BUT US EVER REALLY BROKE IN~

SAY, DOC...D'YOU REMEMBER A GUY NAME DON COYOTEE? HE WAS A SPANISH LIGHT-HEAVY I THINK.
NEVER HEARD A HIM. AST ALEC... HE OUGHTA KNOW.
BEFORE MY TIME. WHY DON'TCHA LOOK IT UP IN NAT FLEISCHER'S RECORD BOOK...SAY HOW'S JOE COMIN' ALONG... THEY SAY HE...
YOU BUMS DON'T KNOW FROM NUTTIN'!
PSSST, LEEMY.
I'M JENNINGS FROM THE MIRROR. I HEARD YOU ASKING ABOUT DON COYOTEE. WOULD YOU BY ANY CHANCE MEAN DON QUIXOTE WHO FOUGHT THE WINDMILL?
THAT'S IT! THAT'S TH' GUY... TH' ONE WHICH FOUGHT AGAINST TH' GREATEST WINMILL STYLE, OF ALL TIME! TELL ME... WHERE KIN I FIND 'IM...

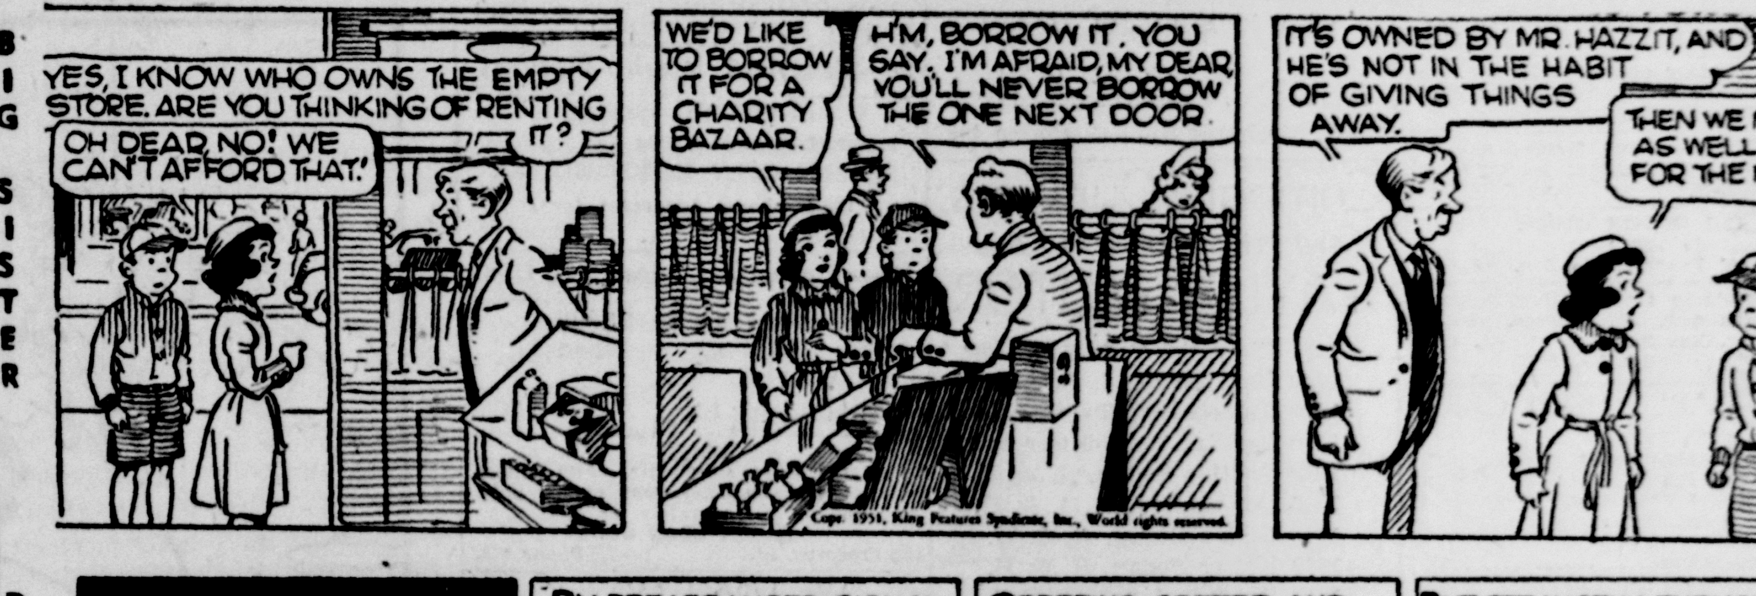
BIG SISTER



YES, I KNOW WHO OWNS THE EMPTY STORE. ARE YOU THINKING OF RENTING IT?
OH DEAR, NO! WE CAN'T AFFORD THAT!
WE'D LIKE TO BORROW IT FOR A CHARITY BAZAAR.
H'M, BORROW IT, YOU SAY. I'M AFRAID, MY DEAR, YOU'LL NEVER BORROW THE ONE NEXT DOOR.
IT'S OWNED BY MR. HAZZIT, AND HE'S NOT IN THE HABIT OF GIVING THINGS AWAY.
THEN WE MIGHT AS WELL WISH FOR THE MOON.

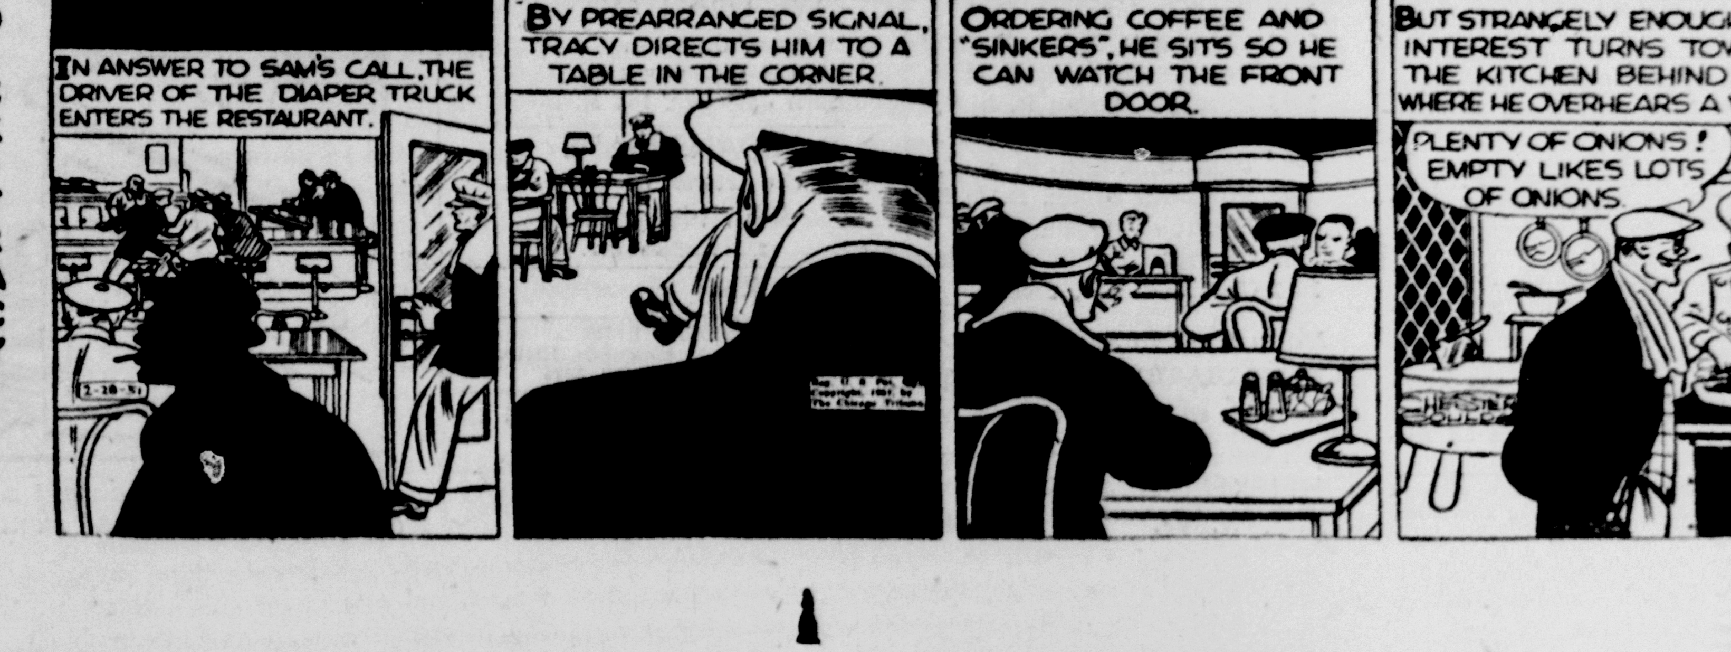
DICK TRACY



IN ANSWER TO SAM'S CALL, THE DRIVER OF THE DIAPER TRUCK ENTERS THE RESTAURANT.
2-28-51
BY PREARRANGED SIGNAL, TRACY DIRECTS HIM TO A TABLE IN THE CORNER.
ORDERING COFFEE AND "SINKERS", HE SITS SO HE CAN WATCH THE FRONT DOOR.
BUT STRANGELY ENOUGH, HIS INTEREST TURNS TOWARD THE KITCHEN BEHIND HIM, WHERE HE OVERHEARS A VOICE.
PLENTY OF ONIONS! EMPTY LIKES LOTS OF ONIONS.

Keyser Man Hit By Railroad Car

KEYSER, W. Va. — Raymond Lewis, 39, of Ward Avenue was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital yesterday afternoon following an accident on Mineral Street "Y" track in the local yards of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Ward, according to witnesses, was standing on the track when a car, shifted by a yard engine knocked him down.

Onlookers stated the man's right arm was either pinched or crushed by the railroad car but the wheels did not pass over the arm. He was reported by hospital attaches as resting "comfortably" last night.

Adult Classes Due At Potomac

KEYSER, W. Va.—A twelve-weeks adult education course will be inaugurated at Potomac State School, Keyser, beginning next Monday. An organization meeting for those interested in the course will be held at 7 p. m. Monday in the college auditorium.

With regular members of the college staff as instructors, the program is planned to give persons in various jobs useful information for improvement in their work and to give other persons a background of general information to suit their particular interests.

Classes will be held one night each week, for three hours.

Those desiring to enroll for the adult education course are not required to have any specific educational background.

The following courses are to be offered: accounting, arithmetic, biology, beginning chemistry, elementary electricity, practical electricity, engineering, drawing, English grammar, first aid, food preparation (meal planning), humanities, office machines, public speaking, industrial psychology, Spanish, trigonometry, typing, sewing and welding.

Lonaconing Briefs And Personals

The Senior 4-H Club will meet next Thursday, March 8, instead of tomorrow as planned. The meeting will be held at the home of Miss Patsy Murphy.

Dr. and Mrs. John Hohing have returned from visiting Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hohing at Summit, N. J.

Mrs. Anna Hohing is visiting in McKeesport, Pa.

Mrs. Harry Chandler, of Westfield, N. J., was a visitor in Lonaconing on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gowans, East Main Street, have received word that their son, Eugene, has been promoted to private first class. Pfc. Gowans is stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Keyser Physician Leaves For Service

KEYSER, W. Va.—Dr. Harry F. Coffman, local physician and member of the United States Air Force Reserve, left yesterday for active duty. He will assume practically the same duties he had during World War I, as a flight surgeon, with the rank of major.

He has been assigned to an air evacuation unit stationed at present at Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, the eastern terminus of the Korean Air Lift. Mrs. Coffman and daughter will remain in Keyser.

Piedmont Women To Hear Swadley

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — James H. Swadley, Jr., Keyser, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Piedmont Woman's Club Thursday evening at the Piedmont Library.

Mrs. Marian Daniels will be the guest soloist. The program is being arranged by Mrs. Flo Clower, chairman of the legislative committee.

Other members of the committee who will serve as hostess include; Mrs. Richard Tibbetts, Mrs. Robert Codire, Mrs. James Ott and Mrs. Mary Wilt.

Keyser Personals

Recent admittances to Potomac Valley Hospital were Mrs. Elmer Sears, Mrs. Edith Eversole, William H. Moreland, Mrs. Ura V. Rotruck, Elmer Yost, Summerfield High, all of Keyser; Melvin L. Gooch, Mannington; Mrs. Cora Travis, Westernport; Mrs. Mary Ellen Boyce, Westernport; Carl Bosley, Piedmont; Mrs. Shirley Farrell, Westernport, and Mrs. Helen Mayhew, Westernport.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pritt, Shaw, announce the birth of a son born Tuesday in the Potomac Valley Hospital.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wiles, Keyser, Monday, at the Potomac Valley Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hull, Westernport, announce the birth of a son, Monday, at the Potomac Valley Hospital.

Donates Two Trees

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Kathleen Todd, West Main Street, donated two large spruce trees, formerly on the family plot in the Frostburg Memorial Park, to Beall High School, as a contribution to the landscaping work now underway on the school grounds. The trees had grown too large for ornamental purposes in their former location.

NOTICE TO DEALERS OF NEW MEDIUM-PRICED PASSENGER CARS

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until 10:30 A. M., at its office in the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, on Tuesday, March 13, 1951, for one (1) new four-door closed sedan of the medium price and weight class.

All bids must itemize delivery price, with heater, defrosters, and seat covers, and indicate approximate delivery date. They must also contain offered price for a 1950 Plymouth Special DeLuxe four-door sedan, in good condition, to be credited on price of new car offered.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

own country, with espionage have brought disgrace upon their families, their parents, their wives, their children.

I knew Laurence Duggan's father, who had been professor at the College of the City of New York and director of the Institute of International Education, a Carnegie benefaction. He was a man of extraordinary capacity for friendship who devoted his life to the international exchange of students. He was an upright American. It must have been a frightful shock to him when Laurence either committed suicide or was killed. It is tough for any father to lose a son, particularly a brilliant son whose career seemed to be so remarkable. Yet, the father could not but have suffered the despair of suspicion.

I should imagine that I am as sentimental about this as Roger Straus, but a fact is a fact, and the facts of the Communist conspiracy must be told. Undoubtedly, some influence was brought to bear on Mr. Straus, but the misery of it is that it is as important to get at the facts of this conspiracy as it is to fight in Korea. Maybe it is even more important.

And if Mrs. Massing's book will add to our knowledge of the facts, then she will have performed an important service to the United States. Nobody has a "moral" right to suppress such facts. It is like suppressing essential evidence in a murder case.

No harm has been done. The book will be published and Mr. Straus will one day have to admit that he made a mistake in confusing his praiseworthy emotions with the vulgarities of essential truth.

Two Distinct Sinking Spells Put Market Down Sharply

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Two distinct sinking spells—one at the start and one at the close—today put the stock market down sharply.

Losses ran to more than $2 a share among leaders, and $1 drops were frequent throughout the list.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about today's session was the volume of business—or rather the lack of business.

Trading came to a total of 1,680,000 shares with prices falling fast. But yesterday when quotations were steady and some of the blue chips turned in sparkling performances the volume came to 1,650,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 80 cents to $94.90. The industrial component of the average lost 80 cents, the rails 90 cents and utilities 20 cents.

The market was unusually narrow with 1,147 individual issues appearing on the tape. Yesterday there were only 1,126 issues traded. Of today's total, 195 ended higher and 764 lower with 28 new highs and three new lows for 1950-51.

Pittsburgh Steel called all class "B" seven per cent preferred for redemption and arrearages were ordered paid on the class "A" five per cent preferred. The common climbed as much as a point but closed off ¼ at 24⅜. The prior preferred was up 2½ at 95, the class "A" up 3 at 116½, and the class "B" up 35 at 265.

Houston Lighting & Power, up sharply last week, lost 1¾ today at 61 after directors announced plans for a three-for-one stock split.

Boeing dropped 2⅛ at 51⅝ after directors voted $1 on common. Last year a total of $3 was paid.

A number of issues did better than the remainder of the market after publishing highly favorable earnings reports. In this class were Douglas Aircraft up ¼ at 104¾, Westinghouse Electric off ⅛ at 37¼, and Avco, the day's most active issue, which closed up ¼ at 8⅜.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DESTROY VITAL ENTRY

THERE ARE two main ways of preventing the defenders from scoring a ruff against your suit contract, though most players usually think of only one. That one is the removal of the outstanding trumps by leads of the suit. The other principal method, well known to all of the top-drawer performers, consists of removing the vital entry from the hand of the player who would have to make the lead which gives his partner a ruff. That must be done before the partner is blank in the suit to be ruffed, or else it is futile.

Pass	Pass	1 ♣	1 ♥
Pass	Pass	Dbl

West led his club 7 to the A and the 4 was returned to the K. South used the diamond A as an entry to lead the heart 3 toward his honors, the K winning over the 10. Next the diamond K put him in dummy for a second trump lead, the heart 8, whereupon East came in with the A and hopefully led the spade 2, trusting West had the K, which he did. He also had the 10, with which he won the trick.

Noticing that East had played the 9 first and then the 3 on the diamond tricks, West read his partner as now blank in the suit. So he led the diamond 10, which East ruffed with the heart J for his side's fourth trick, beating the contract.

South had the same chance as West to observe the size of the cards played by East. He should have spotted the 9 on the first diamond lead. That was certain to be either a singleton or the top of a doubleton, since with any three cards he would have played the bottom. With only one higher card out, the 10, it was impossible for that to be lowest of three. South therefore should have seen his danger clearly, a ruff of diamonds. The only possible entry for West, so he could lead to East for the ruff, was in spades. If that entry could be removed before East was blank in diamonds, then no ruff could ever be scored by the defense.

Therefore, after seeing the diamond 9, South should have led his spade 7 immediately. If East later tried to give West the lead, South could have prevented it by ruffing.

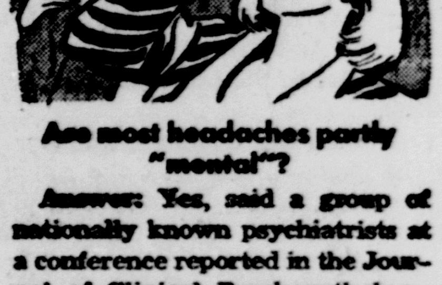
MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

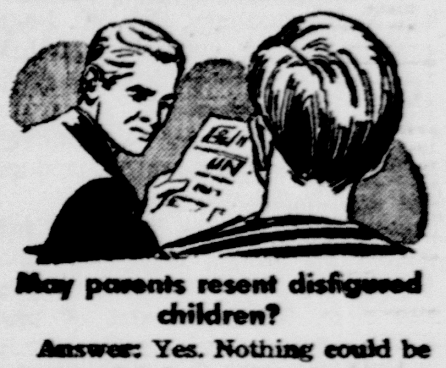
Should you trust a person who won't say "I don't know"?

Answer: I have known professional men who felt that to keep their clients' confidence they must act as if they were omniscient, and they may have been right in the case of childish-minded people. But the fact is, it is as important to admit the limitations of your knowledge as to have confidence in what you know, and as far as I am concerned, an expert of any sort who is not afraid to say "I don't know" seems to me more to be trusted than one who professes to "know all the answers".



Are most headaches partly "mental"?

Answer: Yes, said a group of nationally known psychiatrists at a conference reported in the Journal of Clinical Psychopathology. The majority of headaches treated by physicians have a "psychic" (mental or emotional) component and many are wholly psychic in origin. This is true especially of sufferers who are meek and anxious to please, or who cannot bring themselves to assume adult responsibilty. Headaches with such people are due to physical tensions created by their repressed and unconscious rage at their inability to assert themselves.



May parents resent disfigured children?

Answer: Yes. Nothing could be more unkind or unfair, but many parents do react in this way. I have known men and women whose characters were seriously warped by their parents' feelings about the fact that they were cross-eyed, limped, or suffered from minor deformities like a cleft palate. These unfortunates had been "rejected" by parents who unconsciously felt that having imperfect children revealed defects in themselves. No expense is too big a price to pay for having such disfigurements corrected.

Delegation Will Attend Hearing On Home Rule

Police, Fire Bills To Be Discussed

Mayor Thomas S. Post and members of the City Council will head a large local delegation slated to attend a hearing today in Annapolis on home rule for Cumberland.

The important hearing is scheduled at 3 p. m. before the Judiciary committee of the House.

Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, has appealed on several occasions for a good representation on the hearing of the bill which he declared the "most important single peace of legislation of the ,Assembly" for Cumberlanders.

The Delegation has made no recommendation on the home rule bill but there are indications they are divided in their opinions.

Many of those slated to attend the home rule hearing are expected to stay for a hearing before the Allegany County Delegation at 7:30 p. m. on bills providing wage boosts and increased vacation and sick leave benefits for police and firemen.

The police and fire bills were introduced, by request, by Delegates Driscoll, Kelley, See and Reed, after they were referred to the delegation by Senator Robert B. Kimble.

The House yesterday passed House Bill 271, introduced by the Garrett Delegation, changing the tax levy and due dates in Garrett county.

Firemen List Convention Activities

Plan Variety Show, Picnic And Parade

The 59th annual convention of the Maryland State Firemen's Association to be held here June 20, 21 and 22 will include a variety show, a picnic and a gigantic parade as well as displays and demonstrations of latest fire fighting equipment according to Cromwell C. Zembower, secretary of the convention committee.

Zembower announced results of the committee's work to date and stated the men will meet in the State Armory, while the ladies auxiliaries will convene in the City Shrine Club, both on South Centre Street.

About 180 to 200 of the state's 250 volunteer fire companies are expected to send delegates. Ladies auxiliaries from at least 100 companies will also be present.

The housing committee is making arrangements for accomodations in hotels and private homes within the immediate vicinity of Cumberland for the anticipated crowd.

At the business meeting, state officers will be elected and other affairs of the association will be conducted.

Exact dates for all activities have not yet been set, but the picnic will be held at the Cumberland Fair Grounds on the afternoon of June 21. The convention will be climaxed by the parade on the final day, June 22, with more than $1000 in prize money going to winning fire companies.

The next meeting of the convention committee will be held at LaVale Fire Hall March 11 at 2 p. m., according to Zembower.

LaVale Firemen Celebrate 18th Anniversary

Members of LaVale Volunteer Fire Department heard attorney John M. Robb discuss the growth of LaVale section and stress the importance of building for the generations to follow rather than for this generation, in his address to the 18th annual banquet for the department last night in the fire hall. Edward J. Ryan was toastmaster.

Robb reminsced about his early days in LaVale and told of a fire that wiped out the Allegany Grove section many years ago. He noted that if fire fighting had been organized at that time the then resort area would probably have been saved.

Following the banquet, served by the ladies auxiliary, Rev. Fr. Bogan of Lonaconing conducted a brief memorial service for deceased members of the department.

President Cromwell C. Zembower welcomed the guests and introduced the toastmaster.

Fire Chief Warren Livingood presented his annual report in which he said 22 calls were made during the year. Ten were out of town fires and three were false alarms. Approximate damage during 1950 was $2500 which is low for a community the size of LaVale. Average attendance at fire calls was 15 firemen.

Pastor Hospitalized

Rev. Norman O. Scribner, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, is a patient in Memorial Hospital where he underwent an appendectomy yesterday afternoon. Hospital attaches reported last night he was in satisfactory condition and resting well.

Area Methodist Churches Hold Evangelistic Services

The Methodist churches of Cumberland and vincinity are uniting each evening at 7:30 p. m. in ten days of evangelistic services at Centre Street Church. Rev. Eugene Golay, associate to the executive secretary of the Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church is the speaker. The services conclude on Sunday March 4.

Assisting Rev. Golay tonight will be Rev. W. F. Wright, district superintendent and Rev. Gordon Hall. Union Grove Church choir will sing a special number.

Rev. W. F. Wright, Rev. J. B. Jones, Frostburg, will assist Rev. Golay Thursday. The choir of First Methodist Church, Frostburg will sing.

Rev. Allen B. L. Fisher, Rev. C. L. Beard and Rev. Kenneth Grove will assist Rev. Golay Friday evening. Grace, Trinity and Emmanuel Church choirs will sing as a unit.

Services will be continued Saturday evening with other ministers assisting.

The services will close Sunday evening March 4th. Music will be furnished by combined volunteer choirs.

One of the features of Rev. Golay's visit to Cumberland is a school for training lay workers and ministers in the technique of visitation evangelism. The school will be held in Kingsley Church Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., Thursday at 1:30 p. m. and Friday 10:30 a. m. It is open to all interested laymen. Dr. W. F. Wright superintendent of the Hagerstown District, Methodist Church, is in charge of all services.

Long Praises Retiring Fire Chief Lindner

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long last night sent a letter to Acting Fire Chief William L. Lindner expressing regret at the latter's resignation but commending the fireman for his long service to the city.

Chief Lindner resigned Saturday after more than 30 years in the department here.

Commissioner Long's letter read, in part:

"It is with the greatest regret that I received your letter of resignation as acting fire chief, although, of course, we are all very pleased that you are following the advice of your physician.

"I realize that it was your ambition to remain in the department until you had attained the age of 60; however, your 30 years of fearless, faithful service should make you feel proud indeed and should dispel any disappointment you may feel in not being able to achieve your goal. And now, in behalf of the citizens of Cumberland, I want to extend my own personal appreciation for your long years as a courageous and efficient fire fighter.

"That you may soon be in the best of health and able to enjoy a well-earned vacation is the earnest wish of your many friends . . ."

WEATHER

Despite predictions for moderate weather, mercury dropped sharply last night after dark. Highest temperature recorded yesterday was 60. Low was 45. It was 48 last night at 9 o'clock. The wind that made many local residents uncomfortable reached a speed of 40 miles per hour at one time last night, causing some damage to electric wires on Reservoir Avenue near Fort Hill. Today's forecast calls for cloudy and mild.

10 Of 23 Marine Reservists Sent Back To County

Age Requirement Change Aids Boys

Ten of the 23 Allegany county high school senior boys who accelerated their final year in high school so they could go on active duty with the Marines are back home looking for jobs, it was learned last night.

These young men, all of whom were in the Marine Reserves, were told last summer they would have to speed up their last year in school if they wanted to be allowed to complete their high school education.

This they did, through the cooperation of school officials, and finished their studies at the end of January.

During the first few days of February these boys departed for service. Shortly, they began returning and now 10 of the 23 are back in the county.

It is understood that since the time the boys began to accelerate their high school education, the Marine Corps has changed its regulations. Now, no reservists are required to go into active service until they reach their 19th birthday.

The young men, most of whom are under 19 years of age, could waive their rights and go into active service. Some of them did. But seven of the boys came back from Parris Island, S. C., where they had been sent from Washington, D. C. Three others were returned home from Washington because of physical difficulties.

Eleven of the 23 young men were from Allegany High School. Of these only four are now on active duty. Two were sent back because of eye or teeth deficiencies and five others because they are only 18 years old and did not waive their rights.

Nine Fort Hill High School seniors were in the group. Only one of them has returned to Cumberland. Two boys from Central High School, Lonaconing, also headed for the Marines early this month, but one of them has been sent back for three months to have his teeth fixed. The one Beall High School, Frostburg, senior who was slated for active Marine duty also is back at his home.

Committee Heads Named In "Miss Cumberland" Pageant

Committee chairmen and assistants of the "Miss Cumberland" pageant were appointed at a meeting last night at 8 p. m. of the Junior Association of Commerce in its office in the Liberty Trust Building.

Donald R. Coomber, director of the pageant, said that the committee thoroughly discussed the plans for operation of the fifth annual pageant.

Committee chairmen and assistants are Entries, George C. Thomason, William Kelley, Richard Sell, Barbara Fulton, Jean Dixon, and Nadine Atkinson Gurley.

Publicity, Warren Mullenax; Awards, Joseph Betz, John Mac Veigh, Bert Graham; Judges, Paul Buchanan, Thomas Conlon; Programs, Kenneth Long, Arthur Morgan, Francis Torrington, Eldred Steinman, Ralph Higgins.

Tickets, Henry Sauer, Walter Neff, Herman Grabenstein; Staging, Robert Davis, Richard Sell, George Carney, Jr., John Price.

Miles Amick has been appointed associate director and Raymond Dorn will be in a supervisory capacity.

AFL Seeks Curb On Extra Work By City Workers

Delegation Will Attend Hearing

The Allegany Trades Council will try to secure legislation prohibiting Cumberland firemen and police from engaging in other work during off hours.

This was revealed last night at a meeting of the AFL Central Body, when plans were made for a delegation to attend a hearing slated today at 7:30 p. m. in Annapolis on bills which would provide wage increases and vacation and improved sick leave benefits for members of the police and fire departments.

The labor delegation will be headed by C. E. Bramble, president of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), of Cumberland.

Officials said the Trades Council will seek to have the legislation amended by a clause which would prohibit members of the department from engaging in gainful employment other than on their city paid job.

Appeal Unsuccessful

Some time ago, officials said, an unsuccessful appeal was made to the Cumberland Civil Service Board to halt the practice.

AFL officials said a number of city employes, especially from the fire department, have for years spent a great deal of their off time doing painting, paperhanging, electrical work and other such work and, in effect, taking such work away from union craftsmen.

They said much of this work is done on the alternate weeks when firemen are allowed to sleep while on 14-hour night duty.

Officials said a number of cities have legislation prohibiting city employes from accepting other gainful employment.

Pay Bill Hearing Tonight

The hearing on the legislation, HB 357, 358 and 359, will be held at 7:30 p. m. before the Allegany County Delegation.

In general, the bills raise the base pay for city firemen and policemen from $190 a month to $65 a week, paid bi-weekly instead of monthly; increase paid vacations from 15 to 21 days, and accumulative sick leave from 60 to 90 days.

Cost of the plan per man is estimated to run from $765 to near $1,000 a year, depending on rank.

Legion Post To Observe Anniversary

Plans for the observance of the anniversary of the founding of the American Legion were completed at a bi-monthly meeting of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion last night in the legion home.

Albert M. Kerns, Sr., post commander said that an initiation of new members, a floor show and a dance will highlight the March 17 affair. Sixty-seven will be initiated in a public ceremony at the legion home at 7:30 p. m.

The present membership is 853. The Post expects to surpass last years membership drive.

The dance will get underway at 9 p. m. and a floor show is included on the evening's program.

Norris Jones, chairman of a special activities committee said that beginning March 17, movies will be shown at the post home on Saturday mornings from 10 a. m. to noon for children from six to 12 years of age.

After Easter the Legion Post will sponsor weekly dances on Saturday nights beginning at 9 p. m.

Forester Post Goes To Thayer

R. Thomas Thayer has been appointed Assistant District Forester, with headquarters in Westminster, District Forester William A. Parr announced.

Thayer, a native of Garrett County, graduated in forestry from West Virginia University in 1950 and has been employed by the Department of State Forests and Parks. He is a veteran of three years' service with the Air Force.

His principal work will be with forest land owners of Carroll and Frederick counties in forest management work. Woodland owners who are interested in aid with their woodland problems may secure it by writing the Department of State Forests and Parks at Bel Air.

Thayer replaces Joseph W. Frescoin of Walkersville, who resigned on January 1 to return to school for an advanced degree.

News Briefs

Central Fire Company and West Side answered a call yesterday afternoon at 2:03 p. m. and extinguished a grass fire in the rear of 217 North Lee, close to the Buchanan Lumber Company. Firemen said the blaze was large, but no extensive damage was caused.

In accordance with a new law regarding display of motor vehicles registration, new Maryland plates for passenger cars and motorcycles may be displayed after tomorrow, the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles has announced.

The City Playgrounds Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. at City Hall.

Unseasonable Winds Blamed For Area Fires

State Burning Law Effective March 1

"This was one time the weather beat the law."

That was the way District Forester William H. Johnson responded yesterday in observing that unseasonable March-like winds had caused forest or brush fires in all four of the Western Maryland counties in this district.

"The law curtailing promiscuous burning of debris and brush doesn't become applicable until Thursday, March 1," Johnson said. He warned residents of the area that for the safety of the forests and homes near woodlands that they should delay burning brush and debris until burning conditions are less favorable.

Sun and Wind Are Factors

"Usually, we don't get spring forest and brush fires until the middle or end of March," Johnson said. "Warm sun the past several days dried the surface and then the 40-mile winds came along to whip over a wide area."

Johnson said that he had heard of only one brush fire in Allegany county. That was near Midlothian, where about one-quarter acre of scrub land was burned. In Garrett county there were two glade fires, but no less was reported, the forester added.

Two more serious fires occurred in Washington county, east of here. Brush burning was blamed for a blaze in the southern part of Washington county which burned over 12 acres along the top of a ridge near the cross roads village of Mount Briar, four miles east of Sharpsburg. Four acres of timberland were burned over by another fire along the Maryland - Pennsylvania line above Clear Spring, in the western part of Washington county. A third small blaze also was reported in that county.

One Of Worst Days

Two separate fires near Jefferson, in Frederick county, burned over a little more than three acres.

Johnson said that the state law involving debris and brush burning stipulates that during March, April and May burning is permissible only after 4 p. m. and before midnight. Precautions are required when burning is done during the permissible hours.

The law provides a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than six months, Johnson observed.

More serious woodland fires occured in other parts of Maryland. As a consequence, State Forester H. C. Buckingham termed yesterday "one of our worst days."

Camera Club Sponsors Talk

David Darvas, A.P.S.A. of Cleveland, will give a lecture to professional and amateur photographers this evening at 8 p. m. in the Knights of Malta Hall on Prospect Square.

Darvas is a writer, lecturer and teacher on photography and specializes in tone control and control processes. His ability to explain why and where we need tone control has made him one of the most popular lecturers of the Society. His own pictures have been exhibited all over the world and his artistic handling of tone is the envy of all who have seen his work.

Arrangements for the Darvas lecture and exhibition were made through the National Lecture Program of the Photographic Society of America by R. R. Sitzler, president of the Cumberland Camera Club which is sponsoring his appearance in Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abe, Ridgeley, W. Va., a son last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin J. Wolford, Alexandria, Va., a daughter Monday night in a hospital there. The mother is the former Miss Dorothy Madeline Bowman, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, 66 Marion Street.

A son, Robert Joseph Durette, Jr., was born to Mrs. Robert Durette, February 24 in Memorial Hospital. The former Miss Mary Jean Burke, is the widow of the late Commander R. J. Durette who was lost in a plane mishap last fall. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Burke, 10 Fifth Street, are the maternal grandparents.

Seeks Liquor Permit

Richard H. Dunn yesterday filed an application with the Allegany County Liquor Control Board for a beer, wine and liquor permit in Corriganville.

Board Of Education Insists Teachers Get $500 Pay Hike

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (AP) — The State Board of Education today insisted that Maryland school teachers should have a $500 raise but held back on a proposed $35,000,000 state grant for school construction now before the General Assembly in Annapolis.

The Board of Education did approve, however, a proposal to increase the state's incentive fund for school buildings by 50 per cent.

All three proposals are part of a legislative program which Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent of schools, has laid before the General Assembly.

Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) in Annapolis today made the first move of any legislator to introduce a bill to give the teachers a raise.

He said he would go along with a teachers' pay increase "not for that amount ($500) but at least $200 and probably more.

"I am very sympathetic toward the teachers and am ready to introduce a sound and reasonable proposal if Dr. Pullen wants me. I know where the money can be found, too—from anticipated revenues which the Board of Estimates has underestimated to deceive the people."

Gov. McKeldin has said the state does not have the money to finance it unless new taxes are levied and he is opposed to any new taxes.

Richard W. Case, a member of the board, made the motions putting it on record for increased salaries for teachers and a boost in the incentive fund.

Unified Plan To Protect City Employes Sought

Right Of Appeal Will Be Included

Legislation combining two laws providing civil service and merit system protection for city employes should be ready for submission to the Allegany County Delegation next week, the Cumberland Civil Service Commission reported last night.

The chief change in the new law would be a clause giving defendants the right to appeal decisions of the Cumberland Civil Service Commission to the Circuit Court.

Also to be incorporated is a clause giving classified employes the right to appeal to the Civil Service Board.

The present law covering such employes gives the Civil Service Board the right to investigate disciplinary action, but does not allow the defendant the right to initiate the action.

H. Clifford Spiker, chairman, said passage of the legislation would include the repeal of Public Law 407, relating to Civil Service for police and firemen, and 177, which set up a merit system for classified employes.

Trades Council Elects Officers

C. E. Stutzman, vice president of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), was elected president of the Allegany Trades Council last night.

Other officers of the AFL Central Body, who were installed by John M. Buzby, Washington, consultant for the AFL Laborers Union, were:

Paul L. Burley, Bus Drivers Local 1110, first vice president; C. E. Robinette, Bakers Local 246, second vice president, and J. T. Defibaugh, Retail Clerks Local 654, secretary and treasurer.

Trustees are P. A. Creighton, Dairy Workers 924; George E. Clark, Iron Workers 568, and John Shaffer, Painters Local 947.

PMA Committeemen To Attend Parley

The three members of the Allegany County Production and Marketing Committee and their clerk will leave here early tomorrow morning to attend the two-day State PMA Conference in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, tomorrow and Friday.

Attending the conference will be Albert O'Neal, James H. Weimer and L. B. Shaw, committee members, and Miss Elizabeth Hoover, clerk. During their absence Miss Rosemary Weimer will be in charge of the PMA office at 37 Washington Street.

County School Heads Oppose Board Election

Want Governor To Make Appointments

ANNAPOUIS, Md., Feb. 27 (AP)—County School Heads oppose election of Boards of Education, the State Superintendent of Schools told a House Committee today.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., said he felt the same way.

County Superintendents took the position more than a year ago that Maryland should continue its present system of permitting the governor to appoint School Board members, Pullen added. He testified at an education committee meeting on a proposal by Montgomery County's delegation that its board be elected without party labels.

"Haven't you had pretty good boards?" Pullen asked Leslie M. Abbe, legislative chairman of the Montgomery County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

"We are not satisfied, sir," Abbe replied. He had advocated county elections before the committee last week.

Appointment of members was one of six characteristics preferred by Pullen and the County Superintendents. The state schools' boss said these were the others:

Characteristics Cited

1. Uniform size of five members.
2. Women should serve, but their appointment should not be required by law.
3. Both major political parties should be represented, but this also ought to be omitted from the law.
4. With no legal restrictions, a Governor should rely solely on "character and fitness" as member qualifications.
5. Terms should be standardized at five years, staggered among members.

Pullen urged the same setup for each County in the State. Maryland boards are now "as free of political control or outside domination as any in this country," he said.

"But wherever the power resides to change, and change frequently, that kind of thing is likely to crop in," Pullen contended.

Previous Trys Criticized

He criticized previous attempts to legislate women and minority party representatives into the Allegany County Board of Education. Another bill to accomplish just that had been introduced earlier in the day by minority leader Kimble (R-Allegany). Similar measures by Kimble have been defeated in the last few years.

Pullen had spoken out against local changes in school procedures before the legislature passed a bill to give Baltimore County Commissioners title to school properties.

Even if election of board members should be preferred, "I think it should be statewide," Pullen said today.

Committee Chairman Wilkinson (D-Prince George's) scheduled a vote for Thursday on the Montgomery proposal.

LaVale Church Is Remodeling

LaVale Baptist Church, organized last April and which called a full-time pastor in November is remodeling and expanding the present building.

Baughman Contracting Company Inc. did the ground work and volunteer workers within the membership are helping with construction. The entire basement was recently finished providing tables and kitchen facilities to accommodate more than a hundred parishoners.

More parking space is being realized by leveling the grounds in the church area. When the auditorium is completed the seating capacity will be doubled. More space is also being realized for various Sunday School departments and classes.

Rev. C. F. Frith is pastor of the LaVale Baptist Church.

Meeting On Bus Contract Is Planned Today

Conciliators Strive For Early Agreement

Negotiations on a contract between Local 1110, Bus Drivers Union (AFL), and the Cumberland Transit Lines will resume today at 9 a. m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Commissioner James A. Holden, Washington, of the federal conciliation service, announced plans for the meeting late last night at the end of the second of two lengthy meetings held yesterday.

He said no agreement was reached at either of the joint conferences but contract negotiations will be continued today.

Contract talks between the drivers and the bus firm took on a new intensity yesterday after members of the union early yesterday morning voted to strike unless an agreement were met.

Lacking a contract, the 67 drivers will go out on strike Thursday morning, according to James Morrison, union president.

Holden is being assisted by Commissioner C. Stanley Clevenger, Winchester, Va., of the federal conciliation service, and Mrs. Robert B. Kimble, deputy commissioner of the Maryland Department of Labor and Industry.

Union negotiators were joined yesterday by Frederick Fitzgerald, Belmont, Mass., a vice president of the international union.

The union has rejected a company offer of a guaranteed annual wage of $3,700, terming the plan impractical.

42 Buildings Inspected By Fire Department

Hazards Are Listed On Central Records

The Cumberland Fire Department has completed inspections of 42 of the major buildings of this city, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long announced yesterday.

They include 15 schools, five hotels, two theaters, one nursery, one hospital and 18 mercantile establishments.

The inspections include 17 by West Side Fire Company, 11 by East Side Fire Company, 10 by South End Fire Company and four by Central Fire Company.

Commissioner Long said the recently inaugurated inspection and record system was one of the recommendations of the Board of Fire Underwriters.

It replaces the former system under which all inspections were made by the department's fire inspector.

Members of each fire department, as men are available, visit the buildings they must protect and conduct a thorough inspection, paying particular attention to special fire hazards, the number of persons using the building, fire escapes, location of standpipes and other fire fighting equipment, doors and other exits.

A complete record of each inspection is made and kept by the department and at Central Fire Company so that a record is available for the study of all fire fighters and as a check to see that existing fire hazards are corrected.

An intimate knowledge of the hazards which may be encountered is vital if fires are to be extinguished quickly and with a minimum of danger to the men who must enter a burning building, officials pointed out.

Church Group To Show Film

"The Return To Jerusalem," the fourth in a series of religious motion pictures on the life of St. Paul, will be shown this evening at 7:30 p. m. in Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The film is shown in conjunction with the special mid-week Lenten services at the church. Rev. Raymond A. Faulds Jr., pastor, will speak on "For Me To Live, Is Christ."

AFL Trades Council Officials

New officers of the Allegany Trades Council are seen here following their election and installation last night. They are (first row) Paul L. Burley, first vice president; C. E. Stutzman, president, and C. E. Robinette, second vice president; (second row) John M. Buzby, Washington, who installed officers: P. A. Creighton, trustee; George E. Clark, trustee; John Shaffer, trustee, and J. T. Defibaugh, secretary and treasurer.

Weather Forecast
Generally fair and somewhat colder today.

Wage Formula Takes Effect; Price Freeze Eased

RED DEFENSES CRUMBLE

Liberalizing Amendments Recommended

Johnston Orders 10% Lid On Boosts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston tonight ordered the 10 per cent "catch up" wage formula into effect at once and asked the Wage Stabilization Board to approve promptly seven amendments further liberalizing the wage ceiling.

Johnston told a news conference he "hoped" his action would bring the board's three labor members, who have walked out, back to the board, but AFL President William Green already had discounted the possibility.

The formula, designed to replace the present wage freeze, provides that pay increases shall be limited to 10 per cent above the levels of Jan. 15, 1950.

It was approved by public and industry members of the wage board.

Johnston said he believed the formula and the changes suggested provide "a fair and equitable solution" of the wage problem during mobilization.

Amendments Proposed

The chief amendments proposed provide that wage "escalator clauses" — both cost-of-living increases and so-called productivity pay boosts— be recognized if contracts providing for them were signed on or before Jan. 25 of this year.

Johnston also recommended that the value of welfare and pension plans be exempted from the 10 per cent ceiling, and that the board consider whether other "fringe" benefits be similarly eliminated.

He announced that WSB Chairman Cyrus S. Ching has called the wage board together tomorrow.

Johnston said he expected the board to take action immediately at least on the escalator clauses. Several hundred thousand auto workers are entitled to increases March 1 under cost-of-living sliding-scale contracts, and walkouts have been feared if the pay checks are not fattened.

"No Deals" Made

But Johnston emphasized that he has "made no deals with anyone— either labor, industry or public members—as to what their course of action should be."

He said he hoped the board would always operate as a three-part body, with equal representation from labor, industry and the public.

The three labor members of the nine-man board resigned Feb. 15 in protest against the wage formula. They sent resignations to President Truman, who has not accepted them. The formula against which they dissented—but which now becomes law—permits any worker who has not received a pay increase totaling 10 per cent since Jan. 15, 1950, to bargain for a pay boost bringing him up to that limit.

Auriol Retains Pleven Cabinet

PARIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Premier Rene Pleven's three-party government offered to resign tonight because it won by only a narrow margin a vote of confidence on the French election law issue, but President Vincent Auriol refused to let it step out of office.

The National Assembly voted 243 to 216 to consider the Pleven Cabinet's plan for revision of the French electoral system, a question on which Pleven had decided his government would stand or fall.

An outright majority of the Assembly is 311, but the government's 243 was legally enough to permit it to remain in office.

Nevertheless, Pleven's cabinet decided at a special meeting he called immediately that it would resign. The Premier then called upon the President with the offer to step out.

Auriol urged Pleven to continue his government's efforts to revise the election laws and the Assembly was reconvened to begin consideration of the government plan.

Truman Urges Legislators Wipe Out Penny Post Card

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — President Truman today strongly urged Congress to wipe out the penny postal card, an American institution for 79 years.

The President said citizens should pay two cents each to mail the four billion cards that pour through the post office every year.

This was one of five major steps to hike postal rates recommended by Mr. Truman in a special message to the lawmakers. Altogether, his proposals would boost postal fees by $287,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning in July.

The other four steps urged in the message:

1. At least doubling rates on second-class mail (newspapers and magazines.)

2. Raising the postage on third-class mail (mostly circulars and advertising matter) from one cent to two cents.

3. An additional $105,000,000 annually from parcel post, under a new rate schedule now being considered by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

4. An increase of $29,000,000 for such services as special delivery, registered mail, postal insurance, C.O.D. mail, etc.

No Lives Lost As Plane Crashes And Burns

This is the still flaming wreckage of a Mid-Continent Airlines plane which crashed at Tulsa, Okla., yesterday with 33 persons aboard but with no loss of life. Only three persons were injured, two severely enough to be hospitalized. The two-engined craft, en route from Minneapolis to Houston, had just taken off, witnesses said, when an engine failed. The ship fell from low height and caught fire. Passengers and crew left calmly through a rear door.

History Of Mink Coat Is Traced By RFC Probers

Paid For By Lawyer Representing Furrier

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Senators traced the history of a $9,540 mink coat today in their investigation of alleged political influence in RFC lending. They discovered:

1—The coat belongs to Mrs. E. Merl Young, a White House stenographer.

2—It came from the stock of Gunther-Jaeckel, a New York firm of furriers which applied for a $175,000 RFC loan but didn't get it.

3—It was paid for initially by Joseph H. Rosenbaum, a Washington lawyer who represented the furriers when they obtained tentative approval of their loan application April 3, 1950.

This set of circumstances, related in testimony before the Senate Banking Subcommittee, caused Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) to state that the transaction appeared to be "part of a widespread pattern of activities" linking the names of Rosenbaum and Mrs. Young's husband around the fringes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Both men have been mentioned frequently in the inquiry as wielders of influence in negotiations for big government loans.

Testifying alternately today, they described how Rosenbaum had done Young a whole series of handsome favors in other financial deals.

Asking what he called "brutal questions," Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) inquired of Rosenbaum whether he expected Young to steer clients to the Rosenbaum firm and then use his political influence in their behalf.

The lawyer said nothing like that was involved.

Fulbright suggested it would be "highly immoral" if Young didn't do something to recompense Rosenbaum.

And Douglas, toting up figures mentioned in the testimony, said it appeared that Young had increased his liabilities by around $80,000 in the last year, not counting the mortgage of his home.

Young assured him they all are "well secured."

Originally Young swore that he bought his wife's coat—a natural royal pastel mink—himself because he felt he could afford it. He acknowledged today, however, that he borrowed the money from Rosenbaum.

Truman, Marshall Appeal To Nation To Back Red Cross

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) —President Truman and Defense Secretary George C. Marshall appealed to the nation tonight for funds to put the Red Cross on a wartime footing.

"The American Red Cross has to be prepared to meet any eventuality in the event of armed attack on this country," the President said.

And Secretary Marshall, asserting that the Red Cross seldom if ever faced a greater test than today, declared:

"America will be a better America, a stronger America—if it rallies to the support of the Red Cross in this critical hour."

They spoke on a radio and television program, broadcast by all four networks, opening the Red Cross 1951 campaign for funds.

Amendment May Influence Truman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The new constitutional amendment may be a stumbling block for President Truman if he decides to try for another term in the White House.

Mr. Truman himself says: "It doesn't affect me."

But there is a strong feeling in both political parties here that the President is wrong—and that the new law could have a powerful influence on the next presidential election. And one senator suggested that perhaps it might influence Mr. Truman to try for his old Senate seat rather than the presidency.

Legally, Mr. Truman is free to enter the presidential race again if he chooses. The 22nd Amendment—now ratified by the necessary 36 states—exempts him while providing that no other president in the future can be elected for more than two terms.

But GOP lawmakers raise the point that Mr. Truman should be bound by the spirit of the amendment. They say ratification by 36 states is a clear signal the voters don't want their presidents to hold office for more than two terms.

Some Democrats privately agree with the Republican viewpoint. Others contend the voters would back Mr. Truman on the basis of his domestic and foreign policies just as they did President Roosevelt in his third and fourth terms.

Vandenberg Suffers Setback In Illness

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 27 (AP) — Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) has suffered a setback in his convalescence from a long illness that will delay his plans to return to Washington.

Vandenberg's personal physician and longtime friend, Dr. A. B. Smith, said today, "the Senator's condition is not as favorable as it has been because of unforeseen developments in the past two or three days."

Vandenberg has been resting at his home since his release from Butterworth Hospital here Jan. 10. He had undergone tests in connection with complications after a lung operation in the fall of 1949.

Roof Falls, Killing 11

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 27 (AP)— The roof of an old church at Sandota collapsed yesterday, killing 11 school girls and injuring 11 others.

Hoover Warns U. S. Risks Land War If It Sends GIs To Europe

Ex-President Insists Air-Sea Power Only Hope For Europe's Defense Now

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Former President Hoover said today the plan to send four American divisions to Europe "will most likely lead" to a land war with "utmost jeopardy" to the United States.

Hoover insisted that air and sea power is the only hope for Europe's defense this time; that Russia could pound across the continent to the English Channel in 20 days.

Testifying in the Senate hearing on the hotly-debated issue of sending American foot soldiers to join a North Atlantic Treaty force to guard against Russian attack, the former President said it might take 125 divisions to defend Western Europe on the ground.

"You Can't Do Everything"

Agreeing that it would be "pretty hard on the United States" if Russia overran Europe, Hoover counseled:

"But you can't do everything. You have got to decide what you can do. x x x I can see no hope of an adequate stopping of Russia by land armies at the present moment."

He pleaded this course:

"There is only one real salvation for Europe at the present moment. That is to build up the air and naval power of the United States and Britain so as to overwhelm Russia in case of attack."

Hoover agreed when it was suggested the U. S. has an obligation to Western Europe, but he denied contentions that this country needs Europe in order to survive. "This country can be protected," he said.

Wherry Urges Air Power

Shortly before Hoover appeared, Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, testified that air power, rather than land troops, was Europe's best defense and deterrent to war.

With the Republican Party's big guns split wide open over the troops issue, Wherry bitterly assailed the stand taken by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Both Dewey and Stassen have urged defeat of a resolution by Wherry. The gist of this is that, until Congress sets a policy, the administration should not go through with its plan to send four divisions to join two others on the continent under command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who heads the Allied defense force.

Marshall Urges 18-Year Draft

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (INS) — Defense Secretary Marshall hinted tonight that the armed forces may have to be raised to four million men and charged that failure to draft 18-year-olds would block attainment of this goal.

At the same time, Sen. Morse (R) Ore., accused the military of "wasting manpower" and said he will seek an armed forces ceiling of three million, 100 thousand men. Congress removed ceilings on the size of the armed forces last summer.

An armed forces of four million men would be 538,000 above the 3,462,000 which the Defense Department currently plans to build up to by next July 1 or earlier.

Marshall and Gen. Omar N. Bradley declared in letters to the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee that they oppose the move to set the draft limit at 18 and one-half years instead of 18.

The Defense Secretary said "we would be 245,000 below the minimum (draft) pool ....if the military establishment has to go to four million men."

Auto Inspection Measure Passed By Maryland House Of Delegates

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — All Maryland motorists would have to take their cars to garages and have them inspected at least twice a year, under a bill passed today by the House of Delegates.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

It would take the place of a dead-letter automobile inspection law that has not been invoked since Pearl Harbor.

There was no discussion preceding the 96-18 house vote.

Under the proposal:

1—Each owner of a motor vehicle would have to have it looked over at a private garage designated as an official inspection station every spring and fall.

2—If mechanical defects that would make the vehicle unsafe to operate were discovered, they would have to be corrected before the car could be driven again.

3—After the inspection, a sticker costing a dime would be fixed to the windshield.

4—The motorist would have to pay 50 cents for the inspection, itself.

The half - dollar would go to the inspection station and the dime to a fund for the promotion of highway safety.

The House also approved and sent along to the Senate legislation to make a basic change in the method of preparing the annual state budget.

As it stands now the monies that the various departments collect for their own use (such as student fees at the University of Maryland) appear only as flat figures in the appropriations bill.

The legislature cannot touch these special funds.

The bill passed by the House today provided that any department having left-over special funds at the end of a fiscal year cannot spend them (as is done in some cases under the present setup) but must hold them until the next Legislature approves their expenditure.

Allied Troops Seize 8 Miles Of Vital Road

ROK Marines Stage Raid On West Coast

TOKYO, Wednesday, Feb. 28 (AP)— U. S. Seventh and Second Division infantrymen today probed deeper into Central Korea's soggy mountains after taking eight miles of a vital east-west highway.

The main objective was to find and kill Reds withdrawing after their east flank defenses were crushed Tuesday. A secondary objective was to win control of the road which bisects the peninsula from Kangnung on the east to Seoul on the west.

On the long-quiet western front, an Allied patrol Tuesday night crossed the Han River and fought its way into the suburbs of Red-held Seoul. It later withdrew.

South Korean sources today disclosed a commando-type raid Sunday by the Republic's marines on the west coast within five miles of the 38th parallel.

The marines stormed ashore from naval vessels near Ongjin, 90 miles west and slightly north of Seoul. It is on a peninsula which juts down from North Korea.

Korean sources at Pusan said the raiders killed a Communist brigade commander and 20 other Red officers. They also captured enemy equipment and documents before returning to their ships.

The main weight of a 100,000-man Allied drive, aimed at shoving more than 110,000 Chinese and North Koreans out of South Korea, pressed on the central front.

Seventh Division tanks and troops Tuesday crumpled North Korean defenses north of Pangnim and sent the Reds fleeing into wild, uncharted mountains.

It was west of Pangnim that the troops seized eight miles of the vital east-west highway. It winds west for 28 miles from Pangnim to the highway hub of Hoengsong.

U. S. Seventh and Second Division soldiers seized dominating hills north of the highway. Men of the Second won hill No. 825, after beating of five North Korean counterattacks in three hours.

The U. S. First Marine Division, holding high ground around war-wrecked Hoengsong, said Chinese north of the highway junction appeared to be withdrawing north.

Marine patrols patroled the area without contacting the enemy. Hoengsong itself was a "no man's land."

A field dispatch reported Chinese demolition squads slipped into Hoengsong and blew up the bridges on its southern outskirts.

La Prensa Employes Battle Way To Work; Publication Held Up

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 27 (AP) — A police judge's order tonight held up publication of the newspaper La Prensa after loyal employes had fought their way back to work at the cost of one dead and 15 injured.

Police Judge Roberto Durrieu ordered the 400 workers who had managed to enter the La Prensa plant this afternoon after street battles with gangs of gunmen and sluggers to go to a nearby police station. It was said they were summoned for investigation into the death of the one victim.

They were escorted out of the plant by police in groups of 50.

La Prensa, a frequent critic of President Juan D. Peron's government, has been closed down for 33 days because of a boycott by the pro-government news venders' union, supported by a sympathy strike of the pro-government printers' union.

EPU Imports Cut Off By West Germany

BONN, Germany, Feb. 27 (AP) — West Germany, her European Payments Union credits nearly exhausted, today suspended nearly all imports from participants in the union until possible stricter import regulations are drawn up.

Economic experts here unofficially described the announcement as a virtual "declaration of German bankruptcy" and predicted early repercussions throughout the German foreign trade structure.

With imports thus held to a comparative trickle, experts will survey the position to see what can be slashed from import schedules to save critically low foreign exchange.

Reds Reportedly Plan To Open Big Push Within Month

TOKYO, Wednesday, Feb. 28 (AP)— The Chinese and North Korean Reds are planning to launch an offensive within a month with 300,000 troops, a highly-reliable source said today.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported yesterday from the field, however, that the Chinese Reds appered to have postponed the drive, probably because of heavy losses.

The source said the Reds are believed to have 33 divisions now moving into attack positions in Central and Western Korea.

Ths huge force probably will be reinforced by elements of the Third Chinese Field Army from Northeastern Korea.

Printer Tells Election Probe Of Ride, Threats

Baltimorean Accuses Agent For McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — A Baltimore printer, testifying in the Senate investigation of the 1950 Maryland election, said today he was "taken for a ride" by three men who "threatened to put me through a McCarthy investigation."

He identified one of them as Don Surine, who is an investigator for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and the other as Ewell Moore and George Nilles.

William H. Fedder, the printer, said for hours the men tried to recover from him a letter he said he received from Sen. Butler (R-Md) guaranteeing payment of about $12,000.

Fedder said the money was owed him by Butler headquarters for printing bills and distributing about 500,000 copies of a tabloid, "From The Record." This attacked Millard Tydings, then U. S. Senator and Butler's opponent. Butler defeated Tydings, long-time Democrat, in the election.

Tydings has said the law prohibits senatorial candidates from contributing more than $2,500 of their personal funds. The letter, he said, verified a "breach of the law" and "was to be recaptured at all hazards." Butler replied that Tydings was resorting to "reckless and unjustified attacks on me."

Tydings has charged that the tabloid was printed at the Washington Times-Herald and that its attack upon his record was a "tissue of lies." He has suggested that if his charges prove to be true that those responsible be prosecuted.

Fedder said the ride, lasting several hours until 6 a. m., Nov. 6, the day before election, was an attempt to recover the letter he said Butler had written guaranteeing the campaign expenses. Fedder said he never gave up the letter but did sign a statement written by Surine which said all bills were paid, although he said thousands of dollars were due him.

The Baltimore printer testified he later was refused payment by Cornelius P. Mundy, Butler headquarters treasurer, when he presented a bill. But he said he finally was paid in full on Dec. 26, after he told his story to Tydings.

Man Kills Cousin On Rockville Street

ROCKVILLE, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — Cas W. Overby, 30, was shot and killed late today on a busy street here and police said his cousin, Louis D. Fultz, 33, had admitted the shooting and would be charged with murder.

County Police Chief Charles M. Orme said Fultz, father of seven children, admitted killing Overby "for fooling around with my wife." Orme said Fultz was captured at the scene of the slaying.

'Margin-Type' Order Affects 200,000 Items

Clothing, Furniture Covered By Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The government today unfroze the retail prices of clothing, furniture, rugs, lamps, drygoods and household textiles, and clamped a new freeze on the retailer's "margin" between what he pays and what he receives.

Many price increases are due to result, as retailers pass to their customers price rises already made by wholesalers.

Officials also say they expect some price cuts. Price Director Michael V. DiSalle told reporters, "My guess is that the rollbacks will be greater than the roll-forwards"— but he admitted that this view is not shared by all his aides.

233,000 Companies Affected

DiSalle's Office of Price Stabilization, in 34,000 carefully chosen words, issued the first of a series of "margin-type" orders designed to put price controls on a "fairer and more workable" basis than could be expected from the freeze of Jan. 25.

The action affects about 233,000 retail companies. It covers an estimated 200,000 different items of merchandise.

These retailers must get on the new basis no later than March 29. They must mark their goods with selling prices by July 1.

DiSalle announced: "The basic objective of this regulation is to establish typical pre-Korean markup practices at retail."

But the percentage of margins, or mark-ups, was not rolled back to a pre-Korean date.

On the contrary, each retailer will base his percentage on the percentage he received last Saturday, Feb. 24.

Priority System For Repairs

This was the second major move taken today on the controls front. In the other, the National Production Authority set up a system under which businessmen, farmers, public and private institutions and others can use a priority rating to get limited supplies of scarce goods for maintenance, repair and operations. The order does not apply to materials going into end products.

This is what this second order means:

The shoe repair shop on the corner, the filling station next door, the saloon down the block (if it's a legal one), the farmer or any business enterprise may all use a priority rating to obtain supplies to keep themselves in good repair and operating.

So also may any agency of the federal, state or local government, or any public or private institution. This includes schools, libraries, hospitals, churches, clubs and welfare establishments.

Collazo Identified By Man He Shot

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — White House Officer Donald Birdzell, cane in hand, limped across the courtroom today and identified Oscar Collazo as the man who shot him down during an attempt to assassinate President Truman.

Collazo, charged with murder in the death of another White House guard, showed no emotion when Birdzell, asked if he recognized the man who shot him without warning, replied:

"He's sitting right there behind the defense attorney."

Nor did he appear to notice when Birdzell, limping from wounds in both knees, came across and laid his hand on Collazo's shoulder, so there would be no mistake in identifying the man he said shot him.

The government, as expected, demanded that Collazo, 37-year-old member of the Puerto Rican Nationalist Party, die in the electric chair for the death of White House Guard Leslie Coffelt.

37 Prisoners, Protesting "Brutality," Slash Heels

ANGOLA, La., Feb. 27 (AP) — Heel-cutting by prisoners protesting "brutality" spread at Louisiana's state penitentiary here today.

The prison doctor reported six more convicts slashed their heel tendons last night and this morning bringing the total self-inflicted injury cases to 37.

The prisoners have temporarily crippled themselves by slicing tendon with razor blades thereby losing control of foot extension and flexibility.

Dr. I. F. Littell, prison physician, said the six new cases told him the "same tale" as the original 31 who told reporters Sunday they were "fed up with brutality and beatings."

Prison officials and Gov. Earl K. Long have denied the alleged brutality. "Nothing to it," Gov. Long said.

The heel cutting is not expected to have any permanent effect on the victims, the prison physician said. Doctor Littell said the tendons were brought together with sutures and the wounds sewed up. A half cast encased the victim's lower leg to keep the injured foot extended.

Washington Countians Try To Stir Interest In Planned Harpers Ferry Monument

By HARRY WARNER, Jr.

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Washington County residents are trying to whip up state-wide interest in the proposed Harpers Ferry national monument.

State Sen. D. Kenneth McLaughlin has introduced a bill in the General Assembly to authorize the Board of Public Works to acquire Maryland property near Harpers Ferry for the national monument.

This would amount to 705 acres, says Mrs. Frank W. Mish, Jr., the Washington County Historical Society's representative on a citizen's committee for the project. It would cost about $40,000.

West Virginia's Legislature already is considering a bill covering almost as much land in that state. However, the estimated cost of the West Virginia portion is $350,000.

Mrs. Mish explains that Maryland's contribution would be much cheaper, because the monument area in Washington county would cover marginal land, only a small amount of which is used for farming now. The West Virginia share includes a housing development and commercial properties.

The Harpers Ferry national monument idea has been suffering from a couple of general misapprehensions.

It has no direct connection with the proposed parkway along the route of the old C. & O. Canal. The parkway would extend from Washington to Cumberland.

The national monument would cover only land around Harpers Ferry, where history has been made ever since 1725. Many Civil War roads and breastworks are still in existence.

The second difficulty concerns its name. Henry T. McDonald, chairman of the monument committee, explains that no monument will be erected. The title was chosen because "monument" is a technical term of the National Park Service, referring to an area notable for scenic and geological formations plus historic interest.

The National Park Service has already promised to take over the land, if Maryland and West Virginia purchase it, and develop it immediately.

McDonald estimates that 40,000,000 people could reach the site by 24 hours or less of driving. Mrs. Mish points out that it would tie in later with a proposed new scenic-historic road that would run from Gettysburg through Antietam and Harpers Ferry, connecting with the Skyline Drive.

Harpers Ferry residents themselves favor the idea, because their town has declined sadly since the Civil War, owing to loss of industry and change in travel routes. They figure that increased tourist trade would help the town where John Brown began his famous effort to free the slaves.

More than 13 million telephone calls are made in New York City every day.

If there is one thing the Russians have learned to admire in us it is our tremendous production capacity.
—Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilizer.

If the government can force employers to collect taxes . . . it won't be long until everybody in the country is an unpaid tax collector.
—Vivien Kellems, industrialist, on withholding tax law.

FBI Chief Calls On All Americans To Mount Guard

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover called on all Americans today to mount guard on the nation's internal security, but warned against "witch hunts."

He said the country's enemies are stirring and every loyal citizen has a share of responsibility in protecting the United States against spying and sabotage.

Hoover issued his call in a statement on national security prepared for the Associated Press at its request.

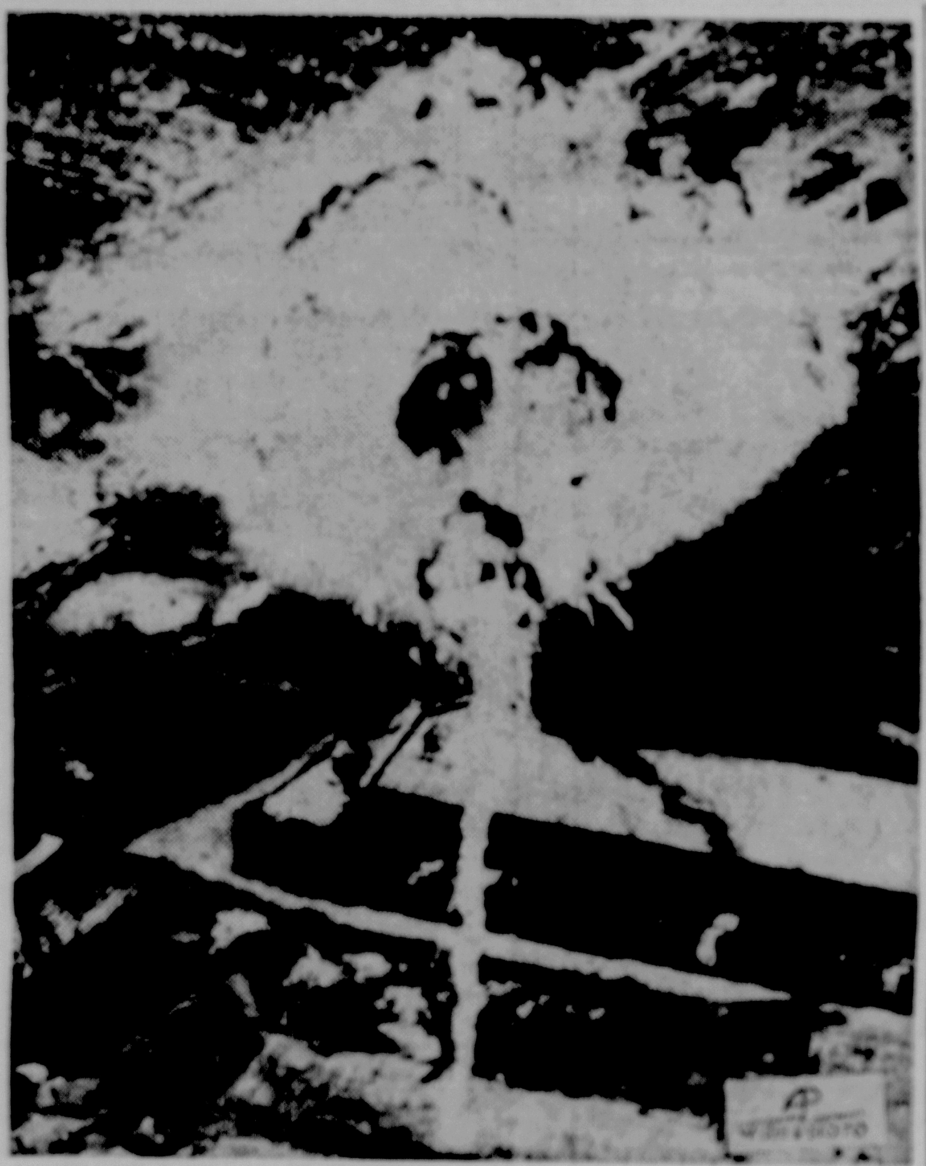
"As our mobilization program becomes a reality, we must expect that those who would like to weaken America will move into action," he said. "The Communist Party has become more and more an underground organization."

The head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said the public should be alert to report directly to the FBI all information relating to:

1. Allegations of espionage, sabotage or subversive activities.
2. Foreign submarine landings.
3. Suspicious parachute landings.
4. Possession and distribution of foreign inspired propaganda.
5. Theft or unauthorized possession or purchase of large quantities of firearms, ammunition or explosives, or short-wave transmitters and receivers.
6. Poisoning of public water supplies.
7. Chartering of airplanes for flights over restricted areas.
8. Fires and explosions of an unusual nature affecting any phase of the defense program.
9. Suspicious individuals loitering near restricted areas.
10. Possession of radioactive materials.

59 On New Casualty List

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Defense Department today added 59 identified casualties to the Korean war list. Casualty report No. 237 named 34 killed and dead of wounds, 23 wounded, one dead from injuries received in an accident and one injured.



OBJECTIVE—DESTRUCTION—A napalm bomb bursts and spreads over an enemy supply building somewhere in Korea. Bomb delivery was made with the compliments of the crew of a B-26 of the U. S. Far East Air Forces.

Warren Would Send GIs Wherever Needed

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 27 (AP) — Gov Earl Warren entered the Great Debate today — on the side of sending American troops wherever they are needed to roll back aggression.

The 1948 Republican vice presidential candidate, at a press conference, placed himself directly opposite Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and former President Hoover.

He outlined his position this way: Congress should determine the broad objectives and the overall issue.

The actual disposition of troops — how many and where they go — should be left to our military leaders.

Philadelphia Area Joneses Celebrate

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27 (AP) — Jones is the name, sir.

Nearly 1,000 Joneses crowded into the Lit Brothers department store restaurant today to celebrate "Jones Day."

There were little Joneses and big ones, fat ones and skinny ones, Joneses with blonde hair and Joneses without any hair at all. And there were wounded soldiers and sailors, patients at the Army and Navy hospitals in the area—all named Jones.

The celebration ended with a party for the Army and Navy veterans.

Sub For Veteran Bonus Offered

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 27 (AP)—Several potential legislative hot potatoes came in with a batch of new measures introduced in the General Assembly today.

Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) sponsored a proposal to lift the real estate tax from the first $5,000 of a war veteran's property for the next ten years.

He offered it as a substitute for a pending measure to allow the electorate to decide whether Maryland veterans of the world wars should be given bonuses ranging from $10 to $500, depending on type and length of service.

Phipps has held that tax relief would provide "more benefit than money" from a bonus.

Consolidation of the tax administration of Maryland into a single agency—a "Department of Revenue" —is proposed in new Senate bill based on recommendations of the State Tax Survey Commission.

It would abolish the State Tax Commission and set up a tax court to review protests now heard by the commission. The proposed department of Revenue would take over most of the functions of the comptroller's office.

169,544 Czech Reds "Purged"

PRAGUE, Czechslovakia, Feb. 27 (AP) — The Czechslovak Communist Party punctuated its charges of Titoism against Dr. Vlado Clementis and four other former party leaders today with the disclosure that 169,544 party members have been ousted since Sept. 1 in a continuing purge.

The membership of 2,025,318 has been cut 8.4 per cent in this biggest housecleaning since the Communists won power in Czechoslovakia three years ago. Examinations of 52,466 members and candidates are still in progress.

The details were disclosed with publication of a report that Deputy Secretary-General Josef Frank gave the Communist Party Central Committee here last Thursday. Frank said the test had resulted in the exposure of Mrs. Marie Svermova and Otto Sling—two who are held with Clementis—and other "agents of the class enemy."

As a result of it also, he said, thousands of Communist officials in district and regional secretariats were shifted around or fired because they had not done their jobs right.

Butler Lists $27,100 More In Contributions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — A supplemental report, listing an additional $27,100 in campaign contributions and a half dozen expense items, was filed with the Senate today by Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md).

In two previous reports, Butler had listed contributions of $55,813 and expenditures of $63,402.

The law requires candidates for the Senate to report campaign donations and certain types of expenditures.

Truck Weight Limit Reduction Advocated

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — The Maryland Truck Weight Commission says the state's highways can't carry heavy trucks and it wants the legal weight limit reduced.

In a report to the General Assembly today, the commission said that back in 1941 the law should not have been eased, boosting the axle load limit from 18,000 to 22,500 pounds.

Scandal In Sports

The New York state law on bribing athletes dates from 1921 and was prompted by the "Black Sox" 1919 World Series scandal uncovered in September, 1920. Some Chicago American players confessed to taking bribes to "throw" the series to Cincinnati. They, some of their teammates, and certain gamblers were indicted in Illinois for conspiracy, but a jury rendered a verdict of acquittal in 1921.

The New York law of 1921 applied at first only to professional sports—baseball, hockey, boxing, horse racing. It was extended to amateur sports in 1945, as a result of the Brooklyn College basketball scandal of that year. Five of the players confessed to accepting bribes from gamblers, but suffered no penalty except expulsion from the college (one was not even enrolled as a student). One of the bribe-givers was sentenced to jail for a year, another for a slightly longer term.

After the 1919 World Series scandal, professional baseball appointed a "czar" in the person of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. He himself created something of a scandal by holding on to his federal judgeship for a period after taking the baseball job. Professional football has a "commissioner," as has the Middle West football conference, operating under a faculties committee.

Horse racing has no "czar" although each track is supposed to follow every other on barring or suspending jockeys, owners, and trainers. Discussion of a "czar" for racing has been stimulated by current disclosures before the Kefauver (D., Tenn.) special Senate committee on interstate ramifications of crime.

The former general manager of the Bowie, Md., race track testified that he had allowed his office, in fact his own telephone, to be used for placing "come-back" money. This is money bet just before a race by a book-makers' agent on a certain horse so as to minimize loss to the "bookies" if that particular horse should win. The witness insisted that most tracks afford special facilities for "come-back" betting.

The former Bowie manager defended his practice also by pointing out that it increased state revenues. All states with racing take a percentage of betting at the tracks. New York state receives annually about $20,000,000 as its share of race-track bets, New York City approximately $11,500,000, Saratoga County almost $1,000,000, Nassau County almost $3,000,000.

In January, 1950, Mayor O'Dwyer of New York proposed that New York state legalize betting on horses off the tracks and on basketball, hockey, football, other sports. He argued that legalization would take gambling away from racketeers. Gov. Dewey called the proposal "shocking, indecent, immoral."

Just as it is difficult to enforce laws against betting on races outside of tracks while states sanction betting at the tracks and get revenue therefrom, it may be more difficult to keep college athletics "pure" while colleges derive a profit from them. City College of New York reports that it gained enough from Madison Square Garden basketball last year to pay not only for expenses but also for some expense of football and other sports. Ohio State took in $1,112,000 from its five home football games last year.

Cynicism toward honesty in college athletics is inevitable also when the colleges themselves frankly subsidize players classified as "amateurs." More than 40 years ago Woodrow Wilson of Princeton University commented: "The side shows are detracting from the main tent."

Assassination Attempts

Ten women and two men compose the jury that is hearing the murder trial of Oscar Collazo, Puerto Rican Nationalist, in the District of Columbia this week.

The murder was that of Leslie Coffelt, White House policeman on duty when Collazo and his associate, Griselio Torresola, rushed the Blair House last November 1 in an attempt to assassinate President Truman. Torresola was killed outright.

Collazo declared that he and his associate were not Communists, but simply wanted to avenge the President's "enslavement" of Puerto Rico. Sympathy with communism also had been denied by Joseph Zangara, who in February, 1933, fired at President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt at Miami, Fla. But Zangara professed a deep hatred of "all capitalists."

The shots at FDR went wide and wounded others in the Roosevelt automobile. Among them was Mayor Cermak of Chicago, who died 19 days after being shot. Zangara pleaded guilty to a murder charge and was electrocuted two weeks after Cermak's death. He had been found legally sane.

The assassin of President Garfield in 1881, a disappointed office-seeker who was hanged, was at least unbalanced. The young anarchist who fatally wounded President McKinley in 1901 also was executed for murder. The man who shot at former President Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, wounding him slightly, proved legally insane.

Assassination attempts on heads of states usually produce restrictive legislation and policies. The murder of Lincoln meant more rigor for the South in the Reconstruction era; the assassination of McKinley led to stricter anti-anarchist laws; and the attempt on Truman last November squashed any sentiment that may have existed in Congress for loosening the McCarran anti-Communist and anti-subversives act of 1950.

Pope Pius' Birthday

His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, celebrates his 75th birthday on Friday. It was on his birthday 12 years ago, March 2, 1939, that he was elected successor to Pius XI.

As His Holiness reaches his 75th year, the College of Cardinals, numbering 70 at its full strength, has been reduced by deaths to 51. Eighteen of the 51 are Italians, seven are Latin Americans, five are French, four are in the United States, two are in Spain, Portugal, Germany each. The other nationalities represented, each by one Cardinal, are British, Canadian, Australian, Chinese, Hungarian, Dutch, Polish, Austrian, Belgian, Syrian, Armenian.

A consistory to create new cardinals has been delayed by unsettled international conditions. A consistory for this purpose was delayed also by World War II, and when one was finally held in 1946, no less than 32 new cardinals were there created, a record number.

It is not unlikely that the next pope will come from among the newly created cardinals at the next consistory. For centuries every new pope has been chosen from the Italian cardinalate, and all the present Italian cardinals except one are now over 65. When Pius XI was elected Pope in 1922 he had been a cardinal for less than a year.

Relief Of Angina With Khellin

NEARLY TWO YEARS ago we reported on khellin; at that time it was found to be beneficial in treating angina pectoris and other blood vessel disorders. Since then additional reports have appeared. The compound is not a world-beater but it is doing a fine job.

The product is an old Egyptian remedy that was accidentally revived several years ago by a group of Egyptian scientists. One of their helpers who was a semi-invalid because of angina pectoris decided to try this old fashioned remedy. On the seventh day he "passed some sand and a calculus (stone)." He felt better and shortly thereafter became so spry that the laboratory heads were amazed at the change that had taken place. The worker credited his improvement to the fact that the kidney stones had been eliminated. The scientists knew that he had heart trouble and began to ask questions; they discovered it was the khellin that was making a new man of him.

The material now comes in a more refined state. In the original experiment in Egypt it was used on 250 patients with angina pectoris. Distinct improvement occurred in 140, moderate improvement in 85, and no effect in 25. Here in the United States the substance also has been subjected to the acid test by many of our clinics and physicians. In Boston, for example, khellin was tried on 53 cases of angina pectoris, all of whom had been suffering for periods ranging from two months to 15 years. Some of the afflicted individuals had as many as 150 episodes of this nature a week. The majority had been using nitroglycerin and other vasodilating drugs to control or relieve the tight sensation in the chest.

The results of this study were somewhat similar to those obtained by the Egyptians. About 60 per cent of the group showed improvement inasmuch as they were able to get around with less difficulty. Many victims stated they used less nitroglycerin than before; in others, pain was not as severe. Many could walk farther before chest distress caused them to stand still.

• — • — •

Although khellin is proving itself to be capable of dilating the blood vessels, it has many of the bad features common to products of this nature. Three out of five users develop uncomfortable reactions such as nausea, dizziness, or loss of appetite. These symptoms usually are not severe and do not alter the efficacy of the drug but should they become unbearable the remedy must be discontinued. Within a few days thereafter appetite returns and lightheadedness disappears.

In the treatment of angina pectoris, nitroglycerin is never discarded even though other remedies are being used. This drug relieves the acute attack within a moment. The other products have a more "staying" effect and are of greater value, therefore, in the long run. They act more as a preventive and it is in this category that khellin falls.

CLEAN EARS

J. W. writes: Is there any special ear hygiene that should be practiced in the same ways as we practice oral hygiene?

REPLY

The ears should be kept clean with soap and water but you should never put anything smaller than your elbow into the opening. The wax serves as a lubricant and also to cleanse the ear canal. If it hardens and plugs the canal, ear noises and deafness ensue.

OLD SALT

L. P. writes: I feel like Lot's wife because my tongue has little bumps on it that secrete a salty taste. This causes dryness and saltiness of the lips. I had an enlargement of a salivary gland about a year ago and the swelling has never gone down. Could this be responsible for the salty sensation?

REPLY

This is possible although there are various causes for a salty taste in the mouth. Bleeding gums, inflammation, and dissimilar metals in the teeth are other possibilities.

BOYS AND DOLLS

M. D. writes: Is it wrong to give a three-year-old boy a doll to play with? My son is very destructive with toy cars and other gadgets but he takes great care of dolls. He is a real boy but my husband thinks that playing with dolls will make him a sissy.

REPLY

At this age, many boys prefer dolls. But with children, preferences change and two weeks from now he might like something else. Many boys and girls have a favorite doll or teddy bear that they drag around with them day and night. It may not be pretty and sometimes lacks an arm or leg but remains their pet. It has not been determined at what age boys give up dolls.

Staff May Have To Write Emergency Column In Pearson's Absence; Newsmen Have Obligation To Public; Must Act As Government-Watchdogs

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Drew Pearson, departing for a news survey of gathering European war clouds left the following in structions for his staff:

TO THE STAFF:

I shall be traveling in Europe and countries adjacent to the iron curtain for the next two or three weeks. During that time you may have to write an occasional emergency column in case I get too far away from a cable office or the going gets tough.

In writing such columns please bear in mind the following:

Don't hesitate to admit an error. Double and triple check in order to avoid errors, but if you find you are wrong, say so. It is only fair to the man you have wronged, in addition to which the public will respect you for being fair.

If you are sure you are right, however, stick to your guns and if necessary we will battle it out.

Never bear grudges. If a President or a senator calls you a name, don't call one back. Because he is puerile or small is no reason for you to sink to his level. Write facts; don't go in for name-calling. Any scrivener can fill a column with abuse. Epithets can be culled from any dollar dictionary, but it takes good journalism to ferret out graft or the backstage doing of diplomats or the income-tax cheaters—and then make what you say stand up in court.

Smoke-Filled Rooms

Remember that it is part of your job to right some of the news-wrongs of the capital. The big newspaper chains can be ruthless, their newsmen in a hurry. It is your job to probe deeper than the handout or the official statement. You are to pick up where the spot-news men, rushing for the telephone or grabbing for the headline, leave off. Frequently the best part of the story is after the spot-news cream has been skimmed.

Remember also that ever since politicians became politicans, the thing the public was not supposed to know has taken place in the private lobbies and the smoke-filled rooms. Yet what is hidden from the public is usually what the public is most entitled to know about, and the job of a good newspaperman to report.

Remember that in our system of government by checks and balances, it is your job to help in the checking. Government is so intricate and detailed today that Congress no longer can do all the checking. Furthermore, congressmen themselves have to be checked. Most congressmen are honest and reasonably conscientious, but it is your job to smoke out the Parnell Thomases, the Andy Mays and the "Doc" Brehms, and report the facts about them—even if it means a tough battle.

Faith in Government

However, it is also important to remember that the government is neither all good nor all bad. There are bureaucrats who are woefully inefficient, and bureaucrats who are a credit to mankind. It is your job to discriminate.

Government is only as good as the men in it. And since men are human, they are subject to all the frailties that make up mankind—laziness, inefficiency, greed, graft, temptation.

But they are also subject to great effort, sacrifice, inspiration.

It is your job as a newspaperman to spur the lazy, watch the weak, expose the corrupt. You must be the eyes, ears and nose of the American people. Yes, the nose, too, is important. For not matter how much stench you may be exposed to, never lose your sense of smell.

But likewise remember that there are scores of underpaid government servants dedicated to the cause of good government whom the public never hears of. It is your job to encourage them. It is also your job to let the public know that these men are working for them.

For the public must never lose confidence in its government. Should it ever take seriously the scoldings of some of my competitors and lose confidence in our form of government, then the principle we are fighting for would be no more.

Defend Little Fellow

Remember also that it's the little fellow who usually gets kicked around. It's the little businessman, the G.I., the guy in the lower-bracket incomes who needs a friend. He has a few friends in high places, no big politicians to pull wires, no one to speak for him on interlocking boards of directors. He has only the American public's strong sense of right and wrong to back him—and it's your job to spell out those rights and wrongs so the public can know what cooks.

This applies to minority groups as well as little people. Sometimes these groups, such as the Negroes or a minority religion, need a little more encouragement than the folks who are doing all right anyway.

Finally, remember that though the world moves slowly toward its two great goals — peace and the brotherhood of man—it is your job when possible to help accelerate the pace.

Sometimes it is better not to report a delicate diplomatic negotiation. Sometimes the cause of peace is best served by sacrificing a news story until a difficult diplomatic hurdle is over.

But if the diplomats fumble, if they betray their trust, then it is your job to be ruthless in exposing that betrayal. You must be their watchdog. You must let them know what the publicity penalty is — if they fail.

Finally, when you write anything, remember that the fewer words you say it in, the better.

These are the goals of the Washington Merry-Go-Round which I have not lived up to. Perhaps you can.

The "Savers" Are Paying The Price Of Inflation

By MARK SULLIVAN

AFTER the three labor members of the Wage Stabilization Board had resigned in protest against a ceiling proposed to be put upon wages; after the United Labor Policy Committee had protested threateningly against policies of Defense Mobilizer Wilson generally; and after four high labor leaders had called on President Truman to express their protest—after these events and accompanying controversy, a brief statement was given out by the President's Press Secretary. It read:

"The President . . . assured them that the Administration was trying to work out the problem in a manner equitable for everyone without special privilege for any group."

"Without special privilege for any group" is familiar as a phrase though less so as a fact. What glaringly calls for attention just now, however, is a group which not only has no special privilege but even lacks a simple and fundamental right. This group is the savers, there are ten of millions of them, who have put their savings into life insurance, U. S. Savings Bonds, savings banks and similar institutions. Between government's treatment of these and its treatment of two other groups, labor and farmers, the contrast is an indictment of government itself. To labor the Wage Stabilization Board promises a ceiling higher than the present wage level and labor truculently demands still more. To farmers the Defense Production Act gives protection and immunity. It forbids the Price Stabilization Agency to put a ceiling on any farm crop that is now selling below the parity price which the Department of Agriculture fixes; in effect farmers are given assurance of higher prices.

Has Familiar Nature

The sum of the condition is: for labor and farmers, more; for the savers, sacrifice. The nature of the sacrifice has been made familiar by experience. The saver puts a dollar into savings but when he gets it back later, 10 years in the case of U. S. Savings Bonds, for example, it is no longer a dollar in purchasing power. The dollar that he saved 10 years ago was, in effect, some four pounds of bacon. The dollar he gets back the present year is in effect less than two pounds of bacon. And so, with negligible variations, as to practically all forms of food, clothing and manufactured goods.

This is the concrete picture of what goes by several names—reduction in purchasing power of the dollar, rise in cost of living, inflation. It was to stop this that the control agencies now much in the public eye were set up. While they have put ceilings on the prices of many goods, they have as to others encountered confusion and complexity and have postponed the dates for imposing ceilings. One agency head has said that two important kinds of goods, clothing and food, will continue to rise for several months. Nevertheless the purpose of the control agencies continues and so apparently does their determination. We had all better hope they succeed and help them to.

Reds Want Economic Strike

The interest of the country as a whole in having inflation checked is second only to its concern about war. If indeed it is second at all, for one of the means by which Russian communism hopes to overcome us is through economic collapse of the kind that would result from inflation if it becomes extreme. And in this supreme national interest, if the people as a whole are to be looked upon as groups, the one group that should be the last to be called upon for sacrifice is the savers. They, more than any other distinguishable group, have paid the price of inflation. Over a period of 10 years they have seen every dollar of their savings fall in purchasing power to what was formerly 60 cents. During the brief period of eight months past they have seen the fall grow in quantity and momentum.

Again, if the people are to be looked upon as groups, two that are fair to be looked to for sacrifice are labor and farmers. So far as it is possible to separate temporary beneficiaries of an early stage of inflation from victims of it, labor and farmers have been beneficiaries. Within the past six years there have been five rounds of wage raises in industry. Within the same period agriculture as an industry has had the highest national income in its history, and some of the increase has been due to a government policy, price support of farm crops.

For protecting the savers against further sacrifice through continuation of inflation and of reduction in the purchasing power of the dollar, the government has a special reason. The government needs to make large borrowings from the savers through the sale of bonds to them, and the savers will lend with more readiness and satisfaction if they know it is a government policy to stabilize the purchasing power of their saved dollars.

RFC Directors Should Be Protected From Pressure

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 — "Political pull"—the same unadulterated variety that has plagued the temples of government since ancient days—seems to have come up for trial in the Senate's investigation of the affairs of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Having exposed the influence which various persons in the executive branch of the government are alleged to have exercised in persuading the directors of the RFC to approve applications of loans, the spotlight has been turned by President Truman on members of Congress themselves, by pointing to several hundred letters written from time to time to the RFC presumably urging approval of loans in behalf of constituents of the congressmen.

Where billions of dollars of government money are to be loaned, it is not surprising that there will be pressure. Senator Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, chairman of the Senate committee investigating the RFC, says he has not uncovered anything "illegal," either. But the Arkansas Senator says that things which are "improper," though not illegal, are nevertheless subject to condemnation if standards of good conduct are to be set.

People Could Judge

Two wrongs never make a right. The fact that the Senate committee uncovered some improper activities on the part of executive agency employes does not immunize them from blame just because some members of Congress may have also exerted pressure.

All the documents in the case should be exposed to view — not only letters which members of Congress have written but all communications, oral and written, between the White House and the RFC. The country would have an opportunity to judge for itself where the line between improper and proper relationships is to be drawn.

Thus, a member of Congress gets a letter from a constituent who has filed an application for a business loan, and he is likely to be asked to "say a good word" or to identify the constituent or even furnish some information as to reliability and character. These are natural happenings, but the RFC directors should not, of course, be influenced by that "good word," even though they know the congressman may have to say it to keep on the right side of his constituent. Many a member of Congress, confronted with that kind of situation, has said the "good word" and then made it clear immediately afterwards that the business in hand should be handled by the government agency on its merits.

The real trouble, as alert-minded Senator Fulbright has pointed out, is that the directors of the RFC are the ones who should be able to resist pressure and influence. If, however, they are tools of the Democratic Administration and subject to the political urgings of persons connected with the Democratic National Committee, then some way will have to be found to prescribe by law that such approaches are as unlawful as it would be to attempt to influence a judge in our federal courts.

Mr. Fulbright seems to think that capable men can be found with sufficient integrity to file letters from congressmen and to turn a deaf ear to the White House aides who, too, may be under pressure sometimes to say a "good word."

Basically the RFC is supposed to be an "independent agency" and not a part of the executive department or the White House but a creature of Congress, as are all the other independent boards and agencies. Unfortunately, the drift has been away from this concept, and one of the first acts that helped to break it down was the letter written by the late President Roosevelt, early in his first administration, when he fired William Humphreys, a member of the Federal Trade Commission, because the latter's mind "didn't go along with" that of Mr. Roosevelt. The Supreme Court of the United States ruled that this was unwarranted interference with the power of Congress to specify by law the grounds for removal and to insist that removals be made only on the grounds specified. But nevertheless, under both New Deal and Fair deal practice, the tendency has been to usurp authority over the acts of these independent agencies and consider their officers as the chief executive would consider appointees in bureaus in an executive department.

If the RFC is to be retained — and Senator Fulbright himself says that a lending agency is needed, especially to approve loans that must be made in connection with risks inherent in the expansion of plants for defense purpose only — then some reform in the attitude toward the RFC of everbody concerned is imperative. It can be done by writing safeguards into the law to protect RFC directors from attempts to exert improper influence upon them.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Hede Massing

THE PROBLEM of the former Communist intrigues all sorts of people. Some, like Bernard Devoto, wonder why we should believe them. They were wrong once, may they not be wrong again? They changed once, might they not change again?

My own experience since 1917 shows that it is next to impossible to get at the heart of Communist organization and activities without the assistance of renegade Communists. Even students who have devoted themselves to the problem, no matter how assiduously, for decades, find that there are missing links, unexplained details, curious personal relationships, without which even academic analysis becomes hopeless.

So we come to the question of Hede Massing's forthcoming book, entitled "This Deception." Hede Massing is the former wife of Gerhart Eisler, who represented the Third International in the United States and was the most powerful Communist in this country for a period. Eisler escaped from the United States on the Polish ship "Batory" under scandalous circumstances.

Mrs. Massing wrote a book on her experiences, which Farrar, Straus and Young accepted. The type was set. The book was ready for publication. Then Mrs. Massing was told that this firm desired that a chapter relating to Laurence Duggan be omitted. Otherwise, the book would not be published.

It would seem that Roger W. Straus, Jr., of the publishing firm became "morally" concerned with the elimination of the Duggan chapter out of regard for Duggan's widow and children. It is a point of fine sentimentality.

Laurence Duggan was a member of the State Department group that came out of Harvard and the Institute of Pacific Relations which some have held responsible for our errors in Asia. He was also a very close friend and protege of Sumner Welles. And he either committed suicide or was pushed out of a window.

According to Mrs. Hede Massing, Laurence Duggan offered his services to her and she handed him over to another group. This is either an important historic fact or a libel. In fact, Farrar, Straus and Young have not contended that they want the chapter suppressed because of libel but rather because of the moral issue of protecting Duggan's widow and orphans.

Morris Ernst has written a foreword to this book in which he said:

"It explicitly touches on a very sensitive spot in the culture of our nation. Why do people join the Communist party? . . . I know of no one who has told before so clearly the reasons why people do things like this, how they fool people, use them innocently. . . I wish that all our legislators, officials and public leaders would read this volume."

So Mrs. Massing refused to suppress the chapter and the book will be published on March 14 by Duell, Sloan and Pearce, to whom the rights and plates were transferred.

I can understand Straus's sentiments. The little boys who played with treason, with betrayal of their

Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

Luke 7:47 (K.J.V.).
Read Luke 11:37-52.

There are any number of ways of being lost. The old terminology, the "way of salvation," may not fit our age. Indeed, the words "salvation" and "lost" are given little place in the language of the present-day generation. But though the words have slipped from use, men's condition has not changed. The world is full of perverse, inadequate, frustrated lives. And when that is their condition, they are lost—lost in the thicket of life.

Men such as Simon, in the "upper brackets" have found new ways of being lost. They need to be saved from the little meannesses which war against the spirit of good will, the selfish desires which prevent life from expanding into broad sympathies. They need salvation from the belief that the world is a meaningless accident and that they themselves are merely the product of physical forces. The world is the Father's, and one's life must be found to be a unifying force, not an anarchic fighting and biting its way through life. Life is not things. It is quality of mind and heart.

Let Us Pray: Merciful Father, keep us from thinking of ourselves as [illegible]. May our lives be linked with thee. Amen.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Sideglances at celebrities:

A recent issue of "Vilagossag," a Commie sheet published in Budapest, carried this note under a heading which read, "American Sports Morals!"—

"A tall usher wearing a motley uniform opens the door to the drunken Yankees before one of the New York restaurants. He is Jesse Owens, the former Olympic champion runner who brought home a golden medal for the U. S. A.

"The country of businessmen proved grateful: After his return he was given a chance to run with greyhounds, racehorses and Australian kangaroos, to make a living. The last stage of his career: He is janitor and usher in a saloon."

The truth—Jesse is public relations counsel and executive director in charge of sportswear and sales for a Chicago clothing firm.

In his arrestingly ingenious autobiography, "Never Leave Well Enough Alone," (Simon & Schuster) Industrial Designer Raymond Loewy tells us (among many other interesting things) how to make a fast $50,000.

In the fall of 1940, the fabulous George Washington Hill, head of the American Tobacco Company and later the prototype of the bluster-merchant in Frederic Wakeman's "The Hucksters," walked into Loewy's New York office, took off his coat and thumbed his embroidered suspenders.

He pushed back his battered felt hat, whose brim was pierced by an assortment of trout-fishing hooks and flies, and said:

"My friend Albert Lasker tells me that you don't like the Lucky Strike package. He also tells me that you think you could design a better one. I don't believe it. . . Do you really believe you could improve it?"

"I bet I could," Loewy said.

"Bet what?"

"Fifty thousand dollars."

Hill looked out the window for a time, then picked up a memo pad and wrote: "Lucky Strike package—$20,000 retainer. If we use result, $30,000 more. G. W. H."

"When will you be ready?" Hill demanded.

"Oh, I don't know," said the equally fabled Loewy. "Some nice spring morning I will feel like designing the package and you'll have it in a matter of hours."

The spring morning arrived, and, in a short time, so did the sample package. Hill came over, took a searching look at it, tried his hand at changing it, then gave up; said, "All right, Loewy, you do it," and gave him the rest of the 50 grand.

Before Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission could okay the detonation of the first A-bomb on that Nevada testing grounds, these are some of the things he had to do:

Inform the governor of the state, plus the state's two U. S. senators and single congressman; confer with the chairman of the board of county commissioners in each of the four counties whose land makes up or borders on the testing grounds. Alert the chief medical officers in those counties, the U. S. Public Health Service and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

He then had to sit down with the Secretary of Interior, and state highway police whose job it would be to set up roadblocks and otherwise channel traffic away from the scheduled explosions. He also had to straighten out things with officials of the Wool Growers Association and the Cattlemen's Association, because of the grazing lands involved and the chance of radioactive contamination. And had to closet himself with the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, and, of course, get the President's consent to release the test bombs from the stockpile.

Only when all these things were done could he give the nod of the head that caused the button to be pushed that sent the impulses which touched off the stupendous fireworks.

Security officers, in extensive checkups, failed to find a single case of a leak in the information, though hundreds or even thousands must have known of the tests in advance.

Voted Best for Modern Design!

★ Rambler Convertible Sedan was given this award by Design News Magazine for these basic reasons:

1. New design of front suspension reduces the unsprung weight and gives superior riding qualities.
2. Airflyte Construction in a convertible model, with the roof rails acting as stress-bearing members, increasing rigidity and reducing total weight;
3. Unique method of raising and lowering the fabric top by electric power.

The Rambler Convertible Sedan is the only passenger car introduced during the past year to receive this award.

Mr. And Mrs. W. H. Liller Observe 56th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Liller observed their 56th wedding anniversary quietly at their home, Ellerslie, Monday and the former attained his 81st birthday yesterday.

The former Miss Ida May Daugherty, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Liller, Rio, W. Va., was married to Mr. Liller, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Liller, Purgittsville, W. Va., February 26, 1895. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Leatherman in the residence of Dr. Nicholas Leatherman.

Prior to their marriage, Mrs. Liller taught school in Purgittsville and Mr. Liller assisted his father on the farm. The couple moved to New Creek where Mr. Liller was employed in the tannery until 1912 when they came to Cumberland, where he worked for the General Textile Mills until his retirement in 1934, when they moved to their present home on the Ellerslie Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Liller are the parents of five children, the late Guy Liller, who was killed in World War I; Mrs. Irma Leasure, Ronald Liller, city; the late Mrs. Wilhelmina McDaniel, Terra Haut, and Mrs. Olive Workman, at home. They have three grandchildren, Mrs. Mary Dawn Zembower, Don Schade and Staff Sgt. Guy P. Liller, Jr., Indian Town Gap, Pa.; two great grandchildren, Carolyn Jo Liller and Keith Clark Zembower.

Clubs To Observe National 4-H Week

The committee on the National 4-H Week observance met Saturday morning in the court house with Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent; and Miss Thelma J. Allin, assistant, to plan a program.

It was decided to place exhibits in various windows in the different communities and to encourage each club to have some special program during that week.

National 4-H Week is to be observed March 3 to 11.

Although man now can travel more than 700 miles an hour, a century ago he could travel no faster than a fast horse could carry him.

Local Players Win In Penn Tournament

Mrs. Emmett L. Jones and Mrs. Edward T. Jones, of the Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club, finished first in Section A, in the South Western Penna Tournament, held at the White Swan Hotel, Uniontown, Pa., over the past weekend. The team composed of George Ward and Dr. Paul Castelle finished third in Section B.

The local members were competing against Life Masters from Cleveland, Youngstown, Pittsburgh and Wheeling in the open pairs session, composed of 70 pairs.

Albert D. Heacox local president, announces that both of these teams will receive 3 to 5 Master Points for their playing.

In the finals Sunday night, playing a field of 52 pairs for the championship the Ward-Castelle team finished eighth and the Jones team, among the first 20 teams.

S. Russ Minter and H. Cassaway Shores, Keyser, W. Va., also qualified for the finals in the open pairs, making an excellent showing, Mr. Heacox reports. The other local players competed in the round also.

Mr. Heacox said last night that several of the traveling Life Masters, who attend sectional tournaments, have definitely signified their intentions to come to Cumberland for the Western Maryland Sectional tournament being held at the Cumland Country Club, April 14-15.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gunter, 201 Washington Street, have returned from an 18 day cruise through the West Indies.

Mr. and Mrs. William Skold, Newark, Del., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gardner, LaVale.

Will Plan Visit, RWSC

Plans for the visit of Miss Venia M. Kellar to Allegany county, and the 25th RWSC, June 18-23 will be formulated at a meeting at 3 p. m., March 4 at Miss Maude A. Bean's apartment, 814 Stewart Avenue.

The official boards of the RWSC and Homemakers' Clubs, directors of First District, state treasurer and past county presidents will attend the meeting.

Mrs. Irene B. MacDonald and Mrs. R. H. Aldridge will report on the Baltimore meetings.

Washington Whirl

WASHINGTON.

SKETCHY jottings on today's memo pad read like this—if I can ever read my own notes: Memo to me—On Bill Pawley—the new advisor to Acheson indicates Administration's first attempt to houseclean in the State Dept. . . . Pawley, self-made businessman . . . Expert on Far East where he made millions dealing with Chinese . . . Typical, straight-thinking American businessman whose decisions are invariably based on that good old American horse sense which has too often been belittled by the long-haired, crack pot theorists. They used to give advice from their lofty pinko clouds.

Tempted to combat daily frictions with rudeness? Danger lies ahead! A penalty always must be paid!

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

ON EVERY long non-stop flight an aviator knows that he will reach the "point of no return". This is when he has burned up more than half of his fuel supply and can not return to his point of departure, so he must therefore continue on to the destination ahead.

There is a point of no return that can be reached in human relationships, too. Those who set their course by rudeness and get too far off base are sure to reach it. They are the people who are always seeking new friends; always seeking new jobs. Through their discourteous practices, they burn out the welcome at any home base that they establish. Their field of operation becomes increasingly limited and soon they find themselves utterly alone in a crowded world.

Immature or Fusty?

In the danger zone is the woman you hear say, in describing her encounter with a salesgirl, "I sure gave that girl a piece of my mind. She was snippy when she waited on me, but I slammed it right back at her."

If the teller of the tale is young, you are immediately aware that she is showing the immaturity she hates to admit; if she is adult, she is revealing the fustiness of an age she constantly tries to hide. No goal can ever be achieved through rudeness. Even a well-deserved reprimand (above all) must be thoughtful and considerate. Those who choose rudeness as a weapon for resolving the frictions of business or social life inevitably are the ones who feel the points of its thorns.

Safe on Home Side

When ever you are tempted to set people in their hypothetical place, ask yourself what is to be gained thereby. Generally, the answer will be nothing. You risk the respect of any person who knows of the encounter (and your self respect) when you return rudeness with rudeness. All you accomplish is the ruining of the dispositions involved.

It may require courage and patience to gain dominion over the impulse to strike out verbally against another's stupidity or lack of consideration. But when you feel any provocation, remember courtesy is the only reliable direction finder that can keep you safe on the home-side of the "point of no return."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The death of Frank Phillips in Atlantic City last August ended the success story of one of the most colorful figures in American industry. Phillips began his career as a barber in Creston, Iowa. He had seen a tonsorial artist wearing beautiful striped pants when he was a boy, and then and there resolved to have a pair like them for himself.

In a few years he owned all the barber shops in the county, and had married the leading banker's daughter. Then he started digging for oil in Oklahoma, and brought in eighty gushers in succession! With his first million he had all the pipes, faucets, and door knobs in his house changed to solid gold. He lived to see his Phillips Petroleum Company become one of the greatest oil producing, refining, and distribution units in the world.

Phillips had a bluff, hearty sense of humor, and supplied his friend Will Rogers with some of his original sallies. Typical was his explanation for a slew of bandages on his face one morning when he entered the Petroleum Club in Dallas. "In memory of my misspent youth, I let one of the boys at the barber school shave me for his final examination—and did he flunk!"

Spiritual, Moral Values Important, Teachers Told

Renewed emphasis on spiritual and moral values in every school subject and every phase of school life has been listed as its main responsibility by the American Association of School Administrators which last week closed its annual convention at Atlantic City.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, county superintendent of schools and a member of the A.A.S.A. Advisory Council for more than five years; Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools; and Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, represented the Allegany County Board of Education.

Approximately 16,000 educators attended the five-day convention, Dr. Kopp said, and added that Kenneth Overholzer, superintendent of schools at Denver, Colo., was named president.

Problems to which scores of speeches were devoted and given major emphasis were summarized in a press conference held by A.A.S.A. officials. They included:

1. Swelling enrollments. Soaring birth rates are expected to bring an attendance in 1960 that will be 8,000,000 more than are now enrolled.

2. Lack of buildings to house more children. School construction already lags far behind enrollment increases.

3. Teacher shortages are likely to become worse as men and women enter the services, or are attracted to war industries by higher rates of pay.

4. Lack of money to serve fast-growing enrollments and offset the rapid increase in costs. The national budget is drying up state and local sources of school support.

5. Attacks on schools spearheaded by groups and individuals unfriendly to public education who are seizing on the unsettled times to undermine public confidence in school boards and administrators.

6. Personal attacks on school administrators seem to be standard strategy of many groups who would cut local school expenditures. A flight from the superintendency by professionally trained men and women as a result of such attacks could be the signal for the capture of schools by political "yes-men."

7. The United States Office of Education must be freed from the political peonage under which it now labors. A national board of education should be established immediately as an independent agency with a professional educator as its executive officer and be composed of lay citizens appointed by the President with long overlapping terms.

Among the major responsibilities of the schools as summarized by A.A.S.A. officials are the following:

1. Renewed emphasis on spiritual and moral values in every school subject and every phase of school life.

2. More emphasis on values of American citizenship. "Schools dare not damn democracy with faint praise."

3. More attention to the role of the United States in the United Nations.

4. Exchange of public school teachers with the other free nations must be greatly stepped up.

5. Pupils of sufficient maturity must be safeguarded against enemy propaganda by learning what the techniques are and how to detect them.

6. Education for health and physical education will need to be stepped up and school-health services strengthened.

7. Schools need to stress the teaching of thrift and assist in providing wholesome recreation since youth may again be earning more money than it knows how to handle wisely as war industries expand.

8. Children "on the loose" may become social casualties. Working parents and especially working mothers in war industry may again make necessary the provision of extended day-care centers and nursery schools.

9. Training of war production workers may again be necessary if the "not-so-cold" war extends as long as now predicted.

10. Since this is a war for survival, the schools must stress more than ever before the care and wise usage of America's vast natural resources.

11. Schools are concerned for the morale and safety of pupils in event of enemy raids. Instruction must be pointed at avoiding hysteria about the A-bomb.

County Board To Buy Lemmert Check Signer

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday passed a resolution authorizing the use of a "check-signer" in order to speed up the administrative functions of the board.

It was pointed out that the volume of checks to be signed at the session of the board have increased greatly during the last few years.

The machine is insured against unauthorized use and is constructed with adequate safeguards against such unauthorized use. Keys are held by Commissioner William H. Lemmert, board president, and James G. Stevenson, board clerk.

No checks are drawn except on the days the board meets and before they are authorized they must be passed by the entire board of commissioners. The county treasurer, Frederick C. Dreyer, will continue to sign the checks by hand.

Liquor Board To Hear Complaints Of Violations

Two Frostburg establishments, one a club and the other a cocktail lounge, have been cited by the Allegany County Liquor Control Board to appear Tuesday, March 6, at 10 a. m. for questioning on complaints.

The board took this action at its meeting yesterday "in view of complaints being received of disorder and possible violations of the liquor law" at these places.

The establishments cited were the Century Athletic Club, 9 Mechanic Street, and the Camellia Room, 70 East Main Street.

The orders to appear at the court house were sent to John C. Davis, license holder at the Camellia Room, and Harry Frost, president of the club.

In other board action yesterday, John Booth, who possesses a tavern selling beer and light wine license for his place on Parkersburg Road, Eckhart, was warned concerning having whisky on his premises.

The board ordered Booth to appear after an investigator of the Alcoholic Beverage Tax Division of the Office of the Maryland Comptroller of the Treasury reported a violation.

The investigator, according to the board reported one full and one empty whisky bottle were found behind the bar. The full bottle, the investigator informed the board, had a spout in the top.

Booth stated that his wife had been running his place around the time of the violation while he was working on a truck. He denied having knowledge of the whisky behind the bar.

The board warned Booth and clarified the stipulation of the law which says that no whisky may be kept in a tavern that does not have a license to sell it.

The members told him that in the event a second violation is reported his license will be either suspended or revoked.

The Old Second Guesser

The Old Campaigner, Thought Fast

THE other night General Ike shoved off on a momentous mission, sailing on the Cunard White Star British liner, Queen Elizabeth, for Europe and a date with destiny. Maybe he doesn't want to be President, although there has been some talk on the matter, but, if the voyager had been either Theodore Roosevelt or F.D.R., he would have been abroad a ship flying the American flag even though he had to ride a ferryboat. They were the two old masters of politics.

Possibly General Eisenhower's mind was so occupied with other matters, he didn't look up the schedules of the U. S. merchant marine, but I did and found there were quite a few boats going around the date of his departure. All this reminds me of two or three anecdotes which reflect the alertness of old campaigners.

In 1912, Theodore Roosevelt was running on the Bull Moose ticket against Woodrow Wilson and William Taft and arrived in Milwaukee on October 14, to make a speech. He was entering his car in front of the Hotel Gilpatrick about 8 p. m. on his way to the auditorium when a man rushed up and fired at close range. The bullet would have killed this great figure then and there except for the Roosevelt luck. It hit the thick manuscript which was stuffed in his breast pocket. Had it been a short speech, he would not have lived to make it.

At first this fiery leader insisted he had not been shot until someone discovered a hole in his heavy overcoat. To show his quick thinking determination here are some remarks made just after he had been wounded.

"I will deliver this speech or die," he declared to one of his aides and added to Elbert Martin, hisc bodyguard, "Don't hurt him. Bring him to me." He meant John Schrank, the assassin.

Turning to friends, he said,

"But it takes more than a bullet to kill a Bull Moose."

As he faced the crowd, he began, "It's true. I'm going to ask you to be very quiet, and please excuse me from making you a very long speech. I'll do the best I can, but you see there is a bullet in my body, although it's nothing. I'm not hurt badly."

He went on for 50 minutes. When he finished, exhausted, there were three or four ambulances waiting. He wasn't too weak to ask where these came from and to pick the one representing a Catholic hospital, realizing that vote was important. This indomitable soul survived, but not to become President again, for, running as an independent, the great American made a fine race, although beaten by Wilson.

Bruce Barton was a friend and admirer of Calvin Coolidge and quoted a remark of his the other day made when he was President. Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes reported to him the then glamorous Queen of Rumania was going to visit this country.

"That's all right," replied Mr. Coolidge, "so long as you make it clear she is to pay her own way." It was a typical remark of this Yankee which was widely published and made a great hit with the citizenry.

When Clare Boothe Luce was running for Congress in Connecticut, she went to Danbury one summer evening to make a speech and forgot if anyone showed up in that hamlet without a hat, he or she might expect to have a white feather pinned on him or her. Some friend must have nudged her, but too late for the beautiful blonde was already at the table reserved for the orators. When she arose, she smiled her best smile and said,

"I know I should have worn a hat. I'm not short of them. In fact, I have at least 25, and, whenever I get down in the dumps, I buy another. After I told my husband this the other day, he replied,

"'I've been wondering where you got them. Now I know.'"

This quick crack brought a laugh and saved the situation. Danbury is the big hat center.

Finally when the master campaigner of them all, F.D.R., decided to run for a fourth term, there was much talk his health wouldn't stand it which turned out to be true. He was to make several outdoor speeches in New York late in the fall, and it poured chilling raw rain all day. Mr. Roosevelt went through with his schedule, although more robust supporters quit. He rode throughout in an open car and got soaking wet, but convinced the country he was well enough to take it. No matter what you think of them, all Roosevelts have guts.

Of course, the behind-the-hand gossip was his doctor prescribed an old fashioned cocktail when he finished his tour to ward off the cold and pneumonia, and FDR. did not take a homeopathic dose, which showed somewhat when he started his speech at the Waldorf that evening. It was later officially explained his voice was a little thick, because his bridgework had slipped.

Public Affairs Group Urges Enabling Bill

City Officials Would Have Added Powers

At a meeting of the Public Affairs Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce held on Monday afternoon, the file of bills introduced in the Maryland Legislature affecting Cumberland and Allegany County was reviewed.

Perhaps the most important subject discussed was that of "Home Rule." On several occasions previously, the Chamber had advocated that Cumberland be given the opportunity to relieve the Legislature from the responsibility of the City's legislative functions. Much of the time of our delegation, and the Legislature, is spent on local bills covering unimportant minor matters which could very easily be handled by our city officials.

They are elected to govern Cumberland and they meet at least once a week for that purpose; whereas, the Legislature meets only once in odd years for a period of ninety days to consider the general program of the State; and, in even years, to consider the budget and emergency matters only.

Burden Placed On City

Under the present arrangement, we find our legislators frequently making certain expenditures mandatory on the part of the Mayor and City Council, assuming no responsibility whatever for imposing the taxes required to meet these expenditures. This places a burden upon the City Government which it cannot escape.

The committee, therefore, emphatically recommends to the board of directors that its previous position on Home Rule be restated and emphasized, and that the "Enabling Bill" providing for complete home rule for Cumberland, be passed.

The committee also strongly felt that the introduction of bills by members of the Legislature, involving expenditures of funds without providing the means of raising such funds, should be discontinued.

Bill 183 Cited

Senate Bill 183, which authorizes the State to purchase land to be used in conjunction with the old C. & O. Canal right-of-way for the development of the parkway from the District of Columbia to Cumberland was also reviewed.

It was pointed out that the development of this project is not to be undertaken so long as the present emergency exists but the committee believed that it would be wise to encourage this legislation so that preliminary studies can be made and the State and Federal Governments be in position to proceed with the development when conditions warrant it.

Driver Acquitted

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Feb. 27 (AP) — Robert N. Davis, 25, from Kitzmiller, Md., was acquitted today of manslaughter charges growing out of the highway death of his brother.

Judge Joseph D. Mish returned the verdict in Circuit Court.

Davis was the driver of a car which smashed into the rear end of a parked tractor-trailer truck last Christmas Eve near Hancock, Md.

His brother, 38-year-old Arthur Davis, was killed outright. Robert Davis was injured. The car was demolished.

State Trooper Richard E. Garvey testified the car hit the big truck with such force that the truck was pushed two feet forward.

Bullets Fly At Preston Mines

KINGWOOD, W. Va., Feb. 27 (AP) — Disturbances in the non-union coal fields of Preston County centered today around the prowling about of 40 carloads of pickets and the shooting up of a power shovel.

Sheriff J. H. Benson said several rifle bullets struck the power shovel at a non-union operation near Bruceton. The shovel was damaged slightly.

Otherwise, things were quiet in the area which has been the scene of more overt strife between pickets and non-union miners during the past month.

However, Magistrate F. W. Pritt ordered 18 men, including a United Mine Workers Representative, held yesterday for grand jury action on charges they stoned a bus transporting non-union miners to work.

Included among them was UMW Representative Joe Serdich of Grant Town.

Warrants have been issued for three others, but they had not been taken into custody today.

WILLIAM P. SPRIGGS

William Percy Spriggs, 56, retired Western Maryland Railway conductor, died early Monday night at his home in Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley.

Born December 2, 1894, in Davis, W. Va., he was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. John Spriggs.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Jessie May Spriggs; a son, Robert Spriggs, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Carl Fisher, this city.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. by Rev. O. Afton Linger, pastor of First Baptist Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

A service will be conducted at the Stein Funeral Home tonight at 8:15 o'clock by William McKaig Lodge 440, Brotherhood Of Railroad Trainmen, of which Mr. Spriggs was a member.

MRS. MABEL MEHRBAUGH

A funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at Stein's Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Mabel Mehrbaugh who died at her home, 1028 Bedford Street, last Saturday. Rev. Kenneth Groves, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church, was in charge. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Chester Wilson, Alban C. Thompson, Milton Bortz, Edward Nies, Eugene Blake, and Donald Bowman.

Fire Chiefs To Plan For Area Defense

Fire chiefs of this area will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Public Safety Building to continue work on Civil Defense plans for the area.

Acting Fire Chief R. Paul Reid said officials of volunteer fire companies from Allegany County and nearby West Virginia are slated to attend.

A number of conferences have been held here in recent weeks to map definite plans for fire protection of the area.

Local Tavern Owner Has Beer License Suspended

The operator of a Front Street tavern had his beer license suspended for ten days after a hearing before the Allegany County Liquor Control Board yesterday in the Court House.

Joseph F. "Freddy" Carnell, 240 Williams Street, had been ordered to appear to show cause why his license should not be suspended or revoked for allowing a minor to loiter in his place, the Friendly Tavern.

Carnell was summoned following his conviction last month in Police Court for the violation of the city ordinance governing minors in establishments where alcoholic beverages are sold.

Officers C. W. Thompson and Robert L. Gilpin testified in the lengthy hearing yesterday morning that they nabbed Carnell after they found a 17-year-old local boy in his tavern.

In Police Court Carnell was fined $100. A man, who stated to police that he had given the boy a drink of whisky, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

Harold E. Naughton, attorney for Carnell, pointed out to the board the defendant was a spastic paralytic and was not physically able to eject anyone from his place.

Carnell testified he saw the boy seated in a booth with the man and had asked him to leave. The youth, who, according to police, possesses a criminal record, flatly told the proprietor to mind his own business.

Shortly afterward, Carnell stated the police came in and arrested all three of them.

Naughton explained that Carnell has been a spastic paralytic since birth. He added that the defendant had used his savings to invest in the Friendly Tavern. Naughton, in his closing statement, pointed out that Carnell has not been arrested in his ten years of operating the tavern.

The board, in announcing the suspension said that the evidence pointed to the fact that there was a minor in the tavern. However, the board added that it was meting out the lightest possible sentence.

Resident Locked Out

Firemen from Central Station No. 1 were summoned Sunday morning to the home of Mrs. Rudolph F. Kompanek, 560 Fayette Street. She had locked herself out so one of the firemen climbed to the second story entered through a window and opened the front door.

Ellerslie May Get Proposed Lumber Mill

The need for legislation providing for tax exemption to encourage new industry was discussed yesterday at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

William R. Carscaden, attorney for owners of an old pottery plant at Ellerslie and Pittsburgh interests, appeared before the board to inquire as to the possibility of obtaining a tax exemption on machinery and tool for a proposed lumber mill in that community.

He said the Pittsburgh men interested in starting a small industry in Ellerslie wanted to know if a tax exemption on their machinery and tools were possible.

Carscaden explained that 15 men would be employed to start the mill and that maximum employment would be about 50. The entire project is in the formative stage, he emphasized.

Members of the county board said they would have their attorney, Gorman E. Getty, check into the law pertaining to the tax exemption proposal and would give their answer March 6.

Meanwhile, the possibility of having legislation introduced by the Allegany county delegation to the legislature providing for tax exemption for limited period to attract new industries to this county was discussed.

It was pointed out many states have legislation for tax exemptions and it is in these areas which new industry is locating. Pennsylvania, South and North Carolina were among states mentioned.

Driver Freed Under Bond

Bond of $500 was posted Monday night for the release of Thomas Whitacre, Jr., 21, Vindex, who faces a manslaughter charge resulting from the death of a companion in a traffic accident near Swanton over the weekend.

Committed to Garrett County Jail in Oakland following the mishap, Whitacre appeared before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch Monday afternoon. Unable to post collateral, he was incarcerated again until about 8 p.m. No date for trial has been set.

State Police said Whitacre was driving the car which hit a utility pole Saturday night and fatally injured William F. Stewart, 32, also of Vindex.

Increase In Volunteer Fire Company Funds Is Refused

The request of 19 volunteer fire companies for a $200 increase each was turned down by the Allegany Board of Commissioners yesterday.

Joseph Wenrich, a representative of the fire companies, was informed that the board understood the need for more funds for the companies, but that the probable expense to the county under the proposed civilian defense setup will be heavy.

Wenrich said that the volunteer fire companies will be a major part of the civilian defense program and the recommendations of the City of Cumberland Fire Department is for each company to get 1,500 feet of fire hose and 15 portable pumps for distribution in the immediate areas of industries.

Under this setup the county and incorporated municipalities will bear part of the cost. It is expected that the federal and state governments will provide funds for the program under a matching fund system.

Using this method the volunteer fire companies would obtain needed equipment and the matching fund program would result in a big saving to the county and municipalities.

If the county should pay $200 to each fire company the total would be $3,800, but if this sum were used on a matching fund basis with the money to be furnished by the federal and state government the prospect is that three times that much would be available.

The county funds already appropriated for the 19 companies may only be used to buy new equipment and for the repair of fire trucks and buildings. Other funds expended by fire companies must be raised from other sources.

Ridgeley High Beaten 58-55 By Sentinels

Score Tied 17 Times, Hilltoppers Eke Out 19th Win Of Season

A scrappy Ridgeley team extended Fort Hill's Sentinels last night before bowing to Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team by the score of 58-55 in a fast and exciting battle on the Ridgeley court before Ridgeley's largest crowd of the season—543 paying patrons.

The score was tied 17 times in this thriller and Fort Hill finally sewed it up in the closing minutes with three quick goals after the count had reached 51-50 in the Hilltoppers' favor.

Ridgeley held a slight edge in the first half of the battle — leading 8-7 at the quarter and 29-25 in intermission but Fort Hill came back in the third stanza to grab the long end of a 47-44 count.

Ridgeley, still in the running for West Virginia Region No. 4 title, has won 12 games and lost 11. Fort Hill, contender for Maryland's Class "A" title, has won 19 and lost 2.

Fort Hill scored 22 goals in 85 shots and hooped 14 of 21 charity tosses. Ridgeley scored on 19 of 74 tries from the field and sank 17 of 28 free throws.

Carl Hartman of Ridgeley led the scoring procession with 20 points. Lynn Beightol of Fort Hill was runner-up with 19, Ridgeley's Abe had 18 and Schley Lyons of the Sentinels helped himself to 14 points.

Two players were ejected on personal fouls — Glen Wilson going out in the 3rd period while Albert Decker made his exit in the final stanza. Lineups:

Stadium Inn Defeats Frostburg K-C, 2-1

Stadium Inn, Frostburg, tied the Century Club for the runner-up spot in the Men's National Shuffleboard League of Allegany County, by scoring a 2-1 victory over the Frostburg Knights of Columbus last night.

Century and Stadium have 11-4 records and are two full games back of the pace-setting Cumberland K. of C.

Gracie of Stadium Inn and E. Jackson of the K. of C. tied for high point honors with 21 each.

Two Browns Sign

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 27 (AP) — The signing of two more players was announced as the St. Louis Browns headed westward today to open their spring training at Burbank, Calif.

The latest to come to terms with the club arep itcher Duane Pillette, who won three and lost five last season, and second baseman George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss.

Pete Reilly, 61, Pilot Of Boxing Champions, Dies

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP) — Pete Reilly, 61, well known prize fight manager, died today at his home in Brooklyn.

Reilly was one of the most colorful figures in boxing and was especially known as a practical joker at training camps. He managed Jack Delaney, who won the light heavyweight title in 1926; and four featherweight champions, Bat Battalino, Freddie Miller, Andrew Routis and Pete Scalza. He also was associated with the late Joe Jacobs in managing Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion.

Recent fighters he has handled include Roman Alvarez and Billy Murphy.

Lloyd Marshall Knocked Out By Cockell In 1st

Turpin Also Scores KO In London Match

LONDON, Feb. 27 (INS) — Randolph Turpin, British middleweight champion, won the European title tonight with a 48-second knockout over Luc Van Dam, Dutch champion, in Harringay Stadium.

Turpin immediately challenged Sugar Ray Robinson to a bout for the world's title now held by Robinson. Van Dam was one of Robinson's knockout victims on the American's recent visit to Europe.

This was Turpin's sixth straight knockout. In his last fight he scored a 45-second kayo over Eduardo Lopez of Spain. In that instance a short hook to the jaw turned the trick. A series of rights and lefts accounted for Van Dam tonight.

Don Cockell, British light heavyweight, flattened the veteran American, Lloyd Marshall of Cleveland, in 35 second of the first round.

Cockell and Marshall met once before when Marshall was disqualified for a low blow.

Johnson Signs Pact, Berra And Byrne Out

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 27 (AP) — Billy Johnson, third baseman, has signed his 1951 contract with the New York Yankees and will fly from his home at Augusta, Ga., to the team's spring training camp here.

It is said unofficially his contract calls for an estimated $15,000 for the year.

Signing of Johnson leaves only two of the regulars still unsigned. They are Yogi Berra, catcher, who is still in his St. Louis, Mo., home, and Tom Byrne, left handed pitcher,of Wake Forest, N. C.

Wake Forest Wins

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Wake Forest College baseball team, representing the United States, piled up ten runs in the first inning and coasted to a 29-3 victory over Argentina today in the Pan-American Games.

It was the first international baseball game ever played in this country. The Argentines fielded an inexperienced squad that didn't have a chance against the Americans.

LaSalle Hits Season High At Paw Paw

Rolls Up 76-58 Win, Ackerman Scores 33

Paced by Paul Ackerman who netted 33 points on fourteen field goals and 5-6 fouls, LaSalle High School's Explorers trounced the Paw Paw High School Mountaineers last night at Paw Paw, W. Va., by the score of 76-58.

The victory was the 11th against 10 losses for Coach Art Slocum's quint which rolled up its highest total of the season in sweeping the series with the Morgan countains. LaSalle defeated Paw Paw here, 43-26.

Ackerman's point total was the highest credited to a LaSalle player in a single game this season. Doug Connally heaved in 14 tallies and Jim Moran collected an even dozen.

Perry Rockwell and Donald Largent were Paw Paw's chief point getters with 21 and 17. Largent had eight baskets and Rockwell seven.

The teams battled to a 13-13 draw in the first period then La Salle stepped away to a 35-29 lead at halftime and held the long end of a 54-44 score in the third period.

Twenty-seven personal fouls were called on Paw Paw and 19 on LaSalle. Largent, Miller and Robey of the home team were ejected on personal fouls.

Paw Paw concluded its first season under Coach Robert Hartman with a 10-10 record. Lineups:

Charley Keller Signs Contract

Keeps Pinch Hitter Role With Detroit

FREDERICK, Md., Feb. 27 (AP)—Charley Keller announced today he has signed a 1951 contract to continue his pinch hitting chores for the Detroit Tigers.

The long-time Yankee star declined to reveal the financial arrangements. Only a few days ago he had said he was thinking about giving up baseball.

Keller said he will leave Thursday for the Tiger training camp at Lakeland, Fla.

The one-time University of Maryland star is heading into his twelfth year of major league baseball. His massive arms and shoulders made him a slugging star for the Yankees in ten of these seasons. A back injury and the resulting operation started him on the decline four years ago. He is now 34.

Keller signed with the Tigers last year after being released by the Yankees and was Detroit's No. 1 pinch hitter. He wound up with a .300-plus batting average, although playing only infrequently until the latter part of the season.

Keller was born near here and lives in Frederick during the winter.

Pennsy Lawmakers Want Pari-Mutuels

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 27 (AP) — A trio of Philadelphia lawmakers opened a fight in the General Assembly today to legalize horse race betting in Pennsylvania.

The trio, Reps. Frank Costa, Cornelius J. Loftus and John R. McCormack, all Republicans, introduced a bill last night establishing race tracks and authorizing pari-mutual betting in the Keystone State.

Riot Ends Ball Game

By C. V. BURNS

Johnny Byrnes, the Eckhart grocer, and mainstay of Cumberland Colts' baseball teams for eight seasons, notes the time the Dobbins played in Scottdale, Pa., and the merchants of the mill town had offered a flock of prizes to the player who made the first hit, first extra base hit, first home run, etc.

The donors of the prizes failed to designate whether players of both teams were eligible.

Cumberland batted first and Byrnes was the first player to hit. In fact, Johnny belted a home run and that entitled him to prizes for the first hit, first extra base hit and first home run.

It was an embarrassing moment for the home club when it came to distributing the prizes.

Byrnes was asked whom he thought was entitled to the awards and he replied:

"The players of the home team, of course."

They were very much relieved when Johnny disqualified himself.

Byrnes recalls that the player who earned a couple of those prizes was Jimmy O'Connor whose dad died last week in Pittsburgh. Jimmy first played at Wheeling and later joined Scottdale. His father was an official of the Wheeling team in 1925.

Alvin "Bo" McMillin, the new head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles football team, is a gifted a story teller and one of his favorite yarns concerns the time his Indiana team continually messed up a spinner play. "Bo" made them run it through so often in a tireless search for perfection that the entire squad was exhausted, particularly one Negro halfback. The exasperated McMillin gathered the boys around him.

"We'll practice this play," he roared, "until you're all black in the face."

Up spoke the Negro, who asked: "Can I go now, coach?"

Greenbank High School of Pocahontas county, which is southwest of Pendleton county, on the Virginia border, has won 22 consecutive games and is undefeated since losing to Concord Training School in the West Virginia Class "B" state tournament last year. Concord went on to win the state title.

Greenbank which holds 48-37 and 42-30 decisions over Davis High of Tucker county, won the Section 18 tournament on Saturday by trouncing Hillsboro, 62-21.

Two years ago the South Atlantic Association (AAU) boxing championships were held here and three local mittmen, Earl Smith, 118; Jim Folk, 135, and Randall "Skeets" Starkey, 160, qualified for the nationals in Boston where they were stopped.

This year's S. A. A. meet is set for March 14, 21 and 28 at the Baltimore Coliseum but we doubt if there will be any entries from this section because there were not more than a half dozen local boys available when the sport did a fadeout here last November.

However, if there are any boxers who would like to make the trip their entries must be in by midnight March 8. Write Ed Chaffman, 108 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore 2, Md.

Everett High School's basketball team figured in a game that had a riotous ending the other night at Bellwood, Pa., and Coach Claude Larimer of the Bedford county team blames "incompetent officials" for all the trouble.

The contest between Everett and Bellwood-Antis came to an abrupt end nine seconds before the final whistle when Bellwood fans surged on the floor to take part in a scrap then in progress between several members of the opposing teams.

In the third period Dillin of Bellwood and Bertram of Everett was tossed out of the game for fighting, according to Larimer. Then Hoffer of Bellwood and Shoemaker of Everett began "roughing it up." Hoffer hit Shoemaker and floored him. No fouls were called and Tewell jumped on Hoffer. Then the spectators poured on the floor.

Larimer called the Everett players from the floor for their own safety but three Everett boys already had been hit.

"The game's outcome is secondary," Larimer explained. "We're protesting the fact that the fans invaded the playing floor and beat up our players. It is the responsibility of the home management to police the spectators."

Hogan Says Layne Got $3,000 For Fixing Three Cage Games

Payoff Includes $500 Bonus; Two Remaining Games Are Cancelled

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said today that another of City College of New York's championship basketball stars admitted taking part in the fixed games.

He is Floyd G. Layne, the 10th metropolitan star or former player to be questioned about collegiate sports' greatest scandal.

The purported confession came shortly after CCNY quit basketball for the rest of the season, its officials discouraged and disgusted with the spreading scandal.

Hogan said Layne admitted taking part in the fix of three games for which he received $2,500 in bribes and $500 in "bonuses."

The district attorney said Layne was mixed up with three other CCNY stars in a bribery setup bankrolled by jeweler Salvatore T. Sollazzo.

Sollazzo hitherto has been regarded as the brains behind the entire scandal.

However, Hogan said during the day he has evidence that at least one other fixer—whom he did not identify—was working behind the scenes of big-time basketball.

Layne tried hard to resist the lure of easy gambling money, Hogan said, before he finally gave in and joined his teammates in the three fixes.

Names Games Fixed

The district attorney said the fixed games were with Missouri Dec. 9, Arizona Dec. 28 and the Boston College game Jan. 11.

These were the same three games which three of Layne's CCNY teammates are said to have admitted fixing.

Hogan said Layne never was paid off for the Boston College game but did not explain why.

In addition to the fixed games, Hogan said Layne got a $250 bonus for CCNY games with Washington State Dec. 14 and St. John's Jan. 2.

The district attorney said Layne was not required to do any fixing in these games. The money was to "sweeten" Layne and the other bribed players for future sellouts, Hogan said.

The 22-year-old Layne, a negro from the Bronx, is a CCNY junior and has played basketball for two seasons.

Layne is the fourth of CCNY's "Cinderella" stars drawn into the fixing scandal.

He and the others boosted CCNY into the top rung in both the National Invitation and the N. C. A. A. tourneys last year — a dual victory never before accomplished. The feat earned the "Cinderella" title for CCNY.

Miller Bribed In 1948

Layne was called to the district attorney's office about 24 hours after Natie Miller, one-time Long Island University star was called on the carpet. Miller admitted late last night that he was bribed in 1948, authorities said.

CCNY became the second of three schools in the big scandal to suspend cage activity for the rest of the season.

LIU called off the rest of its games last week and said it was quitting all intercollegiate activity. However, authorities later said this decision might be reconsidered.

The other school involved, New York University, did not cancel any games. But one of its two remaining games was washed out by CCNY's decision to quit. The other, with Fordham at the 69th Regiment Armory here Saturday, is still on.

As the district attorney's office brought in 10 more detectives to dig into the mess, President Harry N. Wright of CCNY said in a statement:

Calls Off Two Games

"In view of the more recent developments and the further disclosures by the district attorney, it is felt that the college no longer should continue to meet its scheduled obligations in the present atmosphere of uncertainty and suspicion."

CCNY had two scheduled games left — including a March 6 clash at Madison Square Garden with NYU, its traditional intra-city rival. The other Thursday night was with Manhattan College, also at the Garden.

The two CCNY games were the only major ones left at the Garden this season. The LIU-Valparaiso match originally planned as part of a March 1 doubleheader, was cancelled.

Despite "fix" revelations—costing CCNY the services of three of the four involved stars — the school played last week and beat Lafayette 67-48. Layne starred in that game as high scorer with 20 points.

Miller was accused of taking $1,500 in bribes to fix two Madison Square Garden games involving LIU in 1948. LIU lost both — one to Bowling Green and the other to Western Kentucky.

Altoona And Spas Play Here Sunday

Coach William V. Keegan last night announced that the Cumberland Spas will play hosts to the Altoona Flyers here Sunday night at 9 o'clock in an All-American Basketball League game.

Keegan expressed some doubt about Saturday night's game being played in Altoona because the Flyers have advised him they can't get the Jaffa Mosque floor for the contest.

Only four more league games remain on the Spas' schedule—two with Altoona and two with Beaver Falls.

Erie is scheduled to play in Wheeling tonight.

The Rice Institute Owls do not have one varsity quarterback returning for the 1951 football season.

Carl Hartman Sets Four All-Time PVC Scoring Records

Ridgeley Ace Posts Average Of 29 Points

Scores 348 Markers, Makes 29 Baskets, 62 Points In Game

Carl Hartman

Carl Hartman, sharpshooting forward of the Ridgeley High School Blackhawks, hung up four all-time scoring records in the Potomac Valley Conference this season.

Hartman amassed a grand total of 348 points in 12 games for the amazing average of 29 points per game and on February 20 in a game against the West Virginia Deaf School, the Hawks' shooting wizard racked up 29 field goals and 62 points for two additional records.

George Fisher, center of Moorefield's unbeaten conference champions, and winner of the scoring title in 1950, finished in the runner-up spot this year with 332 points for 17 contests. His average was exceptionally high at 19.5 points per game.

Bob Petry of Romney was the third player to finish with better than 300 points.

He garnered 307 markers in 16 games for an average of 18.8.

Longshots Score And Return $731 In Daily Double

95 Persons Collect On Hialeah Winners

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP) — A couple of longshots figured in today's daily double payoff of $731.20 at Hialeah Park, and it was good news for a total of 95 ticketholders who landed on the lucky combination of 7 and 10.

It was started by Fred W. Hooper's Royal Stream in the opening dash for maiden 2-year-olds, and molded in the second by Mrs. S. G. Steckler's Fanborough.

Royal Stream, ridden by Shelby Clark, got home first by four lengths, beating Trick Pilot, the 4 to 5 shot, with ease. Third in the field of 14 youngsters was Charl's Man, a field horse. Time for the three furlongs was .33 2/2. Royal Stream paid $42.10 straight.

Fanborough, making his second start of the winter, led virtually all the way under Joe Culmone, completing the six panels in 1.12 4/5 and paying $28.90. Sky Blue was second and Peraldahyde third. Twelve 3-year-olds competed.

Another upset came when J. M. Seider's Bundlrab, $24.40, won the third by a head from Zuzie B. She was ridden by Apprentice Charles Campbell. Bosmond took third from seven other cheap routers.

Mrs. H. Mart's Gray Marabout, dropping down in company, led from end to end under Bobby Martin in the fourth, a six-furlong jaunt that drew twelve starters. He paid $8.80, beating Signal Code by a length. Swordstown, the choice, was a driving third. The time was 1.12.

Cabrelli To Coach Washington's Ends

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP) — Larry Cabrelli, who played and helped Earle (Greasy) Neale coach the Philadelphia Eagles to four eastern and two league titles in the National Football League, has officially signed and checked in as the Washington Redskins' end coach.

The former Colgate end, who was one of the NFL's finest defensive wingmen in his playing career from 1941 through 1948, is the second end coach in Tribe history. The only other they have ever had was former Notre Dame and Redskins star Wayne Millner.

Except during Millner's time, the staff has been restricted to three men—a head coach, a backfield coach and a line coach.

Draft Boards List Sixteen

Sixteen Allegany county men will report March 12 in Martinsburg, W. Va., for induction into the Armed Forces.

Frostburg Draft Board No. 30 will send ten:

Billy D. Pearce, John R. Martin, Gerald E. Rankin, Kenneth M. Kenner and Harold E. Wilt, all of Westernport; Joseph W. Weimer, Mt. Savage; Earl P. Stewart, Lonaconing; Norman D. Filsinger and Robert W. Wright, Eckhart, and James B. Martin, Clarysville.

Leaving from Board No. 29 here will be Olin Calvin Moody, Route 6, Homewood Addition; John Russell Grabenstein, Jr., Route 5, Winchester Road; Earl Kenneth Potts, Route 6, Roberts Place; Albert Joseph Lawler, 214 Fayette Street; Charles Ernest Easton, Riverdale, and Robert Franklin Ogilvie, 524 Fairmont Avenue.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator of Cumberland boards, said the contingent will depart at 5:55 a. m. at Queen City Station. The Frostburg group will meet at the Gunter Hotel there for the trip to this city.

Twenty-five registrants of Board No. 27 and a physician will report March 5 in Martinsburg for preinduction physical examinations. Four inductees will accompany them.

Packaged white cake mix may be baked fresh in a loaf pan and served hot, as you would a cottage pudding, with a sweet sauce. You can melt currant jelly and use it for the sauce, if you like, or you can use chocolate sauce.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27 (INS)—Next summer seems a long time ahead to plan a motion picture. Yet, summer will be upon us before we know it. When it comes Van Johnson will be given the lead in "When In Rome," a comedy Clarence Brown will produce and direct for M-G-M after he finishes "Angels In The Outfield" with Paul Douglas.

Van Johnson

"When In Rome"—now being written by Charles Schnee, is about a priest en route to Rome who has his clerical vestments stolen by a gangster. The unhappy father, robbed of his identification and his clothes, has a difficult time proving his identity.

There won't be any Broadway play acting for Franchot Tone—this season, at any rate. Franchot and Barbara Payton are in Hollywood after he bowed out of "Let Me Hear That Melody," under the advice of his physician. The medico warned Tone he must take at least a two-month rest before he attempts anything as strenuous as a New York play, so Melvyn Douglas steps into Franchot's shoes.

There are also other rumors flying about which give another side to this picture. Franchot, who promised Barbara a chance at Broadway when she trouped the straw-hat circuit with him last summer in "The Second Man," fell at odds with the producers when they refused to cast her as his leading lady. She was willing to bow out, but he refused to be separated from her.

C. B. De Mille, between a moving camera crane and an onrushing jeep, had to jump for his life when the driver of the jeep failed to see the veteran director in his path for a scene in "Greatest Show On Earth."

Knowing him for many years, I can say that had C. B. broken his neck instead of his right shoulder, he would have finished his work.

Several years ago, when he had a bad accident on the set, an ambulance was sent for him. De Mille got in and completed the day's work from the cot, giving his directions through the glass window.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Winthrop Rockefeller's interest in Actress Gretchen North is the real McCoy. He flew from Venezuela last week to be near her in New York.

Kay Buckley is in Mexico City to end her scant four-week marriage to J. Arthur Warner in the divorce courts. She isn't listening to his annulment talk.

Far from retiring from the night spots—Nicky Hilton was with Gloria De Haven at the Cafe Gala.

Uncle Sam gets Vic Damone right after he completes his four-week P. A. in Boston. Vic's in New York spending all the time he can with his mother.

David Selznick, lunching with Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna at Hillcrest, reviving talk that there's something in the air for Jennifer Jones with the boys.

Lili St. Cyr, in her bubble bath, drew a good weekend crowd to Ciro's. Bob Taylor just back from New York, was with the Sam Marxes. At the next table, Ava Gardner with the Joe Kaufmans—and Howard Hawks showed up with his new find (his heart, too, maybe?) pretty Dee Hartford.

Also spotted among the "bubbling" ringsiders—Marilyn Maxwell and Doug Whitney.

Due to a bad long distance connection from New York the tip that June Havco is replacing Celeste Holm in "Affairs of State" did not come from June, herself. June's still in Malibu.

In No. 1 spot on the fan mail list at Warners is Doris Day.

Didn't I say it would be nothing flate before Steve Cochran followed Ginger Rogers to La Quinta? He leaves this week.

Irene Dunne and Dr. Griffin and Loretta Young and Tom Lewis had the Turf Club table right above me. First time I've seen those two belles at the races.

Also saw Doris and Jules Stein, Joseph Schenck, Walter Wanger, Louis B. Mayer, Bill Goetz, Sam Goldwyn and Frances in various stages of winning or losing.

Linda Darnell and Charlie Feldman stopping by Bublichki for dinner before going on to a preview.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Insurance Company Shows Rapid Growth

Ray F. Hamner, district manager of the Cumberland branch office of the Home Beneficial Life Insurance Company said yesterday that the company annual report shows exceptional growth during 1950.

He added that W. E. Wiltshire, president of the Richmond, Va. firm announced after a recent Board of Directors meeting that at the close of the year insurance in force amounted to $402,086,419, an increase of over $34 million for 1950.

During the past year the Home Beneficial has paid over $5 million to living policyowners and beneficiaries of policyowners who died during the year.

Joseph F. Tippen Wins Promotion At Amcelle

It was announced yesterday that Mr. Joseph F. Tippen of 703 Louisiana Avenue has been promoted to supervisor in the twisting department at Amcelle. He will fill the vacancy created by promotion of Robert D. Peebles to head of the coning department as a replacement for William T. Stearn, who was transferred to the Corporation's new plant at Cali, Colombia, South America.

Tippen was employed at Amcelle in December, 1929, and has served in various departments of the Textile Section. His most recent assignment was Shift Supervisor in the Twisting Department.

It has been estimated that the human body contains enough phosphorus to make 2,000 matches.

Between 1900 and 1940 the dental profession in the United States grew from 29,665 to 70,601.

Keyser Chamber Will Hear Talk On Promotion

Lowry Will Speak At Event Tonight

KEYSER, W. Va. — T. Warner Lowry, manager for the Potomac Light & Power Company, in Keyser, and chairman of the Industrial Promotion Committee of the Keyser, - Mineral County, Chamber of Commerce, will deliver the principal talk at the chamber's annual membership dinner-meeting this evening.

Election of officers for the year beginning April 1, will be conducted, and in addition the "Kick-off" for the new member contest will be staged.

The dinner-meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows Temple on North Mineral Street, beginning at 6:15 p. m., with Ralph O. Martin master of ceremonies. Fred Davis, president, will have charge of the business meeting.

Lowry, will point out the industrial promotion activities of the chamber in the past year. As chairman of the committee, he has been very active compiling information concerning Mineral county's advantages and endeavoring, at all times, to develop prospects for new industry to locate here.

Three members will be elected to the board of directors of the chamber at the business session. Chester J. Compton, membership chairman, pointed out that the membership will be short and snappy. The contest will get under way following tonight's gathering and the expiration date is Thursday, March 8. The captains were recently appointed and their co-workers will be the present members, divided into two groups. Six prizes will be awarded. They are now on display in the show windows of Markwood's Furniture Store, on North Main Street.

C. Arnold Ludwick, Jr., and Roy Davidson are captains of the teams that will be named from the two membership groups tonight.

State Senators In West Virginia Debate Salaries

CHARLESTON, W. Va., 27 (AP)—The Senate got off its dignity today to engage in a free-for-all political debate over raising the salaries of department heads of state government.

Harry E. Moats, Republican lawyer from Harrisville, waded into the thick of the fray with an unsuccessful move to delay consideration of 20 pay raise bills, saying:

"We are losing school teachers in West Virginia, but I haven't heard of losing any department heads."

All of the 20 salary measures ultimately were passed by the senate.

Moats charged that more than half the members of the Legislature are working for the state, and some of the other half have relatives on the state payrolls.

"Many of these men have liquor contracts with the state," Moats asserted, and declared the Democrats are "tearing down the democratic system of government in West Virginia" by their actions.

Moats also criticized Governor Patteson for making a personal appearance before a Senate committee to urge approval of the soda pop tax to finance the proposed four-year medical school.

Chairman Hardesty (D-Marion) of the finance committee, before which group Patteson appeared and which late yesterday voted out the tax measure, criticized what he regarded as the lack of good taste in dragging in the Governor's name "over the matter of department heads' salaries."

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — Tri-Towns Fire Company of Piedmont and Potomac Fire Company of Westernport answered two fire alarms at the garbage disposal dump two miles east of Piedmont yesterday afternoon.

Gun Club Hears Delegate Kelley On Conservation

Westernport Group Awards Prizes

WESTERNPORT—Estel C. Kelley, member of the House of Delegates from Allegany county, told the 200 members and guests who attended the annual smoker of the Upper Potomac Rod and Gun Club there are too many hunting regulations.

Kelley, former Westernport resident, who now lives in Cumberland, told the group Sunday at the Bloomington Fire Hall, that he thought the State of Maryland should lease some of its land for citizens to construct cabins. The state would derive some revenue from the presently unused property in that way.

Joseph Minke, regional game warden, who introduced Delegate Kelley, said that he hoped the Savage River Dam would be developed for recreational as well as industrial uses.

Membership prizes for those enrolling the most members were presented by Clyde Michael, club president. Two were given by the club and the other by business firms of the Tri-Towns area, Keyser, W. Va. and Cumberland.

First prize of $25 was awarded to Albert Miller, Westernport, who enrolled 88 members. Other prize winners included Melvin Whitfield, 62 members; Cleve Linkswiler, 51 members; Charles Price, Bloomington, 45 members; Ernest Wilson, 43 members; Harry Foreman, 27 members; Francis Humes, 29 members; Clyde Michael, 28 members, Harley Wilson 20 members. Minke was also presented with a prize.

Michaels introduced the other officers of the club. They are Albert Miller, first vice president; Cleve Linkswiler, second vice president; Richard Kline, secretary, and Melvin Whitfield, treasurer.

Following the program a luncheon was served and music was provided by Barry's Swingtettes of Eckhart.

Midland Pupils Plan Assembly

MIDLAND—Second and fourth grade pupils and music groups under direction of Mrs. W. Marshall Falkin and Mrs. Earl Smith will present the monthly assembly program for Midland Elementary School this afternoon.

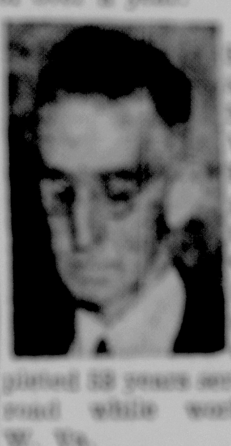
Westernport's Former Mayor Dies At His Home

Wm. Ravenscroft Had Been Ill Year

William C. Ravenscroft, 73, former mayor of Westernport, died yesterday at his home, 208 Spruce Street Westernport, after an illness of over a year.



Born December 1, 1877, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ravenscroft. He learned the painting trade at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Shops at Piedmont and in October, 1945, completed 52 years service with the railroad while working at Keyser, W. Va.

He was elected to three two-year terms to the Westernport council and upon the death of Mayor Edward S. Moran he was named mayor by the council July 14, 1948. He served until March, 1950.

Mr. Ravenscroft was a past master of Hiram Lodge, No. 132, A. F. and A. Masons; a member of Bethlehem Chapter No. 16, Order of Eastern Star; Philos Lodge No. 93, IOOF; and an honorary member of the Tri-Towns Rotary Club.

His wife is the former Elizabeth Kalbaugh, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kalbaugh of Mt. Savage. They observed their 50th wedding anniversary December 24, 1948.

Besides Mrs. Ravenscroft, he is survived by a son, Clyde Ellsworth Ravenscroft, Detroit; a daughter, Mrs. Bruce Montgomery, Keyser; two sisters, Miss Anna Ravenscroft, Westernport, and Mrs. Samuel A. Carr, Rockville, Md.; a brother, Norris Ravenscroft, Westernport; eight grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

The body is at the home.

Ensemble Will Play After Dinner At Piedmont Church

PIEDMONT ,W. Va.—A program will be presented at a public dinner in the recreation hall of Trinity Methodist Church, Friday evening by the Woodwind and Brass Ensemble.

Musical numbers will be presented following the dinner. The ensemble includes Arthur Kaufman, pianist; Rosamond Jones, marimba soloist; Leonard Gronowsky, clarinet soloist, and William Warren, trombonist and clarinetist. They all have symphonic backgrounds and wide experience in their arts. They have toured the middle west appearing at many colleges and schools.

Their program will include Frank Black's arrangements of the Second Hungarian Rhapsody, gypsy airs and popular numbers.

Proceeds from the affair will be used for necessary repairs to the educational part of the church and for the decoration of the recreation hall. The entertainment is free to those who attend the dinner.

The ensemble will give a concert at Bruce High School, Westernport, on the same afternoon.

A similar dinner was held last year when the program given by the Ambassador Quartet supplied by the Antrim Bureau.

The committee in charge of the dinner includes John W. Fisher, Vernon L. Fox, Rev. G. Clarence Mitchell and Roslin P. [illegible].

Dual Killer Under Guard

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — Charged with the murder of his two elderly brothers and the wounding of two other relatives Saturday night, Jesse Vandevander, about 45, is in a hospital in Harrisonburg, Va. under police guard.

Hospital authorities yesterday said that Vandevander is in "only fair" condition. An attempt on his own life failed after he blasted away with a shotgun to climax a day of bitter quarreling at the family's farm near Cherry Grove, W. Va. He has two rifle bullet wounds in the chest.

State Trooper R. E. Schnell said that Vandevander admitted the shooting, saying the other members of the family had been "picking on me for a long time."

The trooper quoted Vandevander as saying he "lost his head" and blasted away, killing Jacob, a blind brother, and Wayne Vandevander, both in their early sixties.

Virgil Vandevander, 35-year-old nephew of the accused murderer, is reported "improving" at Rockingham Memorial Hospital, Harrisonburg, authorities said. He suffered wounds of the right shoulder and right leg.

Also hospitalized is a woman said to be Jesse's sister, Betty Alice Bennett, about 50, who suffered bullet wounds in the left arm. Amputation of the arm below the elbow was necessary yesterday, hospital attaches reported.

Church Group Will Sponsor Revival

HYNDMAN — The Palo Alto Evangelical United Brethren Church will hold revival services March 4 through March 18. Guest speakers will be ministers from other churches in the area.

Mrs. Sadie Triplett, evangelist from Cumberland, will speak March 4, 5 and 6. Rev. Charles Haley, pastor of the church, is in charge of arrangements.

Radio And Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Love Begins At Forty

John Crosby

LAST summer the intellectual hierarchy at the Columbia Broadcasting System announced triumphantly that they had absconded with one more NBC star, namely Harold Peary who had been "The Great Gildersleeve" on NBC since the year two. Mr. Peary, said CBS, had been signed to a seven-year contract and would create a new show and a new character for that network.

It must have seemed like a bright idea at the time. Events have proved it to be an unqualified disaster both for the network and Mr. Peary. Seven years of the "Harold Peary Show!" I don't even think radio will last that long, much less that program.

• — • — •

The "Harold Peary Show," (CBS 9 p.m., EST Wednesdays), to get down to cases, is a half hour pullulation of middle-aged adolescence. It is laid, an apt word for it, in the fictional small town of Melrose Springs where love among the middle-aged germinates like orchids along the Amazon. Even on "The Great Gildersleeve," Mr. Peary had grave difficulties coping with the opposite sex. The very sight of a g—l set him to giggling and, in general, behaving like a 13-year-old. But, as Gildie, at least he had a few outside interests.

As Honest Harold in his new show, the girls occupy all his time. And, in spite of the fact that he has held hands with an awful lot of babies now, he doesn't seem to be getting any better at it. He still comes apart at the seams at the sight of a pretty face. The dialogue which ensues during these erotic seizures defies description. So I'll describe it anyway.

"Im coming over to see you, Theodora."

"Oh, goodie-woodie!"

Or: "Pucker up, Florabelle."

"I'm puckered."

"I'm tuckered. Let's go home."

These passionate utterances, you ought to be warned, are accompanied by such mewing and lowing and gurgling that you may get the idea you're in a barnyard rather than someone's parlor. All the girls have flowery names like that—Florabelle, Theodora, Evalina. A couple of others are named Tempest and Sunshine, for God's sake. All I can say is that these babes, who are constantly being overtaken by paroxysms of giggling, richly deserve those handles. They generally refer to Honest Harold, you'll be interested to know, as "teddy bear," "tootsie roll" and other forms of endearment too obscene to be printed in a family newspaper.

• — • — •

Love runs rampant even among the old folks on this show. Honest Harold's mother, who belongs to the Sunny Side of Seventy Club, had a brief fling not so long ago with Zeke Rivers, another Sunny Side member. They sat around the parlor making eyes at one another and gorging themselves on peanut brittle. (Take it easy on that peanut brittle, mama. That stuff will kill you if you're not careful.)

No review of the Peary show would be complete without some mention of the Peary laugh, a national phenomenon almost as awe-inspiring as Yellowstone National park. Mr. Peary can laugh in three octaves with such intensity, flexibility and volume that in my vicinity we use the program as a moose call. CBS is so proud of this curious accomplishment that it staged a national laugh contest in 177 cities.

I don't know who won it and I don't care. On "The Great Gildersleeve," the laughter assignment was handled exclusively by Mr. Peary. But on the new show, everyone helps out. Honest Harold's two friends, Doc Yancey and Pete, are both equipped with fruity chuckles and, as mentioned earlier, the girls have almost incessant fits of giggling. In the rare intervals, when the cast isn't chortling, the studio audience is guffawing, sometimes happily drowning out some of that regrettable dialogue. (Didn't succeed in drowning out: "The twosome was gruesome," though. Wish it had.)

• — • — •

When Honest Harold isn't chasing girls, you're likely to discover him playing with his BB gun or his model planes. A case of arrested development all along the line, I guess. I don't know who the Peary show is aimed at, exactly. Not me certainly. Conceivably it is meant to inform and instruct the older folks in small towns.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Keyser Man Hit By Railroad Car

KEYSER, W. Va. — Raymond Lewis, 39, of Ward Avenue was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital yesterday afternoon following an accident on Mineral Street "Y" track in the local yards of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Ward, according to witnesses, was standing on the track when a car, shifted by a yard engine knocked him down.

Onlookers stated the man's right arm was either pinched or crushed by the railroad car but the wheels did not pass over the arm. He was reported by hospital attaches as resting "comfortably" last night.

Adult Classes Due At Potomac

KEYSER, W. Va.—A twelve-weeks adult education course will be inaugurated at Potomac State School, Keyser, beginning next Monday. An organization meeting for those interested in the course will be held at 7 p. m. Monday in the college auditorium.

With regular members of the college staff as instructors, the program is planned to give persons in various jobs useful information for improvement in their work and to give other persons a background of general information to suit their particular interests.

Classes will be held one night each week, for three hours.

Those desiring to enroll for the adult education course are not required to have any specific educational background.

The following courses are to be offered: accounting, arithmetic, biology, beginning chemistry, elementary electricity, practical electricity, engineering, drawing, English grammar, first aid, food preparation (meal planning), humanities, office machines, public speaking, industrial psychology, Spanish, trigonometry, typing, sewing and welding.

Lonaconing Briefs And Personals

The Senior 4-H Club will meet next Thursday, March 8, instead of tomorrow as planned. The meeting will be held at the home of Miss Patsy Murphy.

Dr. and Mrs. John Hohing have returned from visiting Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hohing at Summit, N. J.

Mrs. Anna Hohing is visiting in McKeesport, Pa.

Mrs. Harry Chandler, of Westfield, N. J., was a visitor in Lonaconing on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gowans, East Main Street, have received word that their son, Eugene, has been promoted to private first class. Pfc. Gowans is stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Keyser Physician Leaves For Service

KEYSER, W. Va.—Dr. Harry F. Coffman, local physician and member of the United States Air Force Reserve, left yesterday for active duty. He will assume practically the same duties he had during World War I, as a flight surgeon, with the rank of major.

He has been assigned to an air evacuation unit stationed at present at Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, the eastern terminus of the Korean Air Lift. Mrs. Coffman and daughter will remain in Keyser.

Piedmont Women To Hear Swadley

PIEDMONT, W. Va. — James H. Swadley, Jr., Keyser, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Piedmont Woman's Club Thursday evening at the Piedmont Library.

Mrs. Marian Daniels will be the guest soloist. The program is being arranged by Mrs. Flo Clower, chairman of the legislative committee.

Other members of the committee who will serve as hostess include; Mrs. Richard Tibbett, Mrs. Robert Codire, Mrs. James Ott and Mrs. Mary Wilt.

Keyser Personals

Recent admittances to Potomac Valley Hospital were Mrs. Elmer Sears, Mrs. Edith Eversole, William H. Moreland, Mrs. Ura V. Rotruck, Elmer Yost, Summerfield High, all of Keyser; Melvin L. Gooch, Mannington; Mrs. Cora Travis, Westernport; Mrs. Mary Ellen Boyce, Westernport; Carl Bosley, Piedmont; Mrs. Shirley Farrell, Westernport, and Mrs. Helen Mayhew, Westernport.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pritt, Shaw, announce the birth of a son born Tuesday in the Potomac Valley Hospital.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wiles, Keyser, Monday, at the Potomac Valley Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hull, Westernport, announce the birth of a son, Monday, at the Potomac Valley Hospital.

Donates Two Trees

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Kathleen Todd, West Main Street, donated two large spruce trees, formerly on the family plot in the Frostburg Memorial Park, to Beall High School, as a contribution to the landscaping work now underway on the school grounds. The trees had grown too large for ornamental purposes in their former location.

NOTICE TO DEALERS OF NEW MEDIUM-PRICED PASSENGER CARS

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until 10:30 A. M., at its office in the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, on Tuesday, March 13, 1951, for one (1) new four-door closed sedan of the medium price and weight class.

All bids must itemize delivery price, with heater, defrosters, and seat covers, and indicate approximate delivery date. They must also contain offered price for a 1950 Plymouth Special DeLuxe four-door sedan, in good condition, to be credited on price of new car offered.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

own country, with espionage have brought disgrace upon their families, their parents, their wives, their children.

I knew Laurence Duggan's father, who had been professor at the College of the City of New York and director of the Institute of International Education, a Carnegie benefaction. He was a man of extraordinary capacity for friendship who devoted his life to the international exchange of students. He was an upright American. It must have been a frightful shock to him when Laurence either committed suicide or was killed. It is tough for any father to lose a son, particularly a brilliant son whose career seemed to be so remarkable. Yet, the father could not but have suffered the despair of suspicion.

I should imagine that I am as sentimental about this as Roger Straus, but a fact is a fact, and the facts of the Communist conspiracy must be told. Undoubtedly, some influence was brought to bear on Mr. Straus, but the misery of it is that it is as important to get at the facts of this conspiracy as it is to fight in Korea. Maybe it is even more important.

And if Mrs. Massing's book will add to our knowledge of the facts, then she will have performed an important service to the United States. Nobody has a "moral" right to suppress such facts. It is like suppressing essential evidence in a murder case.

No harm has been done. The book will be published and Mr. Straus will one day have to admit that he made a mistake in confusing his praiseworthy emotions with the vulgarities of essential truth.

Two Distinct Sinking Spells Put Market Down Sharply

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Two distinct sinking spells—one at the start and one at the close—today put the stock market down sharply.

Losses ran to more than $2 a share among leaders, and $1 drops were frequent throughout the list.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about today's session was the volume of business—or rather the lack of business.

Trading came to a total of 1,680,000 shares with prices falling fast. But yesterday when quotations were steady and some of the blue chips turned in sparkling performances the volume came to 1,650,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 80 cents to $94.90. The industrial component of the average lost 80 cents, the rails 90 cents and utilities 20 cents.

The market was unusually narrow with 1,147 individual issues appearing on the tape. Yesterday there were only 1,126 issues traded. Of today's total, 195 ended higher and 764 lower with 28 new highs and three new lows for 1950-51.

Pittsburgh Steel called all class "B" seven per cent preferred for redemption and arrearages were ordered paid on the class "A" five per cent preferred. The common climbed as much as a point but closed off ⅛ at 24⅜. The prior preferred was up 2½ at 95, the class "A" up 3 at 116½, and the class "B" up 35 at 265.

Houston Lighting & Power, up sharply last week, lost 1⅝ today at 61 after directors announced plans for a three-for-one stock split.

Boeing dropped 2⅛ at 51⅝ after directors voted $1 on common. Last year a total of $3 was paid.

A number of issues did better than the remainder of the market after publishing highly favorable earnings reports. In this class were Douglas Aircraft up ¼ at 104¾, Westinghouse Electric off ⅛ at 37¼, and Avco, the day's most active issue, which closed up ¼ at 8⅜.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DESTROY VITAL ENTRY

THERE ARE two main ways of preventing the defenders from scoring a ruff against your suit contract, though most players usually think of only one. That one is the removal of the outstanding trumps by leads of the suit. The other principal method, well known to all of the top-drawer performers, consists of removing the vital entry from the hand of the player who would have to make the lead which gives his partner a ruff. That must be done before the partner is blank in the suit to be ruffed, or else it is futile.

West led his club 7 to the A and the 4 was returned to the K. South used the diamond A as an entry to lead the heart 3 toward his honors, the K winning over the 10. Next the diamond K put him in dummy for a second trump lead, the heart 8, whereupon East came in with the A and hopefully led the spade 2, trusting West had the K, which he did. He also had the 10, with which he won the trick.

Noticing that East had played the 9 first and then the 3 on the diamond tricks, West read his partner as now blank in the suit. So he led the diamond 10, which East ruffed with the heart J for his side's fourth trick, beating the contract.

South had the same chance as West to observe the size of the cards played by East. He should have spotted the 9 on the first diamond lead. That was certain to be either a singleton or the top of a doubleton, since with any three cards he would have played the bottom. With only one higher card out, the 10, it was impossible for that to be lowest of three. South therefore should have seen his danger clearly, a ruff of diamonds. The only possible entry for West, so he could lead to East for the ruff, was in spades. If that entry could be removed before East was blank in diamonds, then no ruff could ever be scored by the defense.

Therefore, after seeing the diamond 9, South should have led his spade 7 immediately. If East later tried to give West the lead, South could have prevented it by ruffing.

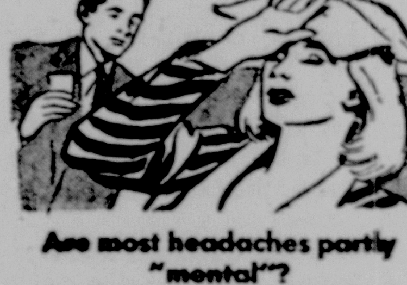
MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Should you trust a person who won't say "I don't know"?

Answer: I have known professional men who felt that to keep their clients' confidence they must act as if they were omniscient, and they may have been right in the case of childish-minded people. But the fact is, it is as important to admit the limitations of your knowledge as to have confidence in what you know, and as far as I am concerned, an expert of any sort who is not afraid to say "I don't know" seems to me more to be trusted than one who professes to "know all the answers".



Are most headaches partly "mental"?

Answer: Yes, said a group of nationally known psychiatrists at a conference reported in the Journal of Clinical Psychopathology. The majority of headaches treated by physicians have a "psychic" (mental or emotional) component and many are wholly psychic in origin. This is true especially of sufferers who are meek and anxious to please, or who cannot bring themselves to assume adult responsibilty. Headaches with such people are due to physical tensions created by their repressed and unconscious rage at their inability to assert themselves.

May parents resent disfigured children?

Answer: Yes. Nothing could be more unkind or unfair, but many parents do react in this way. I have known men and women whose characters were seriously warped by their parents' feelings about the fact that they were cross-eyed, limped, or suffered from minor deformities like a cleft palate. These unfortunates had been "rejected" by parents who unconsciously felt that having imperfect children revealed defects in themselves. No expense is too big a price to pay for having such disfigurements corrected.

Delegation Will Attend Hearing On Home Rule

Police, Fire Bills To Be Discussed

Mayor Thomas S. Post and members of the City Council will head a large local delegation slated to attend a hearing today in Annapolis on home rule for Cumberland.

The important hearing is scheduled at 3 p. m. before the Judiciary committee of the House.

Charles M. See, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, has appealed on several occasions for a good representation on the hearing of the bill which he declared the "most important single peace of legislation of the Assembly" for Cumberlanders.

The Delegation has made no recommendation on the home rule bill but there are indications they are divided in their opinions.

Many of those slated to attend the home rule hearing are expected to stay for a hearing before the Allegany County Delegation at 7:30 p. m. on bills providing wage boosts and increased vacation and sick leave benefits for police and firemen.

The police and fire bills were introduced, by request, by Delegates Driscoll, Kelley, See and Reed, after they were referred to the delegation by Senator Robert B. Kimble.

The House yesterday passed House Bill 271, introduced by the Garrett Delegation, changing the tax levy and due dates in Garrett county.

Firemen List Convention Activities

Plan Variety Show, Picnic And Parade

The 59th annual convention of the Maryland State Firemen's Association to be held here June 20, 21 and 22 will include a variety show, a picnic and a gigantic parade as well as displays and demonstrations of latest fire fighting equipment according to Cromwell C. Zembower, secretary of the convention committee.

Zembower announced results of the committee's work to date and stated the men will meet in the State Armory, while the ladies auxiliaries will convene in the City Shrine Club, both on South Centre Street.

About 180 to 200 of the state's 250 volunteer fire companies are expected to send delegates. Ladies auxiliaries from at least 100 companies will also be present.

The housing committee is making arrangements for accomodations in hotels and private homes within the immediate vicinity of Cumberland for the anticipated crowd.

At the business meeting, state officers will be elected and other affairs of the association will be conducted.

Exact dates for all activities have not yet been set, but the picnic will be held at the Cumberland Fair Grounds on the afternoon of June 21. The convention will be climaxed by the parade on the final day, June 22, with more than $1000 in prize money going to winning fire companies.

The next meeting of the convention committee will be held at LaVale Fire Hall March 11 at 2 p. m., according to Zembower.

LaVale Firemen Celebrate 18th Anniversary

Members of LaVale Volunteer Fire Department heard attorney John M. R[illegible] discuss the growth of LaVale section and stress the importance of building for the generations to follow rather than for this generation, in his address to the 18th annual banquet for the department last night in the fire hall. Edward J. Ryan was toastmaster.

Robb reminsced about his early days in LaVale and told of a fire that wiped out the Allegany Grove section many years ago. He noted that if fire fighting had been organized at that time the then resort area would probably have been saved.

Following the banquet, served by the ladies auxiliary, Rev. Fr. Bogan of Lonaconing conducted a brief memorial service for deceased members of the department.

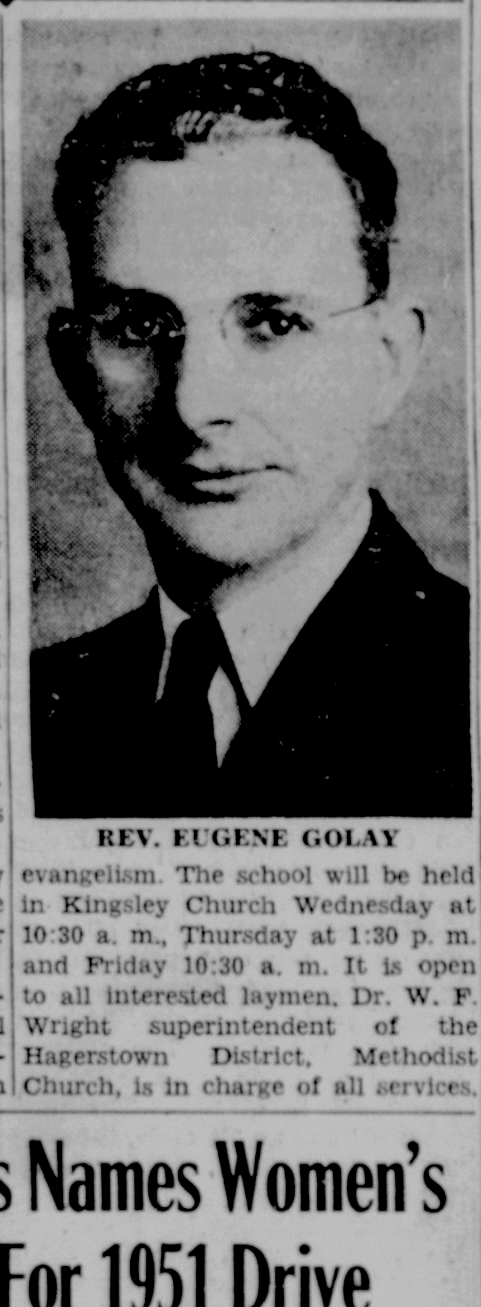
President Cromwell C. Zembower welcomed the guests and introduced the toastmaster.

Fire Chief Warren Livingood presented his annual report in which he said 22 calls were made during the year. Ten were out of town fires and three were false alarms. Approximate damage during 1950 was $2500 which is low for a community the size of LaVale. Average attendance at fire calls was 15 firemen.

Pastor Hospitalized

Rev. Norman O. Scribner, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, is a patient in Memorial Hospital where he underwent an appendectomy yesterday afternoon. Hospital attaches reported last night he was in satisfactory condition and resting well.

Area Methodist Churches Hold Evangelistic Services



REV. EUGENE GOLAY

The Methodist churches of Cumberland and vincinity are uniting each evening at 7:30 p. m. in ten days of evangelistic services at Centre Street Church. Rev. Eugene Golay, associate to the executive secretary of the Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church is the speaker. The services conclude on Sunday March 4.

Assisting Rev. Golay tonight will be Rev. W. F. Wright, district superintendent and Rev. Gordon Hall. Union Grove Church choir will sing a special number.

Rev. W. F. Wright, Rev. J. B. Jones, Frostburg, will assist Rev. Golay Thursday. The choir of First Methodist Church, Frostburg will sing.

Rev. Allen B. L. Fisher, Rev. C. L. Beard and Rev. Kenneth Grove will assist Rev. Golay Friday evening. Grace, Trinity and Emmanuel Church choirs will sing as a unit.

Services will be continued Saturday evening with other ministers assisting.

The services will close Sunday evening March 4th. Music will be furnished by combined volunteer choirs.

One of the features of Rev. Golay's visit to Cumberland is a school for training lay workers and ministers in the technique of visitation evangelism. The school will be held in Kingsley Church Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., Thursday at 1:30 p. m. and Friday 10:30 a. m. It is open to all interested laymen. Dr. W. F. Wright superintendent of the Hagerstown District, Methodist Church, is in charge of all services.

County Red Cross Names Women's Division Leaders For 1951 Drive

Leaders have been selected for the Women's Division of the 1951 Red Cross drive which will open March 5, according to William C. Walsh, general campaign chairman.

Those selected will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the second floor campaign office in the post office building to hold a question and answer session for the purpose of orienting all chairmen in order that they will be better able to organize their territories and instruct door to door canvassers. WEATHER

Despite predictions for moderate weather, mercury dropped sharply last night after dark. Highest temperature recorded yesterday was 60. Low was 45. It was 48 last night at 9 o'clock. The wind that made many local residents uncomfortable reached a speed of 40 miles per hour at one time last night, causing some damage to electric wires on Reservoir Avenue near Fort Hill. Today's forecast calls for cloudy and mild.

Long Praises Retiring Fire Chief Lindner

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long last night sent a letter to Acting Fire Chief William L. Lindner expressing regret at the latter's resignation but commending the fireman for his long service to the city.

Chief Lindner resigned Saturday after more than 30 years in the department here.

Commissioner Long's letter read, in part:

"It is with the greatest regret that I received your letter of resignation as acting fire chief, although, of course, we are all very pleased that you are following the advice of your physician.

"I realize that it was your ambition to remain in the department until you had attained the age of 60; however, your 30 years of fearless, faithful service should make you feel proud indeed and should dispel any disappointment you may feel in not being able to achieve your goal. And now, in behalf of the citizens of Cumberland, I want to extend my own personal appreciation for your long years as a courageous and efficient fire fighter.

"That you may soon be in the best of health and able to enjoy a well-earned vacation is the earnest wish of your many friends . . ."

10 Of 23 Marine Reservists Sent Back To County

Age Requirement Change Aids Boys

Ten of the 23 Allegany county high school senior boys who accelerated their final year in high school so they could go on active duty with the Marines are back home looking for jobs, it was learned last night.

These young men, all of whom were in the Marine Reserves, were told last summer they would have to speed up their last year in school if they wanted to be allowed to complete their high school education.

This they did, through the cooperation of school officials, and finished their studies at the end of January.

During the first few days of February these boys departed for service. Shortly, they began returning and now 10 of the 23 are back in the county.

It is understood that since the time the boys began to accelerate their high school education, the Marine Corps has changed its regulations. Now, no reservists are required to go into active service until they reach their 19th birthday.

The young men, most of whom are under 19 years of age, could waive their rights and go into active service. Some of them did. But seven of the boys came back from Parris Island, S. C., where they had been sent from Washington, D. C. Three others were returned home from Washington because of physical difficulties.

Eleven of the 23 young men were from Allegany High School. Of these only four are now on active duty. Two were sent back because of eye or teeth deficiencies and five others because they are only 18 years old and did not waive their rights.

Nine Fort Hill High School seniors were in the group. Only one of them has returned to Cumberland. Two boys from Central High School, Lonaconing, also headed for the Marines early this month, but one of them has been sent back for three months to have his teeth fixed. The one Beall High School, Frostburg, senior who was slated for active Marine duty also is back at his home.

Committee Heads Named In "Miss Cumberland" Pageant

Committee chairmen and assistants of the "Miss Cumberland" pageant were appointed at a meeting last night at 8 p. m. of the Junior Association of Commerce in its office in the Liberty Trust Building.

Donald R. Coomber, director of the pageant, said that the committee thoroughly discussed the plans for operation of the fifth annual pageant.

Committee chairmen and assistants are Entries, George C. Thomason, William Kelley, Richard Sell, Barbara Fulton, Jean Dixon, and Nadine Atkinson Gurley.

Publicity, Warren Mullenax; Awards, Joseph Betz, John Mac Veigh, Bert Graham; Judges, Paul Buchanan, Thomas Conlon; Programs, Kenneth Long, Arthur Morgan, Francis Torrington, Eldred Steinman, Ralph Higgins.

Tickets, Henry Sauer, Walter Neff, Herman Grabenstein; Staging, Robert Davis, Richard Sell, George Carney, Jr., John Price.

Miles Amick has been appointed associate director and Raymond Dorn will be in a supervisory capacity.

AFL Seeks Curb On Extra Work By City Workers

Delegation Will Attend Hearing

The Allegany Trades Council will try to secure legislation prohibiting Cumberland firemen and police from engaging in other work during off hours.

This was revealed last night at a meeting of the AFL Central Body, when plans were made for a delegation to attend a hearing slated today at 7:30 p. m. in Annapolis on bills which would provide wage increases and vacation and improved sick leave benefits for members of the police and fire departments.

The labor delegation will be headed by C. E. Bramble, president of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), of Cumberland.

Officials said the Trades Council will seek to have the legislation amended by a clause which would prohibit members of the department from engaging in gainful employment other than on their city paid job.

Appeal Unsuccessful

Some time ago, officials said, an unsuccessful appeal was made to the Cumberland Civil Service Board to halt the practice.

AFL officials said a number of city employes, especially from the fire department, have for years spent a great deal of their off time doing painting, paperhanging, electrical work and other such work and, in effect, taking such work away from union craftsmen.

They said much of this work is done on the alternate weeks when firemen are allowed to sleep while on 14-hour night duty.

Officials said a number of cities have legislation prohibiting city employes from accepting other gainful employment.

Pay Bill Hearing Tonight

The hearing on the legislation, HB 357, 358 and 359, will be held at 7:30 p. m. before the Allegany County Delegation.

In general, the bills raise the base pay for city firemen and policemen from $190 a month to $65 a week, paid bi-weekly instead of monthly; increase paid vacations from 15 to 21 days, and accumulative sick leave from 60 to 90 days.

Cost of the plan per man is estimated to run from $765 to near $1,000 a year, depending on rank.

Legion Post To Observe Anniversary

Plans for the observance of the anniversary of the founding of the American Legion were completed at a bi-monthly meeting of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion last night in the legion home.

Albert M. Kerns, Sr., post commander said that an initiation of new members, a floor show and a dance will highlight the March 17 affair. Sixty-seven will be initiated in a public ceremony at the legion home at 7:30 p. m.

The present membership is 853. The Post expects to surpass last years membership drive.

The dance will get underway at 9 p. m. and a floor show is included on the evening's program.

Norris Jones, chairman of a special activities committee said that beginning March 17, movies will be shown at the post home on Saturday mornings from 10 a. m. to noon for children from six to 12 years of age.

After Easter the Legion Post will sponsor weekly dances on Saturday nights beginning at 9 p. m.

Forester Post Goes To Thayer

R. Thomas Thayer has been appointed Assistant District Forester, with headquarters in Westminster, District Forester William A. Parr announced.

Thayer, a native of Garrett County, graduated in forestry from West Virginia University in 1950 and has been employed by the Department of State Forests and Parks. He is a veteran of three years' service with the Air Force.

His principal work will be with forest land owners of Carroll and Frederick counties in forest management work. Woodland owners who are interested in aid with their woodland problems may secure it by writing the Department of State Forests and Parks at Bel Air.

Thayer replaces Joseph W. Frescoln of Walkersville, who resigned on January 1 to return to school for an advanced degree.

News Briefs

Central Fire Company and West Side answered a call yesterday afternoon at 2:03 p. m. and extinguished a grass fire in the rear of 217 North Lee, close to the Buchanan Lumber Company. Firemen said the blaze was large, but no extensive damage was caused.

In accordance with a new law regarding display of motor vehicles registration, new Maryland plates for passenger cars and motorcycles may be displayed after tomorrow, the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles has announced.

The City Playgrounds Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. at City Hall.

Unseasonable Winds Blamed For Area Fires

State Burning Law Effective March 1

"This was one time the weather beat the law."

That was the way District Forester William H. Johnson responded yesterday in observing that unseasonable March-like winds had caused forest or brush fires in all four of the Western Maryland counties in this district.

"The law curtailing promiscuous burning of debris and brush doesn't become applicable until Thursday, March 1," Johnson said. He warned residents of the area that for the safety of the forests and homes near woodlands that they should delay burning brush and debris until burning conditions are less favorable.

Sun and Wind Are Factors

"Usually, we don't get spring forest and brush fires until the middle or end of March," Johnson said. "Warm sun the past several days dried the surface and then the 40-mile winds came along to whip over a wide area."

Johnson said that he had heard of only one brush fire in Allegany county. That was near Midlothian, where about one-quarter acre of scrub land was burned. In Garrett county there were two glade fires, but no less was reported, the forester added.

Two more serious fires occurred in Washington county, east of here. Brush burning was blamed for a blaze in the southern part of Washington county which burned over 12 acres along the top of a ridge near the cross roads village of Mount Briar, four miles east of Sharpsburg. Four acres of timberland were burned over by another fire along the Maryland - Pennsylvania line above Clear Spring, in the western part of Washington county. A third small blaze also was reported in that county.

One Of Worst Days

Two separate fires near Jefferson, in Frederick county, burned over a little more than three acres.

Johnson said that the state law involving debris and brush burning stipulates that during March, April and May burning is permissible only after 4 p. m. and before midnight. Precautions are required when burning is done during the permissible hours.

The law provides a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than six months, Johnson observed.

More serious woodland fires occured in other parts of Maryland. As a consequence, State Forester H. C. Buckingham termed yesterday "one of our worst days."

Camera Club Sponsors Talk

David Darvas, A.P.S.A. of Cleveland, will give a lecture to professional and amateur photographers this evening at 8 p. m. in the Knights of Malta Hall on Prospect Square.

Darvas is a writer, lecturer and teacher on photography and specializes in tone control and control processes. His ability to explain why and where we need tone control has made him one of the most popular lecturers of the Society. His own pictures have been exhibited all over the world and his artistic handling of tone is the envy of all who have seen his work.

Arrangements for the Darvas lecture and exhibition were made through the National Lecture Program of the Photographic Society of America by R. R. Sitzler, president of the Cumberland Camera Club which is sponsoring his appearance in Cumberland.

Board Of Education Insists Teachers Get $500 Pay Hike

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 (AP) — The State Board of Education today insisted that Maryland school teachers should have a $500 raise but held back on a proposed $35,000,000 state grant for school construction now before the General Assembly in Annapolis.

The Board of Education did approve, however, a proposal to increase the state's incentive fund for school buildings by 50 per cent.

All three proposals are part of a legislative program which Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent of schools, has laid before the General Assembly.

Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) in Annapolis today made the first move of any legislator to introduce a bill to give the teachers a raise.

He said he would go along with a teachers' pay increase "not for that amount ($500) but at least $200 and probably more.

"I am very sympathetic toward the teachers and am ready to introduce a sound and reasonable proposal if Dr. Pullen wants me. I know where the money can be found, too—from anticipated revenues which the Board of Estimates has underestimated to deceive the people."

Gov. McKeldin has said the state does not have the money to finance it unless new taxes are levied and he is opposed to any new taxes.

Richard W. Case, a member of the board, made the motions putting it on record for increased salaries for teachers and a boost in the incentive fund.

Unified Plan To Protect City Employes Sought

Right Of Appeal Will Be Included

Legislation combining two laws providing civil service and merit system protection for city employes should be ready for submission to the Allegany County Delegation next week, the Cumberland Civil Service Commission reported last night.

The chief change in the new law would be a clause giving defendants the right to appeal decisions of the Cumberland Civil Service Commission to the Circuit Court.

Also to be incorporated is a clause giving classified employes the right to appeal to the Civil Service Board.

The present law covering such employes gives the Civil Service Board the right to investigate disciplinary action, but does not allow the defendant the right to initiate the action.

H. Clifford Spiker, chairman, said passage of the legislation would include the repeal of Public Law 407, relating to Civil Service for police and firemen, and 177, which set up a merit system for classified employes.

Trades Council Elects Officers

C. E. Stutzman, vice president of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL), was elected president of the Allegany Trades Council last night.

Other officers of the AFL Central Body, who were installed by John M. Buzby, Washington, consultant for the AFL Laborers Union, were: Paul L. Burley, Bus Drivers Local 1110, first vice president; C. E. Robinette, Bakers Local 246, second vice president, and J. T. Defibaugh, Retail Clerks Local 654, secretary and treasurer.

Trustees are P. A. Creighton, Dairy Workers 924; George E. Clark, Iron Workers 568, and John Shaffer, Painters Local 947.

PMA Committeemen To Attend Parley

The three members of the Allegany County Production and Marketing Committee and their clerk will leave here early tomorrow morning to attend the two-day State PMA Conference in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, tomorrow and Friday.

Attending the conference will be Albert O'Neal, James H. Weimer and L. B. Shaw, committee members, and Miss Elizabeth Hoover, clerk. During their absence Miss Rosemary Weimer will be in charge of the PMA office at 37 Washington Street.

County School Heads Oppose Board Election

Want Governor To Make Appointments

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 27 (AP)—County School Heads oppose election of Boards of Education, the State Superintendent of Schools told a House Committee today.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., said he felt the same way.

County Superintendents took the position more than a year ago that Maryland should continue its present system of permitting the governor to appoint School Board members, Pullen added. He testified at an education committee meeting on a proposal by Montgomery County's delegation that its board be elected without party labels.

"Haven't you had pretty good boards?" Pullen asked Leslie M. Abbe, legislative chairman of the Montgomery County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

"We are not satisfied, sir," Abbe replied. He had advocated county elections before the committee last week.

Appointment of members was one of six characteristics preferred by Pullen and the County Superintendents. The state schools' boss said these were the others:

Characteristics Cited

1. Uniform size of five members.
2. Women should serve, but their appointment should not be required by law.
3. Both major political parties should be represented, but this also ought to be omitted from the law.
4. With no legal restrictions, a Governor should rely solely on "character and fitness" as member qualifications.
5. Terms should be standardized at five years, staggered among members.

Pullen urged the same setup for each County in the State. Maryland boards are now "as free of political control or outside domination as any in this country," he said.

"But wherever the power resides to change, and change frequently, that kind of thing is likely to crop in," Pullen contended.

Previous Trys Criticized

He criticized previous attempts to legislate women and minority party representatives into the Allegany County Board of Education. Another bill to accomplish just that had been introduced earlier in the day by minority leader Kimble (R-Allegany). Similar measures by Kimble have been defeated in the last few years.

Pullen had spoken out against local changes in school procedures before the legislature passed a bill to give Baltimore County Commissioners title to school properties.

Even if election of board members should be preferred, "I think it should be statewide," Pullen said today.

Committee Chairman Wilkinson (D-Prince George's) scheduled a vote for Thursday on the Montgomery proposal.

LaVale Church Is Remodeling

LaVale Baptist Church, organized last April and which called a fulltime pastor in November is remodeling and expanding the present building.

Baughman Contracting Company Inc. did the ground work and volunteer workers within the membership are helping with construction. The entire basement was recently finished providing tables and kitchen facilities to accommodate more than a hundred parishoners.

More parking space is being realized by leveling the grounds in the church area. When the auditorium is completed the seating capacity will be doubled. More space is also being realized for various Sunday School departments and classes.

Rev. C. F. Frith is pastor of the LaVale Baptist Church.

Meeting On Bus Contract Is Planned Today

Conciliators Strive For Early Agreement

Negotiations on a contract between Local 1110, Bus Drivers Union (AFL), and the Cumberland Transit Lines will resume today at 9 a. m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Commissioner James A. Holden, Washington, of the federal conciliation service, announced plans for the meeting late last night at the end of the second of two lengthy meetings held yesterday.

He said no agreement was reached at either of the joint conferences but contract negotiations will be continued today.

Contract talks between the drivers and the bus firm took on a new intensity yesterday after members of the union early yesterday morning voted to strike unless an agreement were met.

Lacking a contract, the 67 drivers will go out on strike Thursday morning, according to James Morrison, union president.

Holden is being assisted by Commissioner C. Stanley Clevenger, Winchester, Va., of the federal conciliation service, and Mrs. Robert B. Kimble, deputy commissioner of the Maryland Department of Labor and Industry.

Union negotiators were joined yesterday by Frederick Fitzgerald, Belmont, Mass., a vice president of the international union.

The union has rejected a company offer of a guaranteed annual wage of $3,700, terming the plan impractical.

42 Buildings Inspected By Fire Department

Hazards Are Listed On Central Records

The Cumberland Fire Department has completed inspections of 42 of the major buildings of this city, Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long announced yesterday.

They include 15 schools, five hotels, two theaters, one nursery, one hospital and 18 mercantile establishments.

The inspections include 17 by West Side Fire Company, 11 by East Side Fire Company, 10 by South End Fire Company and four by Central Fire Company.

Commissioner Long said the recently inaugurated inspection and record system was one of the recommendations of the Board of Fire Underwriters.

It replaces the former system under which all inspections were made by the department's fire inspector.

Members of each fire department, as men are available, visit the buildings they must protect and conduct a thorough inspection, paying particular attention to special fire hazards, the number of persons using the building, fire escapes, location of standpipes and other fire fighting equipment, doors and other exits.

A complete record of each inspection is made and kept by the department and at Central Fire Company so that a record is available for the study of all fire fighters and as a check to see that existing fire hazards are corrected.

An intimate knowledge of the hazards which may be encountered is vital if fires are to be extinguished quickly and with a minimum of danger to the men who must enter a burning building, officials pointed out.

Church Group To Show Film

"The Return To Jerusalem," the fourth in a series of religious motion pictures on the life of St. Paul, will be shown this evening at 7:30 p. m. in Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The film is shown in conjunction with the special mid-week Lenten services at the church. Rev. Raymond A. Faulds Jr., pastor, will speak on "For Me To Live, Is Christ."
